"Comrades: I cannot express to you my pleasure and gratification at meeting you here to-night. To be met by my old comrades in such an enthusiastic manner makes me believe that the struggles we had in defending the country have made a bond of friendship between us, which is not to be easily severed. I can only say to you that I hope that bond will long be continued.—If it is continued until the sky is clear, the country will owe you a debt of gratitude for a double service. The first is for the suppression of a rebellion in the field, and the second for using your influence, after you have assumed the garb of private citizens, in preventing rebellion from being made honorable."

ITALY.—The Paris Moniteur of Tuesday morning, in its official article announcing the cessation of war preparations against Italy, says: "France beheld the spectacle of an invasion of the Papal States by armed bands from the neighboring provinces of Italy. She could not consistently with her duty, her dignity and her national honor, suffer the September Convention to be thus violated, so she prepared to send an army across the Alps and a fleet to Rome. But Italy has since given ample pledges to fulfill on her part the obligations of the treaty in the largest issue, and consequently all hostile preparations have been suspended by France."

Reports are in circulation that Garibaldi, has not only eluded the viligance of the government in making his escape from Caprera, but has succeeded in reaching Italy, and is now with his son Menotti.

In Italy the Ministerial Crisis is not ended. Gen. Cialdini has been unable to form a new Cabinet, and has given up the task. It is possible that Ratazzi may remain in office with perhaps a few changes in his Ministry.

Popular agitation is very great from one end of Italy to the other. An extremely bitter feeling is shown against France, while the government of the King is loaded with reproaches by the people for yielding to the dictation of Napoleon. There have been several demonstrations of indignation in Florence. The populace gather in great crowds beneath the windows of the government offices and shout for Rome as the capital of Italy.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Ex-Gov. Jenkins of Georgia has applied to the President and General Grant to have an order issued to Gen. Pope, for the re-districting of that State in the election of delegates to the convention, called under the Reconstruction act. He alleges that the election order of Gen. Pope is such as to throw the control of the convention entirely into the hands of one political party. Gen. Grant stated that his power, under the law, gave him no right to interfere in matters of that kind, as it confined him entirely to supervisory power, in the removal of State officials. The President also declared that he had no right, under the law, to compel a change in the orders of Gen. Pope. They will, therefore, be allowed to remain as first issued, and under which the election is to be held.

The sub-Committee on the Judiciary continue to hear evidence relative to the forms of the Governments in Maryland and Delaware. The evidence related mostly to the condition of the former State. The investigation will be completed in time for a report to the House, at the opening of the coming session.

A CHILD BITTEN TO DEATH BY A DONKEY.—At Narragansett, R. I, last Tuesday, two children of Mr. Amos Champlin were playing in an orchard. One of them got upon a wall, when a donkey, which was kept in the orchard, seized the child and dragging him down commenced to trample and bite him. Meanwhile, the other child, seeing what occurred, made for the house and informed its mother that little Horace had been killed by the donkey. The mother hastened to the orchard and saw the terrible spectacle of the brute knawing the child's throat and face. The poor woman gave a scream, which so startled the donkey that he retreated a few paces, when the mother rescued the child from further harm. The throat and face were so shockingly mutilated that the child died the next day.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BLUFF HARBOR, PROVINCE OF SOUTHLAND, N. Z. July 20th, 1867.

Dear Chronicle:—As your readers have not been afflicted with anything from me for a long while, I think they'll be able to endure what is coming. Having at last got heartily tired of wandering about, I am now on my way home from Otago, via Botany Bay, Shanghae, London, Constantinople and Brazil. Not having reached any of the more distant points of my trip, I can only tell you about the place where I write from, Southland.

This Province was formerly a portion of Otago, but the people were not satisfied with the old fogy notions of the politicians in that Province, so they seceded, and a fine job they made of it. They went ahead fast enough, but they didn't go straight. They built a railroad sixteen miles long, from a wharf at which ships never lie, to a town where nobody lives, at a cost exceeding that of 100 miles in America; and didn't know how to pay the contractor, who seized and sold the whole concern. They sent to England for a tug steamer and paid £9000 for her, but she was no sooner in the harbor than she was hurried away to sea again, lest she too should be grabbed.

The provision dealers refused to furnish the hospital and jail with bread, beef and groceries, unless they got cash down; and failures and skedaddling became fashionable among the merchants. But the General Government of New Zealand advanced money to pay the railroad man, and they sold their £9000 steamer for less than £3000, and managed to raise money enough in that way to feed the prisoners and sick men. Then they turned off some hundreds of extra officials, who had never been needed, and taxed the merchants till the rest of 'em (who hadn't failed before) went through the insolvent court; and by these vigorous and well directed efforts, have succeeded in making Southland a very desirable place of residence.

The country is much like New Hampshire, more hills and rocks than anything else, and the climate is variable. As its name imports, it is the most southerly part of New Zealand, and the south wind blows heavily and brings lots of rain and hail. The governments and the natural features of the country have between them made most of the inhabitants clear out, and leave cities to let in all directions.

This place (Bluff Harbor) is a fair sample of the Southland cities. It contains a Post Office (but the postmaster is never in it), a Custom House, five Hotels, and about fifty dwellings—half of them empty. I think I've said enough about this part of Her Majesty's dominions, so I will leave this note until I get to Newcastle, New South Wales, that being my present destination.

NEWCASTLE, New South Wales, Australia, August 24th, 1867.

Your correspondent has been awfully scared since he wrote the foregoing. How it occurred was as follows: (I suppose your readers are not aware that ICE can write sailor.—They'll find out that he can, if they read this.)

The good ship (only she was a barque) "Collingwood," (formerly the "Santiago" of Boston), Mackinnon, master, being in want of a really good, trustworthy man, your correspondent joined her at nothing a month wages and to find himself in tobacco. The vessel sailed from Bluff Harbor on the 21st of July, bound for this port, and had light winds and calms, until it didn't look very likely that we should get anywhere. But on the afternoon of the 20th, the ship then being close to Cook's Strait (the passage between the north and middle islands of New Zealand), a gale sprung up, blowing fair for the ship's course, but bringings lots of rain, and promising a dirty night. The navigation of Cook's Strait is not of the safest, but our skipper wisely determined to run through, if he could only make the land before dark so as to know his position, (as no observation had been obtained for three days) as the entrance to the Strait is not a nice place to box about in in a gale of wind, and a ship in ballast trim. Luckily for us the land was raised from aloft, through a break in the fog, while we were shortening sail to heave the ship to, at half-past five o'clock, and as we happened to be in just the right position for running through, the ship was kept on her course, under a close-reefed fore and maintopsail. Had we hove to, the tempest which followed sunset would have made it a case of "all hands" on some of the rocky shores to leeward before midnight. The land we had seen was Cape Campbell, and from there to the next headland (Wellington Head) was 32 miles—so we got tea, and then all hands were stationed—two at the wheel and two at the relieving tackle bossed by the skipper, forming the after guard, while the mate with two men on the fo'castle, and your scribe and another on the fore-yard took care of the bow.

The wind was now a gale with frequent squalls; and a thick fog, heavy rain and the absence of the moon, made it quite as dark as we wished it to be. No one needed stimulating to an honest performance of his duty, as all were aware that danger wasn't far distant, so a good lookout ahead was kept, and well it was so, for at 8 1-2 o'clock, a fall hour before we expected to see it, Wellington Head loomed up dark and high through the gloom, right ahead, and not half a mile distant.—"Land ahead! breakers! hard-a-port!" were the shouts, and the ship answered her helm at once, (good job,) and our course was shaped for Mana Island, with the wind on the quarter. Whew! how it did blow! The ship careened fearfully, and man after man was called assist at the helm, until only two of us were left on the lookout. The main-topsail split, and added its pleasant accompaniment to the music of the wind, which was now a perfect tornado, and the old Collingwood travelled faster than I believe she ever went before, since she was born, (her present skipper, who has sailed in her for three years, never got more than nine knots out of her before) and occasionally pitched a few buckets of salt water fair into the slings of the foreyard, as if the rain wasn't enough to half-drown your unlucky correspondent, who was stationed there to see that no rocks got in the ship's way.

From Wellington Head to Mana Island is sixteen miles, but we soon ran it, and in a half hour from the time the Head disappeared in the darkness we were gladdened to see the light, which shewed through the fog and rain like a candle in a junk bottle. We were just beginning to congratulate ourselves on our good luck, (considering the danger nearly passed,) when the ship took a yaw, and made for the island like a race-horse, with the wind abeam. "Hard up!" was the order, but she wouldn't alter her course a bit, so the foresail was loosed in a hurry, and the lee clew hauled aft, when she kept away, and soon ran the island out of sight. After being foiled in her spiteful attempt to knock down the lighthouse, the ship behaved pretty well for a bit, and we managed to furl the bolt-rope of the main-topsail, there being no canvas left to furl, and then we secured the foresail as well as we could. Just as we were finished on the fore-yard, the ship came up a couple of points against the helm, a gust of surpassing vigor caught her on the quarter, rip, crack, clatter went the fore-topmast staysail, and the "Collingwood" fairly broached to, heeling over until her yards were more nearly perpendicular than her masts. The bare yard was deserted in a hurry, as the lower fore-topsail yard commenced to have some fun, having got adrift in the slings, and we didn't like the looks of it. The helm was lashed, as being no longer useful, and we turned our attention to making the ship lie easy—no easy job, as we couldn't show a rag (or rather nothing but rags,) of canvas.

At 2 o'clock on the 31st, we had done all we could. Our little skipper, who behaved most manfully throughout, was now fairly beaten, and could only look gloomily on as the ship and lives entrusted to his care drifted to almost certain destruction, but he drank his coffee, and advised us to do the same, which we did. That was a dismal coffee-drinking. We, old and exhausted, with haggard faces and eyes bloodshot from the driving spray and pelting rain, and fully conscious that every moment we were nearing a bold and rocky shore, a less hilarious ship's company I never saw. Coffee was drank and pipes smoked in silence, broken only by surmisings as to how many hours it would be before we should bump—excepting when one of the men gravely announced that he knew the reason of our being caught in such a fix. "It's that confounded tom-cat," said he, (alluding to a big cat that joined us at the last port,) "don't you remember when the little cat came we had a little gale,—but this big brute's here, and you see what a confounded mess we're in! Just let me get my claws on him—overboard he goes!"

After coffee I thought I'd shift my clothes, but my chest had disappeared. "Hallo! where's my donkey got to?" said I. "O, never mind it," said the cat's traducer, "you won't want it any more." But I found it, shifted my clothes, and then rolled into my blankets,—but not to sleep. I soon turned out again, and took a survey of things in general. Aloft the ship looked a perfect wreck. Canvas "whips" and broken ropes were streaming away to leeward, and making an awful clatter. The lower fore-topsail yard was gone altogether, and the upper one, broken in the middle and hanging by the lifts, was cutting up shines as it liked, as it was impossible to get at it to cut it away: and the foresails and topgallant sails lent an occasional flap to increase the din, as they blew out and away through their gaskets. Things were equally reassuring on deck. Swinging from one pin to another was the only means of locomotion. The cook's coppers took charge of the galley, capsized the cook, kicked down the galley door and rolled into the scuppers. The quarter-boat was torn from the gripes, capsized, lifted above and unhooked from the davits, and held in the mizen rigging for hours by the force of the wind alone. It was impossible to look to windward, and to leeward nothing could be seen but spoon-drift and white-capped waves; but we knew the land was there and that we were drifting down upon it at four knots an hour, the ship fairly scooping the water up with her lee rail, and we helpless to even try to do anything to save our lives or the ship. Nothing could save us but a change of wind, and thankful am I that it came with the flood.

As the wind died away and hauled to a more favorable quarter, we got sail (mighty little we had to set) on the ship, and as the land commenced to recede, New Zealand in general, and Cook's Strait in particular, were heavily anathemized by the sailors,—and I wasn't sorry to see the land astern, myself.—Some people might consider that running through Cook's Strait on a dark night, with a fair-sized hurricane blowing, and lots of rain, and a ship cutting the most ridiculous capers, was fine fun—but I don't. I'm not a greedy man; one such "lark" will last me for a long while. From the time when we got so badly scared until we arrived here on August 19th, we had lots of blows, but nothing like that one. No person on board the ship ever saw anything like it, and we had some old sailors among us, too. I don't care about seeing anything like it again.

This place (Newcastle) owes its importance to its coal mines, which are very valuable, as they are extensive and the coal is of good quality. The entrance to the harbor is narrow, crooked, and during some winds impassible. Seventy-nine lives were lost on it in one day, about a year ago, by the swamping of a steamship and several small craft, within a cable's length of shore. One man only was saved from six vessels. I don't like the place, so my next note will be from Shanghae, unless the China pirates manage to blow me up on my way, which I sincerely hope they won't be able to do.

Yours, ICE.

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various vineyards of the Pacific coast demand. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"

"Muscatel,"

"Still Champagne,"

"Hock" and

"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving in its destructive march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the dangers of a serious Consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal in its tendency and results of such unhappy consequences, no one will be surprised to learn, if he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system, by those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membiane, and the air in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment or which has been so little understood as Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the practice ordinarily adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess to cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had years of experience in the treating disease of the Eye, Ear and Throat, and Catarrh alone, he thinks himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My ears have been diseased 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised cures in one case, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine and that he was a skilful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and under his treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed but little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with disease of the head to go to Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Street.

WM. CARTLEDGE, JR.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 3, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks at the De Witt House, treating diseases of the EAR, EYE and THROAT, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of special endorsement to the Doctor's skill and ability. There are many good reasons why people should look with distrust upon professionals generally, who practice from place to place—but these do not apply to Dr. Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success everywhere he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has visited our city—a feeling in which large numbers who have received the benefit of his treatment unite. We trust the Doctor's engagements will permit him to visit Lewiston frequently.

From the Portland Press.

Dr. Carpenter, the Oculist and Aurist, who has been spending several months in practice in this city, has had marked success in the treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, as also of Catarrh in its worst form. He is well versed in the treatment of the diseases he has made his specialities, gentlemanly in the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ DR. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

QUARTER OF A MILLION SAVED A DAY.

One hundred thousand men now labor with good results, who, until they used

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS,

had not done a day's work for years. So these Plasters are the means of increasing the wealth of the nation not less than a quarter of a million a day.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER.

SHELTON HOUSE, Shelton, N. Y., Jan 19, 1860.
T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with a lame back over ten years, so as to be entirely helpless and unable to do any kind of hard work. In June last I procured one of Allcock's Porous Plasters and wore it 3 weeks when I found my back entirely well, and was able to mow and cradle as well as ever I could in my best days. STEPHEN PUGSLEY.

ALLENSTOWN, Penn., April 4, 1865.
Messrs. T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Dear sirs: My daughter has used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side and it cured her in one week. Yours truly,

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency and sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of wind a person calls an ill-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequent faintness, palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a tough mucous slime. Nothing but fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets this coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucous or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off the morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver, the moment it gets a chance to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes and lungs with its delicate fringes, becomes so inpaired that a person is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked up condition, without the aid of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile, instead of being purified, is retained, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases incurable consumption is from this condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do not salivate, and unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhages they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for as astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the ground work for consumption.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York. Will be at Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ The Universalist Church in this city have for several years held their Sunday School in the afternoon, in place of any other service—and the growth and value of the school prove the wisdom of the arrangement; for if it is desirable to sustain a school of the sort at all, it would seem worth while to give it due time and attention, and not crowd it in almost anywhere among other services.

The Unitarian Society have recently adopted a similar plan, and now hold their School in the afternoon, and their Vesper service in the evening.

☞ Many and hearty thanks to that old friend and subscriber at Christian Shore, for her annual floral tribute of remembrance, which comes to us just as we are dreaming of winter's frosts, by the hand of one whose cheeks are warm with the hue of the tropics—a glorious and gorgeous bunch of dahlias, with the rich fragrance of the sweet pea spread o'er it, and the fairy spray of the asparagus waving among. It is pleasant not only to be remembered, but to be retained in memory.

☞ The Portsmouth Cornet Band have recently removed their quarters to the fine new hall in Bell Tavern Block, over the store of Messrs. C. E. Shedd & Co. Their fixtures, music, &c., amount to about $1500 in value; and their efforts to sustain a good Band are worthy the encouragement of every citizen who hath any music in his soul—and as to those who have not, we are inclined sometimes to question whether they have any soul. We are glad to hear that the Band are to perform at the opening Lyceum entertainment.

☞ The Exeter correspondent of the Boston Herald of yesterday, says:

"The libel suit brought against the proprietor of the Portsmouth Chronicle will probably come off at the present term.—It will get its cases on for out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes and lungs with its delicate fringes, becomes so inpaired that a person is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

HYMN.

BY LUCY LARCOM.

[Sung at the Dinner in commemoration of the 200th Anniversary of the First Parish in Beverly, Oct. 2, 1867.]

The sea made music to the shore
Two hundred years ago;
To weary pilgrim ears it bore
A prelude deep and low.

They gathered in the autumn calm
To their new house of prayer;
And softly rose their Sabbath psalm—
A blessing on the air.

The ocean took the echo up;
In rang through every tree,
And praise, as from an incense-cup,
Filled earth and sky and sea.

They linger yet upon the breeze—
The hymns our fathers sung:
They rustle in the wayside trees,
And give each leaf a tongue.

The murmuring sea is hardened yet
With music's mighty pain;
No fitting chorus men have set
To that great organ-strain.

When human hearts are turned to Thine,
Whose voice is in the sea,
Life's moaning waves a song divine
Shall swell, O God, to Thee!

☞ The resolutions indorsing Dr. Tyng state that "while we cheerfully concede to others the rights we claim for ourselves, we cannot consent to the abridgement of the liberty of speech, nor do we believe that our devotion to canonical law was ever designed or intended to be paramount to or inconsistent with the higher obligations imposed by the Great Head of the Church upon all his disciples, to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature; and that the Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., be requested to employ such counsel and legal aids as he may deem expedient, and that all expenses attending the defence of this cause are hereby assumed by the vestry."

—Nature, as a mark of deformity, sometimes places a hump on a human back.—Fashion, in a blind attempt at ornament, puts a hump on a female head.

—Hiram Beers, in Beechet's "Norwood," says that "liquor is a good thing in its place, but as a general thing, I'm of opinion that the very worst place you can put good liquor into is a feller's stomach!"

— At the time of Gen. Griffin's funeral in Galveston, out of four hundred and sixty-four officers and men in the military force there, only twenty-eight were able to do escort duty.

— In Chicago, a few days since, three brothers, named Ulbrich were married to three sisters, named Schnur. In other words, all the children in one family were married to all the children in the other.

— An elm tree at Hampden, Ohio, that is eighteen inches in diameter, and weighed sixty thousand pounds. The concentric circles, which are said to indicate one each year, numbered seven hundred and ninety-two.

— English letter writers state that the coming winter in that country is likely to be a hard season for the working people in many ways. It is estimated that one hundred thousand laboring people in England are absolutely without work, and a million more pinched and suffering in consequence of indequate wages.

— It is stated it will cost £2,400,000 to complete the reconstruction of the fortifications in France, and that the amount will be voted in five annual instalments. A French writer adds that they will cost at least another £2,400,000 in the general mistrust and paralysis of trade to which these works give rise. By the time they are completed the causes which have given rise to them will probably exist no longer.

— Rev. J. G. Bartholomew, of New York, in a sermon preached to his congregation in that city on Sunday last, made numerous political allusions, in one of which he said it was a disgrace to the country that we had not the manhood to drive one ignorant, besotted man from his high position, and thus show the world that the people who are victorious over traitors in war are not to be ruled by political idiots in peace.

Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior

COOK STOVE!

Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.

Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1867.

☞ The following letter—the original of which the Springfield (Ill.) Journal has in its possession—from General Grant to Gen. Logan, shows that Grant was a Radical in 1863. Logan was at home on leave of absence, making Republican speeches, when he received the following letter:

I sent you ten days' extension of leave, and will give you as many more as you require. I have read your speeches in Illinois, and feel that you are really doing more good there than you can possibly do while the army of your command is lying idle. Stay while you feel such good results are being worked by your absence, and I will extend your leave to cover your absence. In the meantime, should any movement of your command be contemplated, I will notify you as early as possible of it.

WASHINGTON ITEMS, Oct. 23.—About twenty members of Congress are in town on special committee duty or engaged in looking after quarters for the session. The Capitol is nearly in readiness for the meeting on the 20th proximo, and the departments are all very busy in getting up the annual reports. Public interest therefore seems confined wholly to the coming session and the November elections.

It is agreed on all hands that no Cabinet changes are to occur, and that nothing will be done on impeachment till the middle of next month.

The Freedmen's Bureau law will expire next July by limitation. It is understood that Gen. Howard will not recommend its continuance beyond that time in case the reconstruction of the South should be accomplished. In that event he will recommend a comprehensive system of education for colored youth South, by the establishment of an extensive normal school at Washington city for the education of colored teachers, and the organization of normal schools for the same object in the Southern States.

GOLD, Thursday, 142 7-8. Peace in Europe for the present, and the Virginia election, may be the pretext for a fall in gold.

— The Pan-Anglican Council passed a resolution, requesting all English chaplains upon the continent of Europe to pray for the President of the United States as well as the Queen of England.

— Twenty thousand Irish were present Sunday afternoon in Brooklyn, to witness an impressive inauguration of a building to be devoted to the temperance cause. Several temperance societies, with music, banners and regalia, were present.

—Mr. H. Kilburne, for several years the station agent at Hosford's Station, on the Rutland & Washington Railroad, between Castleton and Poultney, Vt., was instantly killed, on Tuesday morning, while switching cars. Twenty cars passed over him.

— On Monday night, a man who was carrying home from Providence to Attleboro' a barrel of beer in a cart, in which was also a child six years of age, managed to overturn the cart, and the barrel fell on the child and crushed it to death.

—A dispatch from San Antonio, Texas, to the Picayune, announces the death of George Wilkins Kendall at his residence, on the 21st, of congestive chills. He was sixty years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

— The Vicksburg merchants are reported to be getting seriously alarmed lest the Canal made during the war, to assist in the capture of the place, should really become the chanel of the Mississippi, thus making Vicksburg an island city.

— The Toledo Blade asserts, on what it considers good authority, that Hon. Ben. F. Wade has no idea of retiring from public life. His friends, next Fall, will present him as a candidate for the House of Representatives from the Nineteenth (Garfield's) Congressional District.

— Owing to the offensive harangue of the President at the Antietam cemetery dedication, and the partizan character of the other proceedings, the people have become disgusted with the whole affair and have stopped contributions, so that the work will have to be suspended for want of funds.

— The tailors' strike in London, which lasted seven months, has ended by the men going to work on such terms as the masters chose to give them. What else could they do? They had been seven months idle, eating up their savings and the wages of their fellow workmen. A long cold Winter is coming on. They were not wanted in America, and they have gone to work.

— The Washington Chronicle says that there is a rumor afloat, not without many reasons for its probability, the effect of which is that the President has finally got disgusted with the Copperhead leaders, and that they are in no good humor with himself. Hence the last report that the re-organized Cabinet is to embrace only one Democrat to two Republicans and one old line Whig.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. I. P. Weston of Amherst trapped a cat owl recently that measured four feet and four inches from tip of wings. He had killed four of his hens and a cat.

—— There is prospect of a series of races being inaugurated at the fine track recently completed by Darius Towle of the McClellan House, Kingston Plains, at his own individual expense.

—— John J. Leavitt, Esq., of Hampton, has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal for the District of New Hampshire, and he is every way qualified for the position.

THE LOSS OF SCHOONER WINONA.—The telegraph has announced the loss of the schooner Winona, of Boothbay, Me., and all hands, on the 13th of October.—Additional particulars received by mail, say that she was racing with a vessel from Gloucester, in broad day, with a gale of wind, both bound into Port Hood. Her antagonist was close-reefed, while the Winona only had a double reef. A squall struck her, she careened over and immediately sank, stem first. The other vessel at once kept off and ran down to the spot where she disappeared, but found only a few kids and empty barrels to mark the spot, and not a living being to be seen. The Winona was commanded by Capt. Merrill Adams, and among the crew, which numbered fourteen, were Simeon Wheeler and two sons, E. Tibbets, Martin Priest, Osborne Pinkham and Charles Boyd.

A MURDER ON PAPER.—The sensation reporters sent over the country, on Saturday, a telegram, to the effect that the body of Frederick Powers, of Fitchburg, had been found buried in a sand-bank in that town; and that it had several stabs in the side, and a wooden gag in his mouth. Gen. Kimball, of Fitchburg, one of the State constables, investigated the matter; and there was no foundation for the story, other than that a few small bones were found in the sand, and that a man in the neighborhood remembers that several years ago, he buried a dog at that spot.

ARREST OF A CONDUCTOR.—The Lewiston Journal says that Conductor Stowe, of the G. T. R., was arrested at Mechanic Falls and taken from his train, on an action brought against him, for ejecting a lady and gentleman from the cars at New Gloucester. They had a return ticket, and were coming back upon it the fourth day from the date of its purchase. Considerable interest is manifested in the result of this case, as it will determine how long a "return ticket" is good.

SALE OF MILL PROPERTY.—We learn that the Globe Steam Mills at Newburyport were sold at auction for $120,000.—The purchasers were Denny, Jones & Poor of New York, and the mills will be refitted with new machinery and put in operation for the manufacture of cotton goods, early next spring. We are informed that the Steam Mill property cost the late owners $450,000.

THE SICKNESS AT YALE.—The New Haven Palladium says that it is a foolish rumor that the Faculty of Yale College contemplate disbanding the students temporarily, owing to the prevalence of typhoid fever, and that there is no foundation for the story.

CUBA SUGAR CROP.—A letter from Havana notices the commencement of the grinding season, and adds that all accounts agree in representing the cane fields all over the Islands as very luxuriant, promising an unusually large yield.

☞ New subscribers to the Cultivator and Country Gentleman for 1868, will receive that excellent paper weekly without charge the balance of this year. The Maine Farmer speaks of the Country Gentleman as "standing at the head of the Agricultural press of the country." The Scottish Farmer calls the Country Gentleman "the best of all the American newspapers devoted to matters of rural economy." Terms lower than those of any other paper of similar standing: One copy, $2.50 per year; four copies, $9; eight copies, $16.—Address Luther Tucker & Son, Publishers, Albany, N. Y.

☞ Somebody has nominated Mr. Geo. H. Pendleton for President of the United States, and it is understood that the distinguished candidate is building his platform, whereof the chief planks are 1. A nigger is not as good as a white man. 2. Not being as good as a white man, a nigger is good for nothing at all. 3. If you let a nigger vote he will marry your daughter. 4. A dollar is not a dollar, but a piece of green paper. 5. A promise to pay is binding only as long as it may be convenient to keep it. 6. Free liquor. We have not heard who has been chosen to write the customary campaign "Life" of the candidate, but we suggest Pollard.—Tribune.

— The New Town Hall at Gloucester, a splendid structure, was dedicated Monday evening with impressive ceremonies.

—The N. Y. Herald thinks Gen. Sherdan has "added nothing to his glory" in his recent tour through the North—a strong indication that he is not stumping for the Herald's ticket.

VIRGINIA ELECTIONS.—Information received in Washington Wednesday night from Richmond states that the returns from the counties indicate the election of a majority of Radicals to the Convention.—Many colored men will be returned. The Convention will be voted for by a decided majority. Botts is beaten in Culpepper.—Stearns (Rep.) is beaten by a Radical.

The conservatives are said to be indignant at Gen. Schofield because he opens the polls in Richmond on the third day, when the white vote is mostly exhausted, while there are many blacks to come in.

☞ The Tribune reminds all persons entitled to relief under the Bankrupt act, that the 50 per cent. clause will come into operation on the 2d of March next, and only about 110 working days remain before that time in which they can claim exemption. In all proceedings commenced after the 2d of March, the 33d section of the law provides that "no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets do not pay fifty per centum of the claims against his estate, unless the assent in writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors who have proved their claims, is filed in the case at or before the time of application for the discharge."

☞ Capt. Robert T. Lincoln, son of the late President, was called to the bar over a year ago, in place of a few days since, as reported. He is now master of a handsome practice. He was, about two weeks since, admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States, a position rarely reached by one so young, he being scarcely twenty-five. Capt. Lincoln is one of the most promising young men in the West, resembling his honored father. The conduct of his mother is as deep a mystery to him as to all of her friends, and the only theory he can suggest in her defence is that she is insane.

☞ The London News has not yet heard that the United States not only paid its Mexican war debt in full, but anticipated by liquidation the maturity of a portion of it. The News says: "No debt of any considerable amount has ever yet been fully paid off by any nation; so that whether any debt will be ever fully and fairly paid off without trick or evasion, we are unable to say."

☞ Capt. James H. Huckins, for a time commander of the Confederate cruiser Shenandosah, died in New Orleans, Oct. 17.—He was born in Lubec, Me., and was a resident of New Orleans for the last 40 years, and lived to the ripe old age of 66.

☞ In Tennessee, Wednesday, Gov. Brownlow was elected United States Senator for the term commencing March 4th, 1869, by 24 majority on the first ballot over W. B. Stokes.

☞ At Mobile, Wednesday morning, Col. Charles Healey, brother of Gen. Healey, United States Marshal for Alabama, died of yellow fever.

☞ City election, Baltimore,—majority for democratic party 13,553.

— A man in Webster, Me., got drunk a few days since, and whipped his horse to death.

— The loss of property by the Hoosac tunnel disaster of Saturday is reported at $60,000.

—Lucien Boudro, the prince of caterers, whom Thackeray and George Peabody pronounced unsurpassed by any transatlantic cook, died at his restaurant near New Orleans, on the 17th inst., aged 57.

He is the happiest who does the most to make others happy. The Inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hazard nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear of our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our merchants have it. Their depot is 142 Liberty street, New York. 29

MARKS OF CIVILIZATION.—Sunday schools newspapers and a liberal use of soap, especially Pyle's O K Soap, which is the greatest improvement in soap of modern times. Where are you going?
I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell.
Has he got Providence River Oysters?
Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time.
Does he cook them?
Yes, any way you desire; Fried in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. 24

☞ In New York City, Wednesday, a distillery in 54th street, owned by Finlay & Co., was seized for alleged fraudulent returns. Finlay is Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Distillers' Association, and the Secretary of the Treasury reposed great confidence in him, giving him letters of recommendation to travel over the State and organize distillery associations everywhere, that Government might be protected! [Great protection would come from that quarter—over the left.]

CHRONIC CATARRH.
There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving in its destructive march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the dangers of a seated consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences, no one will be surprised to learn, if he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system, by those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air in passing over those putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment or which has been so little understood as Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the generality adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess to cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had years of experience in treating Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, and Catarrh alone, he thinks himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.
DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.
Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My ears have been deaf 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised to cure me, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but on reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine, and that he was a skillful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and under his treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed but little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with diseases of the head to consult Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Street.
WM. CARTLEDGE, JR.
Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 3, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks, at the Lewiston House, treating diseases of the Ear, Eye and Throat, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of commendation to the Doctor's skill and ability. There are many good reasons why people should look with distrust upon professionals generally, who practice from place to place—But these do not apply to Dr. Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success every where he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has visited our city—a feeling in which large numbers who have received the benefit of his treatment unite. We trust the Doctor's engagements will permit him to visit Lewiston frequently.

From the Portland Press.

Dr. Carpenter, the Oculist and Aurist, who has been spending several months in practice in this city, has had marked success in the treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, as also of Catarrh in its worst form. He is well versed in the treatment of the diseases he has made his specialities, gentlemanly in the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ DR. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

QUARTER OF A MILLION SAVED A DAY.

One hundred thousand men now labor with good results, who, until they used

ALLCOCK'S PORO-US PLASTERS,

had not done a day's work for years. So these Plasters are the means of curing the wealth of the nation not less than a quarter of a million a day.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER.

SHRUB OAK, Yorktown, N. Y., Jan 10, 1860.
T. ALLCOCK & Co.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with a lame back over ten years, so as to be entirely unable to do any kind of hard work. In June last I procured one of Allcock's Porous Plasters and wore it 3 weeks when I found my back entirely cured, and was able to mow and cradle as well as ever I could in my best days. STEPHEN FUGSLEY.

ALLENSTOWN, Penn., April 4, 1865
MESSRS. T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Dear sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side and it cured her in one week. Yours truly, JOHN V. N. HUNTER.

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, Heneba's belching of wind, water brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an ill-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which leads the patient to take for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The cough from portions of this stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off the morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it can't throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked up condition. Without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all the various kinds of bile to strain, and it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes sick. The blood so thick it will not hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from this thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate mixed through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would take the good purgative, especially one that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only safe way, for as surely as you stop the hemorrhage, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M., when he gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ Exeter folks, some of them, seem to think Portsmouth people can't do a fair thing, if they would. Even the immaculate horse men are impugned. Hear the Exeter correspondent of the Boston Herald, Wednesday:

There has been considerable talk in sporting circles in this section, as to the fairness of the race between Nellie Locke and Gypsey Boy, at Portsmouth, on the 18th. It is thought by many that it was a "put up" affair; Nellie securing the honor, leaving the money to the Boy. If such was the case, there was enough "jawing" after each of the first two heats, to make it look well!

☞ An old family horse that ought to have known better, while being driven to town by a Mrs. Locke of Rye, on Thursday morning—wheeled so suddenly about at sight of a load of dirt which was dumped in the road for repairing it, just before entering South street, as to unship the transom bolt and throw out the four occupants of the wagon, but fortunately injured none of them.

POLICE COURT, Oct. 24.—Charles Sullivan, for an aggravated assault upon Mark Scott, was sentenced to fifteen days imprisonment, and ordered to pay $7.62 costs.—Both parties were minors.

Lizzie Adams, for the larceny of a pocket-book and contents from James Sullivan, was ordered to give bonds in $500 for her appearance at the S. J. Court, in default of which she was committed.

THE PORTSMOUTH "TREASON."—The order reprimanding Engineer Sawyer of the Navy for having incidentally remarked while conversing at the Navy Yard, that President Johnson ought to be impeached, has been promulgated by Secretary Welles. The following is that portion of the document touching upon Mr. Sawyer's "crime":

"The finding and sentence of the court are approved, and 2d Asst. Engineer Geo. G. Sawyer will accordingly be suspended for the period of one year from this date on half of waiting orders' pay. In carrying into execution that part of the sentence which requires that 2d Asst. Engineer Sawyer be publicly reprimanded, the Department hereby admonishes that officer that the punishment awarded by the court in his case must be regarded as lenient.—An officer who is so grossly ignorant as not to know that the President is the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, or who is so insubordinate in spirit that he will not hesitate to denounce and treat with disrespect the Chief Magistrate or any superior officer, however exalted in rank, is not only wanting in the qualities of a gentleman, but is wholly unfit for the military service. Whatever latitude of denunciation or abuse civilians may choose to indulge in with regard to the authorities of the Government, officers of the Navy can claim no such privilege, even under plea that they have a right to express their opinions on political subjects. Such license is utterly incompatible with the existence of military discipline, and at the same time is unnecessary to the most perfect freedom of opinion either in politics or religion. A naval officer should be a gentleman in language and deportment. Good sense and good breeding will always enable any individual to express his opinions without giving just cause of offense, and an officer who cannot do so is as much deficient in those qualities as he is in a sense of military duty when he treats his superior with disrespect."

☞ We are glad to learn that Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe are to give one of their popular entertainments in this city on Friday evening of next week, Nov. 1st, for the benefit of the family of the late Mr. Charles D. Perry, who was for a year or two a loved and highly prized member of their Company. It was their desire to do this last season, but they were too far away, and this is their first opportunity to appear here since.

☞ We learn that the fine span of gray horses of Col. Jones, of the Marine Corps, with the carriages, harnesses, &c., have been purchased by Surgeon Ten Broeck of the Army, at Portland, for about $1100.—A nice team, and a good bargain for the purchaser.

☞ We learn that Mr. B. Cheever, manager of the Harmony Grove Cemetery, on Sagamore Road, has appropriated a fitting lot, not far from the monuments of Levi Woodbury and Ichabod Bartlett, for the erection of a Soldiers' Monument to the memory of the fallen braves from Portsmouth—whenever the time shall come to do this tardy act of justice and patriotism.

☞ All who desire Mr. Barnabee's Concert series to succeed, should put down their names forthwith and aid to secure that result—and not regret their inattention when it may be too late. Mr. B. has no superior in his line, and can command the best talent for assistants.

☞ P. A. Clarke, the experienced and popular travelling agent for the Company, was in town Thursday, arranging for a visit of Ellinger & Foote's grand combination of little folks and big singers, to this city Nov. 8th and 9th.

☞ Have you got your Lyceum Tickets? For a trifle extra, you can secure not only a reserved seat, but a great deal of extra comfort.

☞ Wednesday night was the coldest of the season. Ice formed of considerable thickness.

☞ It turns out that the "Hampton Falls correspondent" of the Exeter News Letter, is a man of straw, or a number of them, just as we expected. Mr. Cram would not rest quiet under the imputation of the authorship of the abusive articles; and now we have no hesitation in charging the first upon a body who should be trustworthy, but none of whom hail from Hampton Falls; and the last, from different parties altogether—though it may be from the pen of one who lives or stays in that town, yet is not a member of any Agricultural Society, but rather runs about free, like sheep without shepherd, or rather like a shepherd without a flock. How is that for a sideshow, Mr. News Letter?

☞ Massachusetts horse men are talking of having a grand Horse Fair at the Rockingham Trotting Park in this city, in the course of a week or two.

☞ The Music Society of Newton, Mass., have in rehearsal the Cantata of St. Cecelia's Day. Rev. Mr. Worcester is President, a Miss Lakin Treasurer, and Mr. John G. Tompson, Jr, (well known in this city,) Musical Director.

A YEAR AND A HALF OF OBLIVION.—Rufus White, son of Jefferson White, of Belchertown, arrived at home recently, weak in body and mind, after having passed through a terrible experience. While an inmate of one of our military hospitals, in North Carolina, he became furiously insane and escaped from his attendants. For the space of a year and a half from that time, all is a blank to him; and when his consciousness returned to him, he was in a private family, in the same State, where he had been received and cared for. As he became able, he worked to get means to come home, some days receiving only 25 cents, and walking in all over 400 miles.—On his arrival his friends received him as one risen from the dead. He heard of the death of Lincoln only a short time before reaching Massachusetts.

PAYSON MEMORIAL CHURCH.—The Portland Mirror says it has been suggested that the remains of Dr. Payson, now lying in the old cemetery on Munjoy, be removed to the proposed memorial edifice. Such a final disposition of them seem most desirable, and the only thing lacking to make that building a memorial church indeed.—Everything belonging to that ancient society was swept away by the fire, including communion service and church records.—We believe there is, at West Chapel, a small table, which, in Dr. Payson's lifetime, stood before the pulpit, and from which the bread and wine was served to the communicants.

— At Nashville, the Board of Aldermen propose to put their hook and ladder company and one engine in charge of the negroes.

— Correspondence on the Tennessee election shows that Gen. Thomas acted under instructions of Gen. Grant, who left it to be his duty to co-operate with the State Executive.

— Viper statistics are among the latest additions to our budget of foreign news. They are numerous in France, and it is said that the rulers of a single department paid $3581 for the destruction 59,694 vipers in 1866.

— At Ashland Furnace, Wayte county Tenn., a few days ago three canisters of powder exploded in a store by the careless firing of a pistol. Messrs. Nichols and Hall, clerks, and a boy were badly hurt. The store was torn to pieces and the goods ruined.

— Two men recently died suddenly at a Canadian tavern, after drinking a cup of coffee. The landlady called the police, who suspected her of poisoning the men.—She protested she had not, and to prove the harmlessness of the coffee, drank a cup of it herself, when she also fell down dead.—An examination of the coffee pot showed that a bunch of matches had been boiling with the coffee.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the Main Connection between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipments are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,379 01	$86,348 84	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual business to that point, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain range.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri Rivers, which seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile, not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in this work, every citizen secures an interest in the first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITING THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons at seven per cent per annum, and are selling for 90 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Nine per Cent. on Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are secured by a lien on the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government Bonds to the amount of $28,592,000, and their surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which have been issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the securances, sanctions and guaranties of the Railroad and Telegraph Bonds, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government Bonds, only half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in gold.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Executors, Executory, Institution and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

HUNTER'S SONG.

From Snow-Berries by Alice Cary, just published by Ticknor & Fields.

I know a mountain high,
With its head against the sky,
Where the stormy eagles fly
East and west;
There, at morning's ruddy gleam,
And in evening's purple beam,
I have heard the nursing scream
From the nest!

O, I love that mountain high,
With its head against the sky,
And the hungry nurslings' cry
All forlorn;
For as winds went to and fro,
Cutting furrows through the snow,
In a hunter's hut so low,
I was born.

O, I love the rocky glade,
Where my little brothers played,
Where together they are laid
In green beds;
With a water murmuring nigh
Its eternal lullaby,
And a blue strip of the sky
At their heads.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Mason Village, a few days since, while some small children were at play, an immense golden eagle swooped down and attacked one of the children to carry it off. A woman ran from the house with a broom, when the eagle let go the child and attacked her. At this moment a man gunning in the vicinity came to the rescue and shot the eagle, breaking a wing, and captured him. He is the largest bird seen within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The bird was purchased by Mr. George H. Dunford of New Orleans, who was visiting at the village, and will be taken to that city.

—— A boot and shoe dealer at Newmarket advertises in the News Letter, "Ladies' Cloth Congress Boots, double sole, tipped," price "$1500."

—— On Tuesday, the Webster place at Franklin was sold at auction. The heirs of the late Rufus L. Tay bid off the buildings and home farm of two hundred acres for $15,400. The wood lot was bought by Mr. James Taylor of Franklin. One large pasture was not sold.

PLEASURE VS. HEALTH.—As the season of private parties and public balls is at hand, a contemporary urges that influential persons should take courage and begin a reform in the matter of commencing at such late hours as have heretofore been fashionable. By absurd custom, guests only begin to arrive at an hour when they should be thinking of retiring, and there is no good reason why this should be so, as it is as easy to get ready for a party or ball as it is to prepare for the opera or theatre. Two hours saved for sleep make the difference between a refreshing night's rest and an insufficient and fitful slumber, resulting in languor, head ache and premature decay of beauty. It only requires slight effort on the part of those who have the power, to institute a complete reform in this matter.

— The Bennetts have taken their names out of the N. Y. Herald, but the paper has a bad name still.

A Man of a Thousand. A Consumptive Cured.
DR. H. JAMES, a retired physician of great eminence, discovered, while in the East Indies, a certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and General Debility, also a vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Nervousness, Premature Decay, and all Disorders brought on by indiscretion or excesses. Having been cured himself of these complaints after many years of suffering, and having lost his wife and family by Consumption, his only object in making this known is to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this remedy, free of charge, to all who desire it, with full directions for successfully curing all who are afflicted. Those wishing the prescription will please address, by return mail, with stamp, naming this paper, DR. H. JAMES, Box 1707, Boston, Mass.

The Chronicle.

— He is a worthless being who lives only for himself.

— Every prayer pat forth has its effect on the one who utters it, and so of every curse.

— The New Orleans Picayune says labor will be more beneficial to the South than politics.

— The steel springs of her stays saved the life of an Englishwoman from an assassin's bullet.

— Truth is the mother of history, the rival of time, the depository of action, witness of the past, example and adviser of the present, and oracle of future ages.

— The Mayor of Doncaster, Eng., while descending the stairs of the Mansion House, trod upon a flower and was thrown down, receiving injuries which caused his death.

— Without temperance there is no health; without virtue no order; without religion no happiness; and the true aim of our being is to live wisely, soberly, and righteously."

— We have artificial teeth, hair, eyes, calves, hips, bosoms, noses, and artificial religion and morality. We believe that some young ladies must wear artificial beads as we read of a young lady whose head was turned by a young man.—Schenectady Dorpian.

— Somebody has given utterance to the following scrap of philosophy, which if it be not good, is at least cool: "The poor man's purse may be empty, but he has as much gold in the sunset and silver in the moon as anybody."

— Live as long as you may, the first twenty years form the greater part of your life. They appear so when they are passing; they seem to have been so, when we look back to them; and they take up more room in our memory than all the years that succeed them.

— The new theatre, recently opened in London, will seat 1984 persons. It has a float light, which consists of the argand burners reversed, with the lights burning downwards, all the combustion being taken away through a large iron cylinder underneath to a flue at the back of the prosceniu. A joint on each burner is so contrived, that if any of the glasses breaks, it falls and so shuts off the gas in that burner. This plan combines safety also, as not a particle of heat escapes into the house, and a gauze handkerchief might be placed on the top of the burner without ignition.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1867.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, made a speech in New York city, Oct. 23. The following is a part of it, relating to the impeachment of the President:

What authority has President Johnson to issue his proclamation of peace? There is no power invested in the President to issue a proclamation of peace. The Constitution invests the war making and peace power in the Congress of the United States only. The fathers of our country intended that if war was to be waged, the people who were to lay down their lives in the strife should, by their representatives in Congress, have the power to declare war, and none else. [Applause.]

The power to carry on a war carries the power to establish the terms of peace.—Andrew Johnson had no power to declare war, and had no authority to declare peace, and his peace proclamation was not worth the paper on which it was written. This usurpation of Johnson was not enough.—On the 7th of August, 1866, he issued another proclamation—a proclamation of amnesty—in which there are no less than ten "whereases." With few exceptions he directs his amnesty to the whole South. He had no right to issue a proclamation of amnesty; no more power than any one on this platform, or one of these reporters before me. Our fathers knew what amnesty was, and would not trust that power to any one man.

An amnesty affects the whole community, affects the whole country. In monarchies it is lodged with the king; in democracies it is lodged with the people. Abraham Lincoln recognized this; every Congress has recognized it. In January, 1866, Congress passed a law permitting Mr. Lincoln to issue an amnesty, which the rebels spurned. He issued a second promise of amnesty, and this also was spurned. In January, 1867, Johnson issued his proclamation of amnesty, pardoning rebels and inflicting dire injury on the Republic."

Congress, however, repealed the power of the President to issue further amnesties. [Cheers.] Johnson wanted to show that he was superior to the law, and was ready to do all he could to defeat the law. He knew he had no power to issue such a proclamation. Even Jerry Black, who has his (Johnson's) ear and is spurring him on in his usurpation, warned him that he had not the power. Johnson found out that we did not want him again for President, and he wanted to be President. [Cheers.] I say that Johnson threw his last amnesty in the teeth of Congress, and in the teeth of the people, to show how disposed he was to trample the law of Congress and the rights of the people under his feet [cheers], and of defiance to the provisions of the Constitution. I ask your attention to his oath. [Cheers.] By that oath you will see in the first place that after Congress passes a law no President has a right to have a policy, except to carry out that law.

I say it is a usurpation for a President to have a policy in defiance of law. The fathers of the Constitution thought there might be a Johnson in the Presidential chair who would not care for the laws of Congress, and they required that he should swear to faithfully execute the laws of Congress; not only execute them, but that he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. Is there a Republican or a Democrat, or, if there can be such a thing, is there a Johnsonite, who can say that Johnson has kept his oath? [Applause and cries of "no." No, he would not say so himself. [Laughter.]

I will repeat here to-night what I have said in Ohio: That when Congress assembles again, if Congress finds that the laws cannot be executed, that the President will not execute them, and that he dares to resist the power of Congress and the laws of Congress, and keeps the country in a state of turmoil, instead of peace; I say that in this case there is but one resource, and our fathers have put upon us the responsibility of the act. [Great cheering, which interrupted the speaker for some moments, with cries of "Impeach him."]

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—Baldwin Apples, No. 1, are $4 per barrel in Concord.

—— The bodies of the brothers Rolfe, who were drowned Thursday night at Laconia, are recovered. Charles Rolfe was a member of the Mass 6th Regiment when it marched through Baltimore in April, 1861.

—— The Boston & Maine Railroad Co. have made great improvements in their buildings in Exeter, by the erection of a new and commodious passenger station, including dining room and many conveniences.

—— At Concord, Thursday evening, on the arrival of the 8.30 train from Boston the body of a man was discovered on the top of the sleeping car with his head bruised and bloody, and his neck broken. Nothing known as to how he came there, no papers being found on his person. He had a coupon ticket for Concord and a small amount of money in his vest pocket. He was evidently an Irish laborer, about 30 years of age. The coroner took charge of the body.

—— The name of the man found dead on the train at Concord, is Joseph Nazaro, a Frenchman. He probly found the sleeping car locked, as he tried to go forward to join some friends, and going on the top, hit his head against a bridge.

— Miss Adelaide Sanborn, of Lowell, Vt., committed suicide on Wednesday morning, 9th inst., by hanging herself in an out-building. She was to be married soon, but for some unknown reason, she became opposed to the engagement, and was heard to say, "There would be a funeral before there was a wedding."

Hastly packing my carpet bag with a bottle partly filled with whiskey, a wooden comb and a paper collar, I started for the Capital. I found his Eggscellency in a good stait of spirits. By his side was a new bottle of whiskey labelled "Mass. P. L. L," wich he sed was a present from John Quincy Adams, the next Governor of Massajusetts. Cum, sed A. J., try sum of this pisin. I hadn't tried enny but a few times on my way from the Depo to the White House, so I excepted the invitashun. This is the stuff, said his Eggscellency, that will fix them Radicals Wilson and Sumner, this fall,—swallering a large glass of the present from the Adamses; let us drink to their down fall,—wich we did hartily.

I have sent for you, Mr. Nasby, said his Eggslency, bitching his cheer nearer to mine, and putting his head to my ear, I've sent for you because I've an idee and I want to know how it strikes you. My frens tell me that with the recent election Impeachment has got a black eye, and now's the time to finish it. Sartunly, sed I, now's the time, Mr. President, to show sich fellows as Stevens & Co. that they are dun up. Butler, he continered, is fast finishing himself with the Five-20 repudiation, but I feel that I must take the current and storter sumbody at once that has talked impeachment, and then the thing will be among the graveyards of the Caperlet family. He seemed to be pregnant with the idee, and frekently delivered hisself of it, and as often as he did he restored hisself by a pull at the bottle.

I can't manage the thing in the army, for sum how I don't quite see how to run that part of the government, but Gid, says he, will supply me a victim, as he has lots in his Department. I am bound to hang some one for saying I ought to be impeached, and then it will be an end to that d—d notion. He was more emfatic than that, even, in his langwidge. His Eggscellency attempted to sound his bell. I have seen it dun better, but he did it after a while. Send for Gid, said he, in a tone of thunder, to the page. I inferred that the destingwished patriot wich the radicals delite to call Old Barnacle, was a coming.

The President and I here took sum refreshments, and thanked God that we did'nt live in Massajusetts. Soon a pair of spectacles, a big chin and a long white beard showed theirselves at the door, and the Honorable Secretary Wells was announced. Wells, said the 2d Jaxon, take a drink.—No, I thank you, sed the Secretary, my Department runs by water, and I am wun of the Wells that's never dry. Here followed a haw haw! on the part of the great man of the East. Have you found a subjeet for the dissecting knife? enquired the President. The Honorable Secretary took from his pocket a piece of wash leather, a present from one of the army of contractors, wiped his specs, and drew forth a letter, which reads as follows:

NAVY YARD, KITTERY, Me.

SIR: Your instructions were received, and the first man we have found is an Engineer, who says Andy Johnson will be impeached, and ought to be. The witnesses are reliable friends of the administration as it now exists, and a Cort rightly formed would convict him.

P. S. But one Engineer should be on the Cort. Very respectfully,

A. J. STINSON, Detective.

Good, said A. J., but can you rely on your Cort? No fear, your Eggslency; the line officers always convict an Ingineer, no matter wat are the charges. How's that? asked Andrew. Gideon remarked that the line officers was gentlemen, but the Ingineers was mechanics, or at least represented a mechanical idee, and as such was not a fit associate for gentlemen. Now, said he, they have brasses, but of what use is brases to a man of the man's not a gentleman? The old officers hate the Steamers and the Ingineers that handle them, and they fite the progressive ideas. They are down on the Ingineers. [Here, being quite dry, the President and I took something. This is all I remember.]

I saw the head of the venerable Secretary grow larger and whiter. His specs seemed to grow bigger than the lite-house that I onct asked Machuttor to give me to keep. I yielded to the influence of Adam's P. L. L., in the belief that if the illustrious Secretary could not fix impeachment that way, it couldn't be done at all. The President bowed his head on the table in profound respec to the Honorable Secretary. The lites seemed to wink and say, "Old Gid understands how to do it, or how not to do it, as the case may be," and the Postmaster of Confedrit X Roads yielded to the balmy influcences of the hour and the Secretary's position, and sank off in a sweet dream of an unimpeachable President and the last of the Adamses.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.,
(Wich is Postmaster.)

☞ Demorest's Monthly for November, in addition to its usual illustrations, has three large plates devoted to fashions and a full-size pattern for a winter cloak. $3 a year. For sale at the bookstores.

☞ The Asst. Treasurer at New York is opposed to selling gold at present, urging that it would create a great stringency in the money market, and advises Sec. McCulloch to anticipate the November interest.

☞ The Phrenological Journal for November is especially interesting. Published by S. R. Welles, New York, at $3 a year.

☞ In Philadelphia, Thursday night, three new Grant Clubs were formed. The cholera is abating at the Navy Yard.

— The horse on which Sheridan rode from "Winchester twenty miles away," to Cedar Mountain, is rusticating at Fort Leavenworth.

☞ We call attention to a card in the column of New Advertisements, headed BEST NEWSPAPERS, and would recommend it to the attention of any one interested in the subject of advertising. They should read it and send for circular giving particulars, if only to learn how much a well regulated system can be made to increase the amount of advertising to be obtained for a fixed sum of money. The parties who thus invite attention to their facilities (Messrs. G. P. ROWELL & Co., 40 Park Row, New York,) are known to us as responsible business men, with whom it is a pleasure to deal.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE IN LYNN.—About half way between Lynn and Swampscott depots, on the west side of the Eastern Railroad track, the flayed carcass of a horse lies in close proximity to a pig pen on the estate of Mr. Sidney Parrott. In the pig sty are the lleshless skeletons of several horses that were led to the hogs last year. A very offensive odor arises from this locality, which greatly annoys the passengers on the Railroad, and the nuisance should be abated by the proper authorities. A similar nuisance existed in the same place last year.—Trav.

☞ The ladies, in their sovereign capacity as judges of emotional enjoyment, have decided that no perfume in existence produces the same delicious sensations as are experienced while inhaling the exquisite fragrance of Phalon's Night-blooming Cereus.—N. Y. Dispatch.

☞ It turns out that the "Hampton Falls correspondent" of the Exeter News Letter, is a man of straw, or a number of them, just as we expected. Mr. Cram would not rest quiet under the imputation of the authorship of the abusive articles; and now we have no hesitation in charging the first upon a body who should be Trust-worthy, but none of whom hail from Hampton Falls; and the last, from different parties altogether—though it may be from the pen of one who lives or stays in that town, yet is not a member of any Agricultural Society, but rather runs about free, like sheep without shepherd, or rather like a Shepard without a flock. How is that for a side-show, Mr. News Letter?

☞ The Lewiston Journal gives a list of births, and says 'Born to' the wife of so-and-so. Now if the babies are born to the mothers, we should like to know who they are born of or borne by. We say the Journal is wrong, and that it should be, born to the father; unless, indeed, the doctors do bring them home, as the folks tell the other children.

☞ The Globe Mill property, lately sold in Newburyport, has paid but very little to the stockholders. There have been in 22 years of operation but thirteen dividends, and the whole amount paid has been but $150,000; and now the entire property has been sold for $125,500, which will just about cover the debts, leaving the stock a total loss to the holders.

☞ A child can hardly have a better companion than a good book, and those books to which they look forward at regular intervals become as it were familiar friends to them—friends who bring amusement, instruction and lessons that in after life shall go far toward forming the character of the child who receives them. The department of juvenile literature has been wonderfully enhanced in interest and increased in extent within the last decade, and for the benefit of those who wish to offer a most acceptable present to their children, we give a list of some of those interesting works which regularly reach us from the publishers.

"The Nursery," for very small children, is a profusely illustrated and ably edited periodical, published by John L. Shorey, Boston, at $1.50 a year.

"The Riverside Magazine," published by Hord & Houghton, New York, at $2.50 a year, offers a wealth of illustration and typographic excellence that causes us to wish ourselves boys again, that we might revel more thoroughly in its luxuriousness.

"Our Young Folks" fully sustains the character of Ticknor & Fields, Boston, for doing well whatever they undertake. At $2 a year, it is cheap enough.

"The Schoolmate," published at $1.50 a year by Joseph H. Allen, Boston, will be found to have many good features, and has the services of Horatio Alger, Jr., to render it interesting.

From the West we have "The Little Corporal," published by Alfred L. Sewell, Chicago, at $1 a year, and worth double the money.

— There are two hundred and fifty-seven Lodges of Good Templars in Massachusetts, with a membership of twenty-eight thousand persons.

The editor who said his mouth never uttered a lie, probably spoke through his nose.—But the woman who said that Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is the best in the world and makes better bread, biscuit, cakes or puddings out of the same sack of flour, than can be made with any other saleratus or soda, spoke it with her eyes and mouth wide open, and does not fear contradiction. Dyspeptic persons can use it with impunity, and be all the better for so doing. Most all the grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York.

MARKS OF CIVILIZATION.—Sunday schools newspapers and a liberal use of soap, especially Pyle's O K Soap, which is the greatest improvement in soap of modern times. Its good for the laundry, bath or toilet, and each and all will make three gallons of good soft soap, by simply dissolving in hot water. Sold by grocers everywhere. 2d

Where are you going?

I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell.

Has he got Providence River Oysters?

Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time.

Does he cook them?

Yes, any way you desire; Fried in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. s24

— The Chicago Tribune says that the "great reaction" failed to come farther west than Ohio. The Republicans have done as well in Indiana as they did last year. Iowa is fully up to her average Republican vote, having given 28,000 majority, while in Nebraska and Colorado there have been handsome Republican gains.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one longer to lay claim to the special advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and none is aware how it is gradually from one stage to another, involving in its destructive march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the danger of a second consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal is its tendency and, productive of such unhappy consequences

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.
Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, nausea, vomiting, and sometimes a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which is frequently mistaken for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. There are frequently symptoms of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a little out of tune on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off the vitiated secretions. Two thirds of cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it causes the blood to become thick, and at times the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it has the Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the lungs when the system is in this locked up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver must all these three be used to put the system in order. Then will the Pulmonic Syrup do its work. It prevents the Liver similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a little out of tune on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

It prevents the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would take a good purgative, something that would set on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only time that astringents are to be used, raw, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.
His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

☞ The new U. S. S. Piscataqua, just finished at this Navy Yard, is a splendid specimen of naval architecture, and another monument to the science of Constructor Pook and the skill of our Piscataqua mechanics.

In the case of Master Machinist at this Yard, the vacancy occasioned by the removal of A. J. McIntire, because not satisfactory to another A. J., there is still a vacancy, although many applications have been made for the position. Among those already examined are J. J. Flanders, J. W. Rix, Joseph Crockett, John Lloyd. The latter is now an Acting 1st Asst. Engineer, U. S. N.

☞ Michael Cassidy, a man with but one arm, who, it is said, was going to work with a gang of laborers employed in ballasting the new ship Merrimac, at her wharf, during the night tide of Thursday, fell into the hold and broke one of his legs. In that condition he lay an hour or two, till the Night Police took him where he could be cared for—the gang referred to, we are told, refusing or neglecting to aid him.

PEOPLE'S LYCEUM.—The first lecture, Nov. 5, is to be by Rev. Dr. Willets, a very popular and pleasing lecturer, a great friend of Gough and somewhat resembling him. His subject is "The Model Wife."—Of this lecture the Philadelphia Press says:

"We commend it for its surpassing beauty, while at the same time it is full enough facetious for any one, not endowed with a deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which is frequently mistaken for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. There are frequently symptoms of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a little out of tune on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

☞ The Kearsarge Cook Stove—a home pattern—should be hard to beat, from the name, at once local and national. To be sure the Peerless won in foreign lands, but so did the Kearsarge in foreign waters. And there is the "Governor," Coleman says, can't be excelled; and the title of Governor is excellency, you know. But then other folks say, the world is governed too much, so since these are the leading stoves in the market, so far as this Chronicle knows—we don't see but our readers must examine all, and settle it for themselves.

POLICE COURT, Oct. 25.—James Reynolds, a marine, pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, and was fined $3 and $3.86 costs.

Michael Johnson and William New, yeomen, entered similar pleas, and were mulcted in a like manner.

☞ The steamer Enterprise seems to be doing a good business, if we may judge from the large piles of freight she brings from Boston to her wharf in this city. We doubt if she goes to Portland as rumored, so long as she has good business on a shorter route.

☞ Our old and "true friend and well-wisher," John S. Harvey, Esq., has laid us under renewed obligations, by sending to our office a basket of Isabella Grapes, very well ripened for this season—with a pleasant note accompanying.

And a lady friend at the South End has driven all idea of approaching winter from our mind, by those beautiful Bouquets.

GEN. SHERIDAN'S VISIT—AN EXTRA TRAIN.—The Eastern Railroad Company have provided a special train for the conveyance of Gen. Sheridan on his eastern trip, composed of two new and splendid cars, Nos. 31 and 70, furnished and decorated by Col. Baal, and to be drawn by the powerful engine "Conqueror." The new baggage car No. 20 will accompany.

GEN. SHERIDAN was announced on Friday to spend the day privately in Hartford, —leave for Boston Saturday,—spend Sunday in Boston, and on Monday leave for Salem, Newburyport, Portsmouth and Augusta. Returning reach Portland Monday night, where there is to be a ball. Tuesday leave for Concord, &c.

THE LEAVES.

BY FRANK FOXCROFT.

The autumn leaves are falling
Down from the grand old trees,
For a mystical voice is calling,
The strange, weird voice of the breeze,

The beautiful leaves it beguileth
To go with it whither it will,
And with joyful heart it smileth
At the trees left barren and still.

Gladly they seek the new comer,
Gladly they go with the breeze,
Forgetting their old friend summer,
And their ancient companions the trees.

But as I see them flying,
Borne by that mystical breath,
I sigh as I think of them lying
In the withering grasp of death.

For I know that their brightness fadeth,
As everything earthly will,
And the gloom of uncertainty shadeth
The light of our pathway still.

A TRUE HERO.—A noble hearted sailor has consented to be let down into the Hoosac tunnel shaft, where the terrible and fatal explosion occurred a few days ago, in the hope of finding some of the workmen still alive. The brave man, after going down about 600 feet, gave the signal to be hauled up. On reaching the top of the shaft he was insensible and scarcely alive, but, vigorous means were employed for his restoration, and after a while he recovered sufficiently to report that the bottom of the shaft was covered with 20 feet or more of water, thus dispelling all hope for the men below.

☞ It having come to the knowledge of the Secretary of the Treasury that the proprietors of one of the bonded warehouses in New York, known as the General Order store, had charged an importer excessive rates for storage, carting, &c., on goods sent from an importing house to said store, he has directed the Collector to require the proprietors to return the excess charged to the importer, and also to inform them that a repetition of the offence will carry with it the loss of the privileges conferred upon them by the government.

— Mrs. H. L. Leonard shot a bear recently, near the Katahdin iron works, Me., that weighed, when dressed, upward of 300 pounds.

— Rhode Island fishermen have, within a week or ten days past, caught 15,000 barrels of menhaden fish, netting them about $10,000.

— "I hate to hear people talk behind one's back," as the robber said when the constable chasing him was crying, "Stop thief."

—The Democrats of the 2d Assembly District of Middlesex county, N. J., have hit the nail exactly on the head by nominating Col. Jones, late of the Rebel army, for the Assembly. He will undoubtedly poll the entire Democratic vote of the district.

— The story which we had by telegraph a few days since, that the Allied fleet had succeeded in demolishing the defences at Curupaity, Paraguay, is contradicted by a letter from Buenos Ayres, Sept. 13.—The fleet, it is said, ran by the fort without firing a gun, and will be likely to receive a warm reception in its attempt to return.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.
Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 36 miles more will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.
The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

Gross Earnings.	Operating Expenses.	Net Earnings.
$187,070 64	$86,548 67	$101,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than one hundred miles of road. The local and legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, within a few days of the Atlantic cities, is destined for the further extension of the road.
The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.
Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.
The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the line now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.
Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completed line of the road $27,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including as absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a stockholder in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, in a manner, MAKES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.
The Company offer for sale, through us, their
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.
Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with Coupons for interest attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, which will yield nearly
Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.
These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive section of the road, together with the Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than DOUBLE the amount of the First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.
The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the safeguards, sanctions and guarantees of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.
First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line
Second—They are the tallest bencut of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.
Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 300 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.
Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin
Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.
Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1867.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, made a speech in New York city, Oct. 26. The following is a part of it, relating to the impeachment of the President:

What authority has President Johnson to issue his proclamation of peace? There is no power invested in the President to issue a proclamation of peace. The Constitution invests the war making and peace power in the Congress of the United States only. The fathers of our country intended that if war was to be waged, the people who were to lay down their lives in the strife should, by their representatives in Congress, have the power to declare war, and none else. [Applause.]

The power to carry on a war carries the power to establish the terms of peace.—Andrew Johnson had no power to declare war, and had no authority to declare peace, and his peace proclamation was not worth the paper on which it was written. This usurpation of Johnson was not enough.—On the 7th of August, 1866, he issued another proclamation—a proclamation of amnesty—in which there are no less than ten "whereases." With few exceptions he directs his amnesty to the whole South. He had no right to issue a proclamation of amnesty; no more power than any one on this platform, or one of these reporters before me. Our fathers knew what amnesty was, and would not trust that power to any one man.

An amnesty affects the whole community, affects the whole country. In monarchies it is lodged with the king; in democracies it is lodged with the people. Abraham Lincoln recognized this; every Congress has recognized it. In January, 1866, Congress passed a law permitting Mr. Lincoln to issue an amnesty, which the rebels spurned. He issued a second promise of amnesty, and this also was spurned. In January, 1867, Johnson issued his proclamation of amnesty, pardoning rebels and inflicting dire injury on the Republic."

Congress, however, repealed the power of the President to issue further agnacties. [Cheers.] Johnson wanted to show that he was superior to the law, and was ready to do all he could to defeat the law. He knew he had no power to issue such a proclamation. Even Jerry Black, who has been (Johnson's) ear and is spurring him on in his usurpation, warned him that he had not the power. Johnson found out that we did not want him again for President, and he wanted to be President. [Cheers.] I say that Johnson threw his last amnesty in the teeth of Congress, and in the teeth of the people, to show how disposed he was to trample the law of Congress and the rights of the people under his feet [cheers], and of defiance to the provisions of the Constitution. I ask your attention to his oath. [Cheers.] By that oath you will see in the first place that after Congress passes a law no President has a right to have a policy, except to carry out that law.

I say it is a usurpation for a President to have a policy in defiance of law. The fathers of the Constitution thought there might be a Johnson in the Presidential chair who would not care for the laws of Congress, and they required that he should swear to faithfully execute the laws of Congress; not only execute them, but that he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. Is there a Republican or a Democrat, or, if there can be such a thing, is there a Johnsonite, who can say that Johnson has kept his oath? [Applause and cries of "no." No, he would not say so himself. [Laughter.]

I will repeat here to-night what I have said in Ohio: That when Congress assembles again, if Congress finds that the laws cannot be executed, that the President will not execute them, and that he dares to resist the power of Congress and the laws of Congress, and keeps the country in a state of turmoil, instead of peace; I say that in this case there is but one resource, and our fathers have put upon us the responsibility of the act. [Great cheering, which interrupted the speaker for some moments, with cries of "Impeach him."]

He was evidently an Irish laborer, about 30 years of age. The coroner took charge of the body.

NASBY ON IMPEACHMENT.

A New Plan to Wipe Out Impeachment.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRET X ROADS }
(wich is in the Stait of Kentucky.) }
October 1, 1867. }

Hardly hed I reached home after my last journey to Washington, when I received in doo course of mail a tellegraff which run as follers:

"Radicalism is ded in Pennsilvaney & Ohio. Cum at wunst to the funeral. A. J."

Hastly packing my carpet bag with a bottle partly filled with whiskey, a wooden comb and a paper collar, I started for the Capital. I found his Eggscellency in a good stait of spirits. By his side was a new bottle of whiskey labelled "Mass. P. L. L.," wich he sed was a present from John Quincy Adams, the next Governor of Massajusetts. Cum, sed A. J., try sum of this pisin. I hadn't tried enny but a few times on my way from the Depo to the White House, so I excepted the invitashun. This is the stuff, said his Eggscellency, that will fix them Radicals Wilson and Sumner, this fall,—swallering a large glass of the present from the Adamses; let us drink to their down fall,—wich we did hartily.

I have sent for you, Mr. Nasby, and his Eggslency, hitching his cheer nearer to mine, and putting his head to my ear, I've sent for you because I've an idee and I want to know how it strikes you. My frens tell me that with the recent election Impeachment has got a black eye, and now's the time to finish it. Sartunly, sed I, now's the time, Mr. President, to show sich fellows as Stevens & Co. that they are dun up. Butler, he continered, is fast finishing himself with the Five-20 repudiation, but I feel that I must take the current and slorter sumbody at once that has talked impeachment, and then the thing will be among the graveyards of the Caperlet family. He seemed to be pregnant with the idee, and frekently delivered hisself of it, and as often as he did he restored hisself by a pull at the bottle.

I can't manage the thing in the army, for sum how I don't quite see how to run that part of the government, but Gid, says he, will supply me a victim, as he has lots in his Department. I am bound to hang some one for saying I ought to be impeached, and then it will be an end to that d—d notion. He was more emfatic than that, even, in his langwidge. His Eggslency attempted to sound his bell. I have seen it dun better, but he did it after a while. Send for Gid, said he, in a tone of thunder, to the page. I interred that the destingwished patriot wich the radicals delite to call Old Barnacle, was a cuming.

The President and I here took sum refreshments, and thanked God that we did'nt live in Massajusetts. Soon a pair of spectacles, a big chin and a long white beard showed theirselves at the door, and the Honorable Secretary Wells was announced. Wells, said the 2d Jaxon, take a drink.—No, I thank you, sed the Secretary, my Department runs by water, and I am sum of the Wells that's never dry. Here followed a haw I haw! on the part of the great man of the East. Have you found a subject for the dissecting knife? enquired the President. The Honorable Secretary took from his pocket a piece of wash leather, a present from one of the army of contractors, wiped his specs, and drew forth a letter, which reads as follows:

NAVY YARD, KITTERY, Me.

SIR: Your instructions were received, and the first man we have found is an Engineer, who says Andy Johnson will be impeached, and ought to be. The witnesses are reliable friends of the administration as it now exists, and a Cort rightly formed would convict him.

P. S. But one Engineer should be on the Cort. Very respectfully,

A. J. STINSON, Detective.

Good, said A. J., but can you rely on your Cort? No fear, your Eggslency; the line officers always convict an Ingineer, no matter wat are the charges. How's that? asked Andrew. Gideon remarked that the line officers was gentlemen, but the Ingineers was mechanics, or at least represented a mechanical idee, and as such was not a fit associate for gentlemen. Now, said he, they have branes, but of what use is branes to a man if the man's not a gentleman? The old officers hate the Steamers and the Ingineers that handle them, and they fite the progressive idees. They are down on the Ingineers. [Here, being quite dry, the President and I took something. This is all I remember.]

I saw the head of the venerable Secretary grow larger and whiter. His specs seemed to grow bigger than the lite-house that I onct asked Machullor to give me to keep. I yielded to the influence of Adam's P. L. L., in the belief that if the illustrious Secretary could not fix impeachment that way, it couldn't be done at all. The President bowed his head on the table in profound respec to the Honorable Secretary. The fites seemed to wink and say, "Old Gid understands how to do it, or how not to do it, as the case may be," and the Postmaster of Confedrit X Roads yielded to the balmy influences of the hour and the Secretary's position, and sank off in a sweet dream of an unimpeachable President and the last of the Adamses.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.,
(Wich is Postmaster.)

☞ Demorest's Monthly for November, in addition to its usual illustrations, has three large plates devoted to fashions and a full-size pattern for a winter cloak. $3 a year. For sale at the bookstores.

☞ The Asst. Treasurer at New York is opposed to selling gold at present, urging that it would create a great stringency in the money market, and advises Sec. McCulloch to anticipate the November interest."

☞ The Phrenological Journal for November is especially interesting. Published by S. R. Welles, New York, at $3 a year.

☞ In Philadelphia, Thursday night, three new Grant Clubs were formed. The cholera is abating at the Navy Yard.

— The horse on which Sheridan rode from "Winchester twenty miles away," to Cedar Mountain, is rusticating at Fort Leavenworth.

☞ We call attention to a card in the column of New Advertisements, headed BEST NEWSPAPERS, and would recommend it to the attention of any one interested in the subject of advertising. They should read it and send for circular giving particulars, if only to learn how much a well regulated system can be made to increase the amount of advertising to be obtained for a fixed sum of money. The parties who thus invite attention to their facilities (Messrs. G. P. ROWELL & Co., 40 Park Row, New York,) are known to us as responsible business men, with whom it is a pleasure to deal.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE IN LYNN.—About half way between Lynn and Swampscott depots, on the west side of the Eastern Railroad track, the flayed carcass of a horse lies in close proximity to a pig pen on the estate of Mr. Sidney Parrott. In the pig sty are the fleshless skeletons of several horses that were fed to the hogs last year. A very offensive odor arises from this locality, which greatly annoys the passengers on the Railroad, and the nuisance should be abated by the proper authorities. A similar nuisance existed in the same place last year.—Trav.

☞ The ladies, in their sovereign capacity as judges of emotional enjoyment, have decided that no perfume in existence produces the same delicious sensations as are experienced while inhaling the exquisite fragrance of Phalon's Night-blooming Cereus.—N. Y. Dispatch.

☞ It turns out that the "Hampton Falls correspondent" of the Exeter News Letter, is a man of straw, or a number of them, just as we expected. Mr. Cram would not rest quiet under the imputation of the authorship of the abusive articles; and now we have no hesitation in charging the first upon a body who should be Trust-worthy, but none of whom hail from Hampton Falls; and the last, from different parties altogether—though it may be from the pen of one who lives or stays in that town, yet is not a member of any Agricultural Society, but rather runs about free, like sheep without shepherd, or rather like a Shepard without a flock. How is that for a side-show, Mr. News Letter?

☞ The Lewiston Journal gives a list of births, and says 'Born to' the wife of so-and-so. Now if the babies are born to the mothers, we should like to know who they are born of or borne by. We say the Journal is wrong, and that it should be, born to the father; unless, indeed, the doctors do bring them home, as the folks tell the other children.

☞ The Globe Mill property, lately sold in Newburyport, has paid but very little to the stockholders. There have been in 22 years of operation but thirteen dividends, and the whole amount paid has been but $150,000; and now the entire property has been sold for $125,500, which will just about cover the debts, leaving the stock a total loss to the holders.

☞ A child can hardly have a better companion than a good book, and those books to which they look forward at regular intervals become as it were familiar friends to them—friends who bring amusement, instruction and lessons that in after life shall go far toward forming the character of the child who receives them. The department of juvenile literature has been wonderfully enhanced in interest and increased in extent within the last decade, and for the benefit of those who wish to offer a most acceptable present to their children, we give a list of some of those interesting works which regularly reach us from the publishers.

"The Nursery," for very small children, is a profusely illustrated and ably edited periodical, published by John L. Shorey, Boston, at $1.50 a year.

"The Riverside Magazine," published by Hurd & Houghton, New York, at $2.50 a year, offers a wealth of illustration and typographic excellence that causes us to wish ourselves boys again, that we might revel more thoroughly in its luxuriousness.

"Our Young Folks" fully sustains the character of Ticknor & Fields, Boston, for doing well whatever they undertake. At $2 a year, it is cheap enough.

"The Schoolmate," published at $1.50 a year by Joseph H. Allen, Boston, will be found to have many good features, and has the services of Horatio Alger, Jr., to render it interesting.

From the West we have "The Little Corporal," published by Alfred L. Sewell, Chicago, at $1 a year, and worth double the money.

Dyspeptic persons can use it with impunity, and be all the better for so doing. Most all the grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York.

NOT GOLD ONLY,

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various brauches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young competitor for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to special advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"

"Muscatel,"

"Still Champagne,"

"Hock" and

"Port,"

Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of the disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving in its descendant march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the dangers of a confirmed consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences, no one will be surprised to learn, if he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system, by those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment or which has been so little understood as Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the practice generally adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess a cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had years of experience in treating Diseases of the Ear, Eye, Throat, and Catarrh, he thinks himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My ears have been diseased 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised to cure me, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine, and that he was a skillful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and under his treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed in a little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with diseases of the head to consult Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Street.

WM. CARTLEDGE, JR.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 9, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks at the DAVIS House, treating diseases of the Ear, Eye and Throat, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of special endorsement to the Doctor's skill and ability. There are many good persons who people should look with distrust upon professionals generally, who practice from place to place—But these do not apply to Dr. Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success every where he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has settled our city, a feeling in which large numbers who have received the benefit of his treatment unite. We trust the Doctor's engagements will permit him to visit Lewiston frequently.

From the Portland Press.

Dr. Carpenter, the Oculist and Aurist, who has been opening several months in practice in this city, has had marked success in the treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, as also of Catarrh in its worst forms. He is well versed in the treatment of the diseases he has made his specialties, gentlemanly in the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ Dr. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

QUARTER OF A MILLION SAVED A DAY.
One hundred thousand men now labor with good results, who, until they used
ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS,
had not done a day's work for years. So these Plasters are the means of increasing the wealth of the nation not less than a quarter of a million a day.
AN IMPORTANT LETTER.
SHERK OAK, CAYUGA CO., N. Y., Jan 19, 1860.
T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with a lame back over ten years, so as to be entirely helpless and unable to work. Seeing your advertisement, I was induced to procure one of Allcock's Porous Plasters and worcit 3 weeks when I found my back entirely cured, and was able to mow and cradle seven acres of wheat in my best days. STEPHEN PUDSLEY.

DR. SCHENCK ON DYSPEPSIA.—SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.
Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, eructations, heartburning, and a great deal of what a person calls an ill-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and often the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucous or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in the tongue, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from acting, and digestion ceases. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves this mucous or slime, and restore the stomach to its natural condition.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off the morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Dyspepsia that we see is caused from diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it he has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the stomach is caused from the diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it he has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the stomach until it is cleared from this loaded up condition, without the aid of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has only two ways for the bile to pass off—one is taken in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thin, that it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from this thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would be soon relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for as astringents are only temporary relief. The bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.
His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply of all three at his rooms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the full dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ The new U. S. S. Piscataqua, just finished at this Navy Yard, is a splendid specimen of naval architecture, and another monument to the science of Constructor Pook and the skill of our Piscataqua mechanics.

In the case of Master Machinist at this Yard, the vacancy occasioned by the removal of A. J. McIntire, because not satisfactory to another A. J., there is still a vacancy, although many applications have been made for the position. Among those already examined are J. J. Flanders, J. W. Rix, Jacob Crockett, John Lloyd. The latter is now an Acting 1st Asst. Engineer, U. S. N.

☞ Michael Cassidy, a man with but one arm, who, it is said, was going to work with a gang of laborers employed in ballasting the new ship Merrimac, at her wharf, during the night tide of Thursday, fell into the hold and broke one of his legs. In that condition he lay an hour or two, till the Night Police took him where he could be cared for—the gang referred to, we are told, refusing or neglecting to aid him.

PEOPLE'S LYCEUM.—The first lecture, Nov. 5, is to be by Rev. Dr. Willets, a very popular and pleasing lecturer, a great friend of Gough and somewhat resembling him. His subject is "The Model Wife."—Of this lecture the Philadelphia Press says:

"We commend it for its surpassing beauty, while at the same time it is full enough facetious for any one, not endowed with a waistcoat supernaturally strong. Without any of the cant or conventionalities, or sanctimonious twang with which many of our public speakers are afflicted, he advanced in a style that was logical without being dry, poetic without being insipid, humorous without being silly, bold without being rash, pure without being finical. We all came away filled with good humor, and a resolution to more highly appreciate our homes."

☞ The Kearsarge Cook Stove—a home pattern—should be hard to beat, from the name, at once local and national. To be sure the Peerless won in foreign lands, but so did the Kearsarge in foreign waters. And there is the "Governor," Coleman says, can't be excelled; and the title of Governor is excellency, you know. But then other folks say, the world is governed too much, so since these are the leading stoves in the market, so far as this Chronicle knows—we don't see but our readers must examine all, and settle it for themselves.

POLICE COURT, Oct. 25.—James Reynolds, a marine, pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, and was fined $3 and $3.86 costs.

Michael Johnson and William Nowy, yeomen, entered similar pleas, and were mulcted in a like manner.

☞ The steamer Enterprise seems to be doing a good business, if we may judge from the large piles of freight she brings from Boston to her wharf in this city. We doubt if she goes to Portland as rumored, so long as she has good business on a shorter route.

☞ Our old and "true friend and well-wisher," John S. Harvey, Esq., has laid us under renewed obligations, by sending to our office a basket of Isabella Grapes, very well ripened for this season—with a pleasant note accompanying.

And a lady friend at the South End has driven all idea of approaching winter from our mind, by those beautiful Bouquets.

GEN. SHERIDAN'S VISIT—AN EXTRA TRAIN.—The Eastern Railroad Company have provided a special train for the conveyance of Gen. Sheridan on his eastern trip, composed of two new and splendid cars, Nos. 31 and 70, furnished and decorated by Col. Boal, and to be drawn by the powerful engine "Conqueror." The new baggage car No. 20 will accompany.

GEN. SHERIDAN was announced on Friday to spend the day privately in Hartford, —leave for Boston Saturday,—spend Sunday in Boston, and on Monday leave for Salem, Newburyport, Portsmouth and Augusta. Returning reach Portland Monday night, where there is to be a ball. Tuesday leave for Concord, &c.

— Five young men ran a foot race from Bath to Brunswick, Me. Wm. R. Morse, clerk in the Times Office at Bath, made the best time, going over the ground in one hour and two minutes, and beating the next best twenty-eight minutes. The distance is nine miles. The table time for the railroad is twenty-five minutes.

THE LEAVES.
BY FRANK FOXCROFT.

The autumn leaves are falling
Down from the grand old trees,
For a mystical voice is calling,
The strange, weird voice of the breeze,

The beautiful leaves it beguileth
To go with it whither it will,
And with joyful heart it smileth
At the trees left barren and still.

Gladly they seek the new comer,
Gladly they go with the breeze,
Forgetting their old friend summer,
And their ancient companions the trees.

But as I see them flying,
Borne by that mystical breath,
I sigh as I think of them lying
In the withering grasp of death.

For I know that their brightness fadeth,
As everything earthly will,
And the gloom of uncertainty shadeth
The light of our pathway still.

Boston Transcript.

A TRUE HERO.—A noble hearted sailor has consented to be let down into the Hoosac tunnel shaft, where the terrible and fatal explosion occurred a few days ago, in the hope of finding some of the workmen still alive. The brave man, after going down about 600 feet, gave the signal to be hauled up. On reaching the top of the shaft he was insensible and scarcely alive, but, vigorous means were employed for his restoration, and after a while he recovered sufficiently to report that the bottom of the shaft was covered with 20 feet or more of water, thus dispelling all hope for the men below.

☞ It having come to the knowledge of the Secretary of the Treasury that the proprietors of one of the bonded warehouses in New York, known as the General Order store, had charged an importer excessive rates for storage, carting, &c., on goods sent from an importing house to said store, he has directed the Collector to require the proprietors to return the excess charged to the importer, and also to inform them that a repetition of the offence will carry with it the loss of the privileges conferred upon them by the government.

— At Cincinnati, the Democrats won $50,000 from the Republicans, who bet on too large a majority for Hayes at the recent election.

— Mrs. H. L. Leonard shot a bear recently, near the Katahdin iron works, Me., that weighed, when dressed, upward of 300 pounds.

— Rhode Island fishermen have, within a week or ten days past, caught 15,000 barrels of menhaden fish, netting them about $10,000.

—"I hate to hear people talk behind one's back," as the robber said when the constable chasing him was crying, "Stop thief."

—The Democrats of the 24 Assembly District of Middlesex county, N. J., have hit the nail exactly on the head by nominating Col. Jones, late of the Rebel army, for the Assembly. He will undoubtedly poll the entire Democratic vote of the district.

— The story which we had by telegraph a few days since, that the Allied fleet had succeeded in demolishing the defences at Curupaity, Paraguay, is contradicted by a letter from Buenos Ayres, Sept. 13.—The fleet, it is said, ran by the fort without firing a gun, and will be likely to receive a warm reception in its attempt to return.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only Railroad between the Mississippi Ocean and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line Between the Two Oceans.
Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, and contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be finished and the track carried across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipments are ready and ordered for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction
The Earnings and Expenses upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$187,370 61	$86,343 44	$101,027 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual business of the Company, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.
The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.
Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.
The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.
Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—and including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise and by waiving its first lien to advantages of First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has most effectually guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.
The Company offer for sale, through us, their
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.
Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Seven and One-Quarter per Investment.
These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the government, and are therefore a first mortgage duly issued upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government and private capital, the proceeds of sale of lands, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.
The Central Pacific First Morigage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Acts in progress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds:
First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.
Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, only half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.
Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.
Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.
Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to capitalists, banks, institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

GROWTH OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, in a sermon recently preached by him in London, spoke of the increase of protestant episcopal churches in the United States. He said:

"Not more than one in six of the clergy, and not more than one in sixty of those whom he could number as communicants were, however, born and bred in the Episcopal church. They had been gathered into the fold from all quarters. A few had been led to embrace the faith from conviction, a larger number because they had a preference for the services of the Anglican church, and many more because of the reaction which set in against a form of worship which had prevailed in the century before 1800, but which the thought of this world had outgrown, because it contradicted the idea of the character of God as the common Father of all."

[Bishop C. himself is one of these converts. The writer of these lines was one of a committee which invited him to be pastor of the North Parish in Portsmouth, many years since. And the Bishop is also correct in his statement that many seek his church because they find it more congenial to the growing disbelief in some doctrines called Evangelical, and the growing belief in some form of Universalism—notwithstanding the 39 Articles of Religion. The statement of "not one in sixty," however, strikes us as rather strong, not to say extravagant: and there must certainly be losses as well as gains, for the increase is not sixty fold in one generation.]

Bishop Clark in the same sermon makes the following gentle allusion to the Episcopal church being sought as a refuge by such person as feared or hated an anti-slavery sermon, or a prayer for putting down the rebellion.—He says:

"Another reason why people came into the Protestant Episcopal Church in considerable numbers, was because it represented what might be termed the sounder conservative elements of America, for it was a remarkable fact that after the close of the late awful war in that country, that church was the only institution of any sort having a true national character in which a real, heartfelt working sympathy existed."

He says also that a third reason was to be found in the doctrinal aspect of the church.—They saw that in the Episcopal Church the creed was safe, surrounded as it was by so many bulwarks. Farther than this, it was more in harmony with the genius of their institutions than any other. In their diocesan conventions there was always joint lay and clerical action, and no man could be admitted to the priesthood without the concurrence of the laity. No canon, diocesan or general, could be passed without the sanction of the laity, and if the Church of England would have its work well done it must admit the laity into its councils. (An audible murmur of assent rose from all parts of the church.)—The English audience saw the point, and approved it too.

One very important thing, however, the American Bishop could not say very well in England, viz.: that the connection of the English Church with the State, was nominally a point of weakness, while in the U. S. the Episcopal Church, like all others, stood on its own bottom, and was the stronger for it.

The Chronicle.

☞ After the late President Lincoln had sent the name of Rev. James Shrigley to the U. S. Senate, for confirmation as Hospital Chaplain, U. S. A., a self-constituted committee of the Young Men's Christian Association called on the President to protest against the appointment on the ground that Mr. S. was not a believer in the eternity of future punishment. "We have called," said the young gentlemen, "to speak with you in regard to the appointment of Rev. Mr. Shrigley, of Philadelphia, as Hospital Chaplain." "O, yes, gentlemen," responded the President, "I have already sent his name to the Senate. His testimonials were highly satisfactory and the appointment will no doubt be confirmed at an early day."

The young men replied, "But, sir, we have come not to ask for the appointment, but solicit you to withdraw the nomination, on the ground that Mr. S. is not evangelical in his religious sentiments." "Ah, said the President, that alters the case. Wherein does he err? On what point of Christian doctrine is the gentleman unsound?" The spokesman replied, "He does not believe in endless punishment." "Yes," said a second, "he believes that even the rebels themselves will finally be saved, and it will never do to have a man with such views, as Hospital Chaplain."

The President hesitated to reply for a few moments, and then responded in a manner which told them that their protest was hopeless: "If that be so, gentlemen, and there be any way under Heaven, whereby the rebels can be saved, then for God's sake let the man be appointed!" And the appointment was made.

THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—This remark is attributed to a prominent Republican in Boston. When inquired of by an opponent, as to what had happened to the Republicans in Pennsylvania, Ohio, &c., at the late elections, he answered: "O, nothing, only the Band got ahead of the procession."

There may be a deal of philosophy, perhaps, in that simple remark, which it may be well for the Republicans to consider. The Republican party is made up of contributions from all of the old parties, and very largely in in Pennsylvania, Ohio, &c., from the party that held the government in its hands 48 of the 60 years from 1801 to 1861. In all parties, there is always a portion who do not move with alacrity, or think and reason with the quickness of those whom they recognize as their leading men. The fact is therefore to be borne in mind, that if the leaders are much in advance of the body of the people upon principles, and measures, and policy, there is danger that "the band will get separated from the procession," which, failing to keep step with the music of the party, may chance to become broken and lose its effective force.

It is well therefore that the inquiry should now be made, whether the Republican "band" may not have played some airs that struck harshly upon ears long accustomed to old and familiar tunes; and thus the hand of the procession became separated. At present it would be well to remember that there is now no man in the country of sufficient power to sound the key-note of a political organization, and organize public sentiment for a demonstration of his formula of political faith—Washington well remarked that, "in proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion be enlightened." The "band" must keep with the "procession," or all will be broken and lost.—Worcester Palladium.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how it operates.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1867.

FAITHFUL MEN.—The Washington National Intelligencer, (commonly deemed President Johnson's organ), charges that nearly all of the officials in the departments at Washington, are contributing all in their power to the success of the Republican ticket in the coming elections.

We don't believe this charge to be strictly true; but so far as it is true, it is to their credit. They went into those departments, most of them, because they were Republicans, and because they had helped to create a Republican administration and to put down rebellion and the rebels.

Since they have been there, many things have been changed,—but we do not see that the "white man's government," or the drunken man's policy, or the democratic party, or all of them together, have become so lovely, and prosperous, and beautiful, as to make the officials fall down and worship such idols. They may not "speak disrespectfully of their superior officers,"—but they cannot in their hearts respect either a sottish hypocrite or the snobs who pretend to admire him by whose treachery they hope to escape the halter, or to fill their pockets with the public money.

HAVANA.—A Havana letter of the 19th states that the government has called the telegraphic operators to account for allowing a dispatch about Garibaldi's successes to reach the El Siglo newspaper per cable from New York.

The acting Captain General has promulgated an order prohibiting all meetings of any secret society. The Masonic fraternity has increased greatly in Cuba of late years, and the fulmination is aimed chiefly at that order, some of whose members recently appeared in regalia in the streets of Cienfuegos.

The widow of Gen. Miramon has arrived in Havana. Jose Maria Lacunza, one of Maximilian's ministers, who has been reported as executed, buried and embalmed, is alive and well in Havana.

SUSPECTED MURDER.— There is considerable excitement in Shrewsbury, Mass., relative to the death of Miss Mary Shaw, who was reported to have committed suicide during a brief absence of her attendant. As she was aged and infirm, and partially helpless from a paralytic shock, suspicion was aroused, and a coroner's jury was summoned. The evidence, as Worcester Spy, was not definite and threw no clear light on the affair, but the testimony of the medical man, who was in attendance only a few minutes after the act was committed, was quite decided on the point, that in his opinion, from her physical incapacity and the attendant circumstances, it was wholly impossible for the deceased to have done the deed by her own hand. The jury returned a verdict that her death was caused by strangulation at the hands of some person to the jury unknown.

CABLE DISPATCHES, Oct. 25.—Gen. Garibaldi has again been heard from.—Without regarding the prohibition of the Italian authorities, he left Foligno and pushed on toward the South. At last accounts he had arrived at Rieti, a town in the southern district of Umbria, not far from the Papal frontier, and within forty-two miles of Rome.

Additional advices received from Rome acknowledge that the Garibaldians have not all retired from the territory of the Church, but represent that the Pontifical troops have recently had contact with remnants of the insurgent bands, in which they have been uniformly successful.

FROM NASHVILLE.—The Legislature has just passed a law, putting negroes on an equality with the whites, in public conveyances.

The trial of H. B. Paine, for murder, commenced on Saturday. He is the author of a pamphlet on the negro, attempting to prove that he is a beast and that he has no soul.

—The pressure on the President for office and Cabinet changes has nearly ceased.

—The prairie around Fort Ransom, Dakotah, caught fire on the 7th inst. The inmates of the fort were left unharmed in life and property, with the exception of six tons of hay, which were burnt up. With considerable labor they saved the camp and post. Ten half breeds, belonging to a camp in the immediate vicinity, were burned to death, and some six or seven were badly injured.

— The wife of the famous Ned Buntline died a few days ago, in the poor-house in Nashville, Tenn. She was a Cuban, named Maria Cordova, of exceeding beauty in her younger days, and had led a life of strange adventure; first, as cigar girl in New Orleans, then wife of the roving Ned, mistress of Ben McCulloch the Texan ranger, then resident of a Mexican convent for ten years, and then a downward course, which ended in poverty and a pauper's death.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— An elegant Catholic church is going up in Concord.

—— Ezra Darby, of Lancaster, raised this year on less than one-half acre of ground, ninety-two and one-half bushels of corn; and further, has ground corn from this field in August.

—— William Hyde, of Francestown, died suddenly on Wednesday, 16th inst., sitting in his chair. He was 88 years old, and formerly known as the manufacturer of Hyde's sleighs.

—— The case of George W. Rhoades vs. town of Stoddard, was tried before the S. J. Court last week, at Keene. Action for an injury sustained by plaintiff on account of an alleged defect in a highway.—Damage claimed $20,000. On the defence it was set up that the accident happened through fault of the plaintiff; evidence was introduced to show that his character for truth was bad. Verdict for the town.

—— The Concord Statesman says, "It is understood that a good many thousand dollars have been paid by the endorsers of notes made by a citizen of Concord, lately deceased. We hear of one payment of this kind, amounting to $10,000, by a Boston gentleman, who does not wish the fact known. He will file no claim against the estate."

—— Mrs. J. Coffee, living in Keene, at the house of her mother, Mrs. Kennedy, violently assaulted the latter with an axe, a few days since, inflicting a bad though not dangerous wound in the head. She also battered the face of her mother with a water dipper and bit several of her fingers.—Mrs. Coffee had previously threatened to kill her mother, and this assault was with intent to kill.

Communication.

THE CURRENCY.—There is much speculation in some of the public journals in respect to the reduction of the public debt by redeeming one kind of the government paper securities by other paper securities. So far as they bear interest, perhaps something may be gained. But whatever financial scheme may be devised, after all, the paper currency, whether in bonds, notes, greenbacks or any other paper securities, must eventually be redeemed by gold or silver. Therefore the sooner the paper securities, bearing interest, shall be redeemed by specie, the better it will be for the country. It is conceded by our ablest financiers that there should be a return to a metallic currency as soon as practicable. Gold and silver are the only true standards of value for exchange. A paper currency, irredeemable during the war, was a matter of necessity; but the latter is not now so necessary. But the important question arises: How shall specie enough be obtained for a resumption of specie payments? Congress should adopt salutary measures to reduce the export of gold to purchase merchandise which can be dispensed with. This can be done by largely increasing the duties on imports, especially on such things as may be manufactured or produced in this country. We ought to export more than we import. That would turn the balance of trade in our favor, which always must be paid in specie. That balance is now annually thirty or forty millions against us, and with low duties will rapidly increase. The New York importers, who care not for the public prosperity, are in favor of low duties—even free trade, in order to fill their own coffers. There are several hundred millions of specie now in this country not in circulation; and about one hundred millions in the public treasury. Most of the latter can be put in circulation by redeeming the government notes, or securities bearing interest. A gradual reduction, and as speedy as practicable, of the paper currency is demanded by the public welfare; and Congress should fix the time when a specie currency shall be resumed. Valid reasons may be assigned in favor of reducing the internal duties. The national debt ought not to be liquidated by the present generation. V. S.

☞ A brilliant wedding came off in Newburyport on Wednesday evening, at the North Church. The groom, Dr. Hazelton, was in the naval service during the late war, and is now of the medical staff of the McLean Hospital. He has taken to himself one of the fairest daughters of Newburyport. A large audience witnessed the services at the church, which were rendered more pleasant by the services at the organ of Mr. Bancroft, of Emmanuel Church, Boston. After the marriage a large company was entertained at the residence of the bride's father, Wm. H. Brewster, Esq. Several hundred persons were present, and it was one of the happiest parties ever seen.

☞ On Wednesday a Jewish lady named Rosenfeld, accompanied by seven small children, arrived in New York city from St. Louis, on her way to Newark, N. J., where she was to meet her husband. She went to the Jersey City Ferry, inquired the fare and left her children standing together till she got a bill changed at a store. During her absence five of the children went or were taken away by some unknown person, and up to noon Thursday the police were unable to find any trace of them.

☞ The New Orleans Typographical Union, though not intended as a benevolent society, can show an excellent record during the epidemic now raging there. Thirteen members have died of yellow fever, and besides providing for their own sick the society has donated $250 to the Howard Association.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BANGOR, Oct. 24, 1867.

THAT "DIVE"—Messrs. Editors:—It is a pity to spoil the sensational story of a "dive" in this city, which recently appeared in your columns, and which appears to have been the invention of personal enmity, that does not scruple to make use of the press to gratify its malice. The young man referred to, is a modest, unassuming person, both in manner and dress, and was properly assisting in depositing the cylinder used in blasting, by holding on to which after the chief operator let go without giving the word, he was drawn over the side of the scow, and partially immersed. The electric wire was in the hands of a third person, in whose grasp it was drawn from the cylinder. All the details of this "dive" are wholesale and spiteful falsehoods. The young man was properly assisting in the sub-marine operation at the time, and has since then been twice down in sub-marine armor to explore the ledge at the bottom of the river. If this scoundrel who has so cowardly exhibited his petty malice, will have the courage to face the "animated bundle of elegant clothes," or follow him under the water, he will appear to better advantage than in sneaking anonymously into a newspaper. X.

[We condensed the item, as it appeared in the Chronicle, from an exchange, and of course know nothing of the author or the story.]

FROM WASHINGTON.—Twelve pages of the impeachment testimony are daily printed, and each sheet is locked up as soon as completed. The whole will be completed by the last of November.

The legality of the dismission of Joseph Bradley from the Court will be the first thing brought up at the present general term of the Supreme Court.

It is untrue that the Investigating Committee have requested the suspension of Superintendent Clark of the Printing Bureau.

The Tribune's special Washington dispatch says the President has referred to General Grant the petitions of Georgians complaining that Gen. Pope gives undue advantage to the negroes in his appointments. General Grant returns the papers suggesting that representation be fixed by counties instead of Senatorial districts, and has telegraphed the suggestion to General Pope.

VERMONT BUTTER AND CHEESE MARKET. The St. Albans butter market, on Tuesday, was dull, with a slight falling off from last week's figures. A large lot was brought in, and the ruling price was 40 cents per pound, though 42 cents was paid for a few fancy lots.

At the Richmond cheese market, last week, all the cheese brought in was taken up at 14 cents for fine dairies and 15 cents for sage.—One hundred boxes were sold, most of which were taken by Boston houses. One hundred and thirty-eight tubs of butter were also sold at 38 and 40 cents.

A GREAT SWINDLE.—A Bennington, Vt., correspondent of the New York Express reports that an extensive swindle has been perpetrated in that State, by a man calling himself Simon A. Vandercook, who made his appearance in Bennington in June, 1866, and announced that he had discovered gold on the Snyder farm in Pittstown, Rensselaer county, New York. He exhibited numerous rich specimens of gold-bearing quartz, which he said were found on the farm. Dr. John N. Scranton, a chemist and geologist, visited the gold mine where he collected and assayed specimens which he certified yielded $8,533 to the ton. Besides this, four other assays were made in New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston, with similar result. A stock company, known as the Rensselaer County Gold and Silver Mining Company, was incorporated in August, 1866, with a capital of $350,000. Vandercook sold all the stock and then left for parts unknown. After waiting for months for him to return and open his "rich mines in Pittstown," the stockholders have at last discovered how the gold mine was manufactured. The gold and quartz found on the farm and assayed by Dr. Scranton and others, came from Colorado, and was deposited on the farm by Vandercook, who is now at large, after swindling the citizens of Bennington, Waterloo, Lansingburgh and Syracuse to the tune of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, having sold thirty-five thousand shares at ten dollars a share.

THANKSGIVING in Maine, Thursday, Nov. 28.—Same day with Massachusetts.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is clarified and concentrated in such a manner as to render its use more economical and healthy than any other. For culinary purposes it cannot be equalled in the world. A lady who has tried its merits, refuses to try any other. It is much better than soda, and is perfectly healthy. Try it. Grocers and druggists sell it. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York. 31

MAKES OF CIVILIZATION.—Sunday schools newspapers and a liberal use of soap, especially Pyle's O K Soap, which is the greatest improvement in soap of modern times. 'Tis good for the laundry, bath or toilet, and each pound will make three gallons of good soft soap, by simply dissolving in hot water. Sold by grocers everywhere. 25

HOW IT IS MADE.—Distilled from the best of grain and flavored with juniper berries and a choice cordial. All these make Dunster's fine old London Dock Gin. In bottles only. Druggists have it. 28

☞ Good Wine makes good blood. See advertisement of Speer's Wines in another column, —the best for Table, Family and Medicinal Use.

Where are you going? I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell. Has he got Providence River Oysters? Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time. Does he cook them? Yes, any way you desire; fry in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. s24

—Thomas Mallory, the gallant fellow who descended the Hoosac tunnel and shaft at the peril of his life, after the fire of Saturday, to learn the fate of his comrades, lost all his property, consisting of $500 in notes, a gold watch, and other valuables, which were in the building destroyed. The State will lose nothing by the disaster, having leased all its property at the shaft to Dull, Gowan & White, the contractors, who were prosecuting the work, and who will sustain the loss.

— Seven years ago there was not a thorough Republican paper south of Mason & Dixon's line. Now there are in the unreconstructed States alone, over one hundred such newspapers, dailies and weeklies.—They are ably edited and zealously devoted, not only to the advocacy of Republican principles, but to popular education and to the development of national resources.

— A balloon went up at Providence Friday afternoon, and came down in the evening at Norton, Mass., all well.

— Burton Craige, the author of the secession ordinance of North Carolina, has been pardoned by the President.

QUARTER OF A MILLION SAVED A DAY.

One hundred thousand men now labor with good results, who, until they used

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS,

had not done a day's work for years. So these Plasters are the means of increasing the wealth of the nation not less than a quarter of a million a day.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER.

SHRUB OAK, Yorktown, N. Y., Jan 19, 1869.

T. ALLCOCK & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been troubled with a lame back over ten years, so as to be entirely helpless and unable to do any kind of hard work. In the same last I procured one of Allcock's Porous Plasters and wore it 3 weeks when I found my back entirely cured, and was able to mow and cradle as well as ever I could in my best days. STEPHEN VAGELER.

ALLENSTOWN, Penn., April 4, 1866.

Messrs. T. ALLCOCK & Co.—Dear sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side and it cured her in one week. Yours truly,

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office for a second floor of No. 32 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with the pulmonary or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with half a teaspoonful the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of lung disease they are in. He uses his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it can tell accurately how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Hepatic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint.

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver is kept in perfect order, so get the lungs in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will begin to heal; then the cough and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

Local.

☞ On Wednesday last Sheriff Morse conveyed to State Prison: John Stanton, sentenced for two years, for stealing coats from a house in this city; Leonard Burke, sentenced for two years, for larceny from Richard H. Currier. He also conveyed Lowell Fowler to the Reform School, under a five years sentence for breaking and entering; and Sarah Mills, an insane woman, to the asylum, she having burned a barn in Derry.

The Concord Monitor, in mentioning that fifteen persons were sentenced to the State Prison at the late term of the S. J. Court for the County of Hillsborough, premised that the officers of that county must be remarkably vigilant or the people uncommonly bad. As Rockingham County contains five-sixths as large a population as Hillsborough, we suppose the Monitor's hypothesis must be reversed in this instance.

☞ We learn there is to be a grand New England Horse Fair at the Rockingham Trotting Park in this city, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 12th, 13th and 14th. The affair will be managed by an Association of competent and responsible gentlemen, of whom Hon. John H. Bailey of this city is President, and John B. Clarke of Manchester, Secretary.—Ethan Allen, Empress, McClellan and other noted horses, will be present. There's fun ahead.

YANKEE CORN POPPER.—The neatest, most convenient and best article for popping corn is the above, which has recently made its appearance, and may be found at the Agricultural store of Goodwin, Sweetser & Co., in this city. By the rotary motion the corn remains in the bottom until all is popped.

NAVAL.—Master Charles F. Schmitz has been ordered to the Piscataqua.

Master James B. Weans, has been detached from the Piscataqua, and granted sick leave of absence.

Second Asst. Engineer Wm. S. Neal and Acting First Asst. Engineer Charles Cranston have been detached from special duty connected with the Piscataqua, and ordered to experimental duty on board the Contoocook.

Acting Master Joseph Marthon has been detached from command of the Yucca, and placed on waiting orders.

Asst. Paymaster Aaron H. Nelson has been detached from the Yucca, and ordered to settle his accounts.

Acting Ensign George H. Rice has been detached from the Yucca, and granted leave for discharge.

Acting Ensign J. H. Bunting, of the Yucca, has been discharged.

POLICE COURT, Oct. 26.—In the case of Lottie Furbish, charged with theft of $46 belonging to E. D. Coffin, a nol. pros. was entered.

Peter Mullin, a marine, was fined $1 and $3.86 costs, for being intoxicated.

☞ The Horse Fair in Portsmouth next week, will give Exeter and Hampton Falls people a chance to see the splendid new Track here.

☞ The advertisement of Messrs. Somerby offers a rare chance to secure a good Livery stock, old stand, and paying business.

☞ General Sheridan is to leave Boston this (Monday) morning at 6 o'clock, in a special train, and is expected in Portsmouth at a quarter before 8. His stay here will be short, but an hour or two probably—so those who "delight to honor" the true patriot and great soldier must be prompt in their movements. We understand that Mayor Dearborn is in Boston, and will accompany the General down; and the City Government, Military Authorities at the Navy ward and Forts, and the people, will show him all the respect in their power, in so brief a visit.

Telegrams on Saturday afternoon state that Sheridan's stay here will be limited to five minutes.

☞ A telegraphic dispatch of the 26th, to Geo. Gates, notifies him that the order transferring Co. I, 3d U. S. Artillery from Fort Constitution to Fort Winthrop, Boston Harbor, has been suspended until further notice, by order of Gen. Grant. This we think a most judicious order, from the fact that fully one-half of Co. I belong in this immediate vicinity, and that a post which acts as vidette to the guard of so much Government property as does Fort Constitution should not be abandoned.

— Our Consul at Gaspe Basin, under, date of October 17, reports the wreck of the fishing schooner Julia Ann Tilton, of Maine, at Magdalena Islands. Both vessel and cargo are reported a total loss. Of the crew, eighteen hands perished.

— Farmers report the apple crop of Massachusetts better in quality this year than for five years past. Though not so numerous, the apples average each about double the weight they attain in general seasons.

—The Retrenchment Committee has requested the Secretary of the Treasury to suspend Mr. Clark, Superintendent of the Printing Bureau, pending the investigation of his books and the examination of his clerks.

NEW HAMPSHIRE RAILROADS. — A party of gentlemen were in Rochester on Tuesday, from Nashua and other places, looking out a route for the Nashua & Rochester Railroad. It is thought the road will be completed, making a continuous route from Portland to New York. The people of Raymond have taken hold to survey the route across their town. Col. Colley says a survey shall be made across Nottingham forthwith. The people of Barrington will make the survey across that town, and Rochester will do the same. From all the indications, it will not be long after the Portland & Rochester Railroad is completed, before we shall have direct communication with the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, and with Nashua, Manchester and Concord.

The road to Alfred is rapidly being built, and by another season we expect the road through Rochester will be under contract. The fact that the directors of the Boston & Maine Railroad are erecting so large a freight depot in Rochester, indicates that something is up, which the public are not yet acquainted with.—Rochester Courier.

— One of the largest Episcopal churches in St. Louis had the gas turned off on Sunday night, leaving the congregation in total darkness, in consequence of the gas bill remaining over one day unpaid.

— People from England, visiting the Paris Exposition, are said to be accosted at the railway stations by lodging runners, who lead them to out-of-the-way places and rob them.

—At Jersey City, Friday, a locomotive having been detached, was unmanageable, and ran into a train lying on a side track. A man who was standing on a platform of the cars was crushed to death.

— Intelligence has been received from China that a great battle has been fought between the rebellious army of invasion and the Tartar forces of the Emperor of China. The Imperialists were defeated.—The battle took place within 30 miles of Pekin, and that city was in great danger of falling into the hands of the victorious rebels.

—Mrs. Hoffman, the woman who was stabbed in church at Canton, Ohio, on Sunday the 18th inst., by a divorced husband, died on Saturday last. Hoffman bung himself in his cell on Sunday night. He had tried to kill himself by bumping his head against a wall, but failing in this, made a rope from his bed clothing and hung himself to the wall of his cell.

— Counterfeit fifty dollar compound interest notes, issued under the date of February, 1862, have lately made their appearance for the second time, and five have been redeemed at the Treasury Department. These counterfeits are very good imitations of the genuine, and are calculated to deceive, unless subjected to close inspection. The general appearance of the note is good, but upon a careful examination it can be discovered that the lathe work is inferior.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only line between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam

Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, and contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready for laying 200 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$1,031,079 65	$365,349 48	$665,730 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal rates of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $150,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ridges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri Rivers, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,050 per mile, and is pledged to a absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the National enterprise, and by securing its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

Mortgage and Bonds.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for par and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent in all cases, values and liens upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government and private subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued to it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is the foundation upon the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Only half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in Gold.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and time it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving a series of distressing march more and more serious results. Reader, if you would avoid the dangers of a seated Consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That fatal disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences, no one will be supprised to hear, for he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system, by those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no diffuse in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment or which has been so little understood as Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the practice ordinarily adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess to cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had years of experience in treating Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, and Catarrhal disease, he thinks himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My cares have been diseased 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised to cure me, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine, and that he was a skillful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and under his treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed but little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with diseases of the head to consult Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Star street.

WM. CARTLEDGE, JR.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 3, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks at the De Witt House, treating diseases of the Ear, Eye and Throat, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of special endorsement of the Doctor's skill and ability. There are many good reasons why people should look with distrust upon professional gentry, who practice from place to place—But these do not apply to Dr. Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success everywhere he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has visited our city—a feeling in which his numbers who have received the benefit of his specialties, gentlemanly at the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ Dr. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

Up from the South at break of day,
Bringing to Winchester fresh dismay,
The affrighted air with a shudder bore,
Like a herald in haste, to the chieftain's door,
The terrible grumble, and rumble, and roar,
Telling the battle was on once more,
And Sheridan twenty miles away.

And wider still those billows of war
Thundered along the horizon's bar;
And louder yet into Winchester rolled
The roar of that red sea uncontrolled,
Making the blood of the listener cold,
As he thought of the stake in that fiery fray,
And Sheridan twenty miles away.

But there is a road from Winchester town,
A good broad highway leading down;
And there, thro' the flush of the morning light,
A steed as black as the steeds of night
Was seen to pass, as with eagle flight,
As if he knew the terrible need;
He stretched away with his utmost speed;
Hills rose and fell; but his heart was gay,
With Sheridan fifteen miles away.

Still sprung from those swift hoofs, thundering South,
The dust, like smoke from the cannon's mouth;
Or the trail of a comet, sweeping faster and faster,
Foreboding to traitors the doom of disaster.
The heart of the steed and the heart of the master
Were beating like prisoners assaulting their walls,
Impatient to be where the battle-field calls;
Every nerve of the charger was strained to full play,
With Sheridan only ten miles away.

Under his spurning feet the road
Like an arrowy Alpine river flowed,
And the landscape sped away behind
Like an ocean flying before the wind;
And the steed, like a bark with furnace fire,
Swept on, with his wild eye full of fire.
But lo! he is nearing his heart's desire;
He is snuffing the smoke of the roaring fray,
With Sheridan only five miles away.

The first that the General saw were the groups
Of stragglers, and then the retreating troops.
What was he doing? What to do? A glance told him both.
Then, striking his spurs, with a terrible oath,
He dashed down the line 'mid a storm of hurrahs,
And the sight of his face, as he rode, turned back the current of retreat checked its course there, because
The sight of the master compelled it to pause.
With foam and with dust the black charger was gray;
By the flash of his eye, and the red nostril's play,
He seemed to the whole great army to say,
"I have brought you Sheridan all the way
From Winchester down to save the day!"

Hurrah! hurrah for Sheridan!
Hurrah! hurrah for horse and man!
And when their statues are placed on high,
Under the dome of the Union sky,
The American soldier's Temple of Fame;
There will be the glorious General's name,
Be it said, in letters both bold and bright,
"Here is the steed that saved the day,
By carrying Sheridan into the fight,
From Winchester, twenty miles away!"

HORSES IN NEW YORK.—In view of the fact of constantly increasing burdens being imposed on horses and other draft animals, whereby it is estimated that at least ten thousand horses are annually tortured to death in New York city alone, the Executive Committee of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, at a meeting on Monday, resolved that the directors of street railroads be requested to increase the number of horses by which their cars are drawn, and that they, as well as cartmen, teamsters and others, be publicly notified of the intention of the Society to henceforth rigidly enforce the laws, made and provided in this particular, for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

☞ An English author and compiler asserts that he has made one of the most important discoveries of the present age, viz: that of demonstrating the identity of the Great Pyramid of Egypt with the ancient Biblical Tower of Babel; and proving, by conclusive evidence, that the Mosaic Deluge was a local flood, produced by the bursting of an ancient African Lake, the remains of which he points out, and also indicates in detail the cause of the great calamity.

— Le Canadien says it regrets to find that emigration to the United States still continues, and that not only young men go to find new homes, but heads of families, who take several children with them.

The Chronicle.

THE FIREMAN'S DAUGHTER.—Once in a large school, in which the pupils were assembled, and busily engaged in their work, there was a sudden alarm of fire. As usual, a terrible panic immediately ensued. In wild confusion, and with shrieks and cries, the children darted to the doors of the school room, forming there a mass so dense as to render escape absolutely impossible to many. In the struggle to get out, several of them were seriously injured; and one young lady, a teacher, rushed to an open window and jumped out of it. Throughout this scene of confusion, one girl—one of the best-conducted in the school—maintained her self-composure, and remained seated on the bench where she had been when the alarm commenced, without once moving.

The color had, indeed, forsaken her face; her lips quivered, and some tears rolled slowly down her cheeks, but not one cry, not one word, escaped: and there she sat, silent and motionless as a statute, till all danger was declared to be over. After order had been restored, and her companions had been brought back to their places, except those who were too much hurt, or too much frightened, to resume their duties for that day, the question was asked her how it happened that she had been so composed as to sit still, when everybody else was in such a fearful state of fright? Her reply was, "My father is a fireman; and he has told me that, if ever there was an alarm of fire in the school, I must just sit still. I thought of his words, and did as he desired me; and that was what made me stay quiet."—Tract Magazine.

CORRUPTION, (says an exchange), is common, and it is by no means confined to men of any particular party. Hardly a day passes that some evidence is not afforded of the want of good faith in men who have been honored by promotion to places of trust. It is not merely politicians who thus are false to their obligations, but holders of private stations that are valuable are occasionally found wanting in integrity.

Still, we do not agree with those desponding men who argue from these facts that our age is peculiarly corrupt, and that we have degenerated from the virtues of our ancestors.—The same charge that is made against this generation, was made against the last generation, and against all earlier generations. It is a common thing to look back to past times for a period of primitive simplicity, but when we look into the history of those times, we never find that men were remarkable for their integrity, according to contemporary evidence.

Even our revolutionary age, to which we are accustomed to turn as a golden age of all the virtues, does not stand the test of our critical examination. Washington, according to his correspondence, found that rogues were both numerous and active, and that incapable men were anxious to get office, and often were successful in their designs. In the generation that followed the adoption of the Constitution, charges of public and private corruption were as common as they are to-day, allowance being made for the great increase of population, and also for the far greater increase of property, not only in its amount but in its modes.

And so do matters go on, and so much is said of them, that it is natural to suppose there is a great falling off from the old code of morality,—for we know next to nothing of the errors of men in past times; but if we could bring up those times, and see them as they were, it is probable we should find the degeneracy we take for granted has no existence.

TRUE LITERATURE.—Whether one is an eagle or an ox, in the intellectual world, seems to me not to matter much; the essential thing is to have one's place marked there, one's station assigned, and to belong decidedly to a regular and wholesome order. A small talent, if it keeps within its limits and rightly fulfils its task, may reach the goal just as well as a greater one. To accustom mankind to pleasures which depend neither upon bodily appetites nor upon money, by giving them a taste for the things of the mind, seems to me in fact the proper fruit which nature has meant our literary productions to have. When they have other fruits it is by accident, and, in general, not for good. Books which absorb our attention to such a degree that they rob us of all fancy for other books, are absolutely pernicious. In this way they only bring fresh crotchets and sects into the world; they multiply the great variety of weights, rules and measures already existing; they are morally and politically a nuisance.—Joubert.

—A young lady went out with a rather timid beau sleighing one evening; complacently remarking to him that she seldom went a sleighing but she got chaps on the lips. The young man took the hint and chapped.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, at the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, Bonds, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SEVENTY APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON," Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1867.

☞ A Richmond dispatch of Sunday night says, in speaking of the Convention: John L. Marye, Jr. will not be permitted to take his seat, because he held the office of Mayor of Fredericksburg before the war. The Convention will meet early in December.

A handbill offering $2500 for the assassination of Hunnicutt, Underwood & Co. was found on the streets of Richmond Sunday morning. This, it would seem, was intended as an offset to letters of negro Vigilance Committees, ordering certain citizens to leave the city.

[This, like the other part of the same story, is rather poor trash.]

EXPENSIVE.—The Congregational Society in Boston which was established a long time ago on Winter street, and sustained public worship there some twenty years, is erecting a house on the new land west of the Public Garden, which, it is said, will cost not less than $200,000. This in carrying into practice the doctrine that the house of God should be equal, in every particular, to the best habitations of worshippers therein. It is not too much to say of this church, soon to be dedicated, that it is really magnificent. It is of stone, and its interior is surpassingly beautiful.—Ecch.

It does not, however, "carry out" the idea of Jesus, as expressed to those of John's disciples who asked him whether he was the Messiah. His answer was: "The poor have the gospel preached to them."

GARIBALDI AND FRANCE.—The French iron-clad fleet for Rome, left Toulon Saturday morning. Soldiers are also on the move for Rome.

A Florence dispatch of Sunday evening says Gen. Garibaldi has crossed the Roman frontier and is now at the head of 4000 men. His force is disposed for effective operations, and is being marched on Rome from the direction of Monte Rotondo.

HAYTI AND JAMAICA.—Hayti dates to the 9th inst. state that a general revolution is regarded as imminent. Provisions were at famine rates. A motion had been made in the Legislature to permit the return of all exiles, Geffrard included.

Jamaica dates to the 18th inst. state that the Government has refused to sanction the proposed subsidy to a steamship line between New York and the West Indies.—The annual budget shows a deficiency of $250,000.

☞ Gen. Pope's reply to Gen. Grant's telegram relative to the allotment of delegates to the Convention in Georgia has been received. Gen. Pope says he considered the matter thoroughly for two days prior to making the order, but was unable to make a satisfactory appointment of delegates except by division into senatorial districts. The change of delegates asked by the citizens of Georgia in the memorial to the President and Gen. Grant, and heretofore mentioned in these dispatches, will not be granted.

☞ On Saturday night, at Zeria, Ohio, by misplaced switch, a passenger train ran into the freight train. The engine of the passenger train ran under the freight, throwing the caboose upon the wood box. The baggage car was carried directly into the first passenger car. The wreck took fire at once and was partly consumed. One man in the passenger car was disabled and caught in the wreck and was burned to death. His cries were heard, but rescue was impossible. Another passenger had a leg broken, and other persons were injured.

—In a running conversation a few days since in Concord, upon various matters, the very true remark was made that Horace Greeley, however much he gets off the track in the course of a Presidential term, is always right on the home stretch.—Statesman.

True enough, no doubt, and very expressive; but how comes it that our sober-sided friends of the Statesman, who don't see why sporting men should make such a fuss about cutting down the seconds and fractions,—are adopting the slang of the race-course?

☞ On Saturday a boiler explosion took place at Cole's piano manufactory at Weehawken, on the Hackensack plank road, New Jersey. The building was utterly demolished. Mr. Tosse, one of the proprietors, was fatally scalded and four other persons injured. Loss $15,000, partially insured.

IN PENNSYLVANIA, the Union League of Schuyler county held an enthusiastic meeting Saturday night, at which resolutions were adopted naming Gen. Grant for President and Governor Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President.

☞ —Some one exhumed the other day, from the New York Surrogate's office, Tom Paine's will, and shows, by extracts from it, that the author of "Common Sense" and the "Age of Reason" firmly believed in the existence and omnipotence of a God.

Paine, like some other writers who wrote a great deal, no doubt contradicted at one time what he wrote at another time. He is rarely quoted now, and not considered as authority, on any point.

—The Buffalo Express says that the Sabbath is now actually the important market day of the week in the cattle yards of that city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—The Lyceum at Claremont consists of discussions of selected questions—first by appointed disputants, and afterwards by volunteers.

—Some miscreant placed an obstruction on the Concord Railroad track at Thornton's Ferry, Saturday evening, to throw off the express train, but fortunately it stopped to leave a passenger, and was not injured.

—Mr. Leonard Harlow of Cornish, while returning home from his day's work on Tuesday, the 8th inst.—it being his seventy-first birth day—was thrown from his cart near his house, producing a fatal injury of the spinal cord, resulting in paralysis. He died on the third day.

—Mark Clarity of Gorham, went home drunk one day last week and found his wife standing over the cradle. He jumped upon her and beat and bruised her out of identity, and would have killed her but for the presence of mind of a little daughter eight or ten years old, who crept between them and bit his hand until he released his grip on her mother's throat. He was arrested and when his wife was brought before the Justice to testify, she fainted and was carried home.

A CURIOSITY.—Among the points of interest on the route of the Nashua & Rochester Railroad, is Pawtuckaway Pond in Nottingham, owned by the Newmarket Manufacturing Co. It is three miles long, and has an outlet and mills at each end. The stream from one end passes near the line of Nottingham and Raymond to West Epping. The other stream passes out on the other side towards Barrington and unites with the streams from Northwood. These streams, after running independent a dozen miles or so, come together again in the Lamprey river. This interesting pond was visited by the Railroad delegation under the pilotage of Col. Joseph Cilley, the battle-scarred veteran of Lundy's Lane, now near the close of his 77th year. He lost the use of left knee and right eye in that fierce conflict, and now when more than three-score ten and seven years of age, has all the vigor and activity of most men at sixty-five; in fact, some men much younger found it not easy to keep up with the old hero while tramping over the rough hills of Nottingham.—Rochester Courier.

☞ The Dover District (Methodist) Ministerial Association held a session at Haverhill, Mass., Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 23 and 24. Temperance was under discussion the first afternoon. An essay on "The Future of Romanism" was read by Rev. Mr. Knowles, of Lawrence, followed by written remarks from Rev. Mr. Dunning, of the same city, both of startling interest. An essay upon the "Deity of Christ" was read by Rev. Mr. Stubbs, of Dover, N. H. Wednesday evening, a sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Kellogg, of Portsmouth, from Rom. vi. 16. The Presiding Elder, James Pike, was President of the Association.

—Seven years ago at St. Louis merchant caught a burglar in his chamber, but let him go on promise of good behavior. The burglar made his pile during the war, whereas the merchant failed, and a few days ago the former paid his debt of gratitude by loaning the latter $10,000 with which to start in business again.

—Many of the Catholic priests and other clergy of New Orleans have died of the yellow fever this summer. The New Orleans Times speaks enthusiastically of the zeal they show in fulfilling the painful duties imposed upon them in ministering to the spiritual wants of the sick and dying.

— As Mr. Charles E. Dunnels of Newfield, Me., was driving a yoke of half tamed bulls attached to a cart on the 17th inst., in descending a hill, he attempted, as is supposed, to prevent them from running away by stepping in front of them. The team trampled him under foot as it passed over him. He survived only two hours.

— When General Sheridan was in Troy he called at the residence of a private gentleman, and in about an hour after his departure a son and heir made his appearance. The General learned of the incident upon his return to Albany, and thereupon humorously telegraphed the happy parents, "Order your son to the front for duty. He will command the infantry."

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING, Nov. 28.—President Johnson has just issued, under date of Oct. 10, the following proclamation:

In conformity with a recent custom that may now be regarded as established by national consent and approval, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend to my fellow citizens that THURSDAY, the 28th day of November next, be set apart and observed, throughout the Republic, as a day of National Thanksgiving and Praise to the Almighty ruler of Nations, with whom are dominion and power, and who makes peace in His high places.

Resting and refraining from secular labor on that day, let us reverentially and devoutly give thanks to our Heavenly Father for the mercies and blessings with which He has crowned the now closing year. Especially let us remember that He has covered our land throughout all its extent with the greatly needed and very abundant harvests; that He has caused industry to prosper, not only in our fields, but also in our forests; that He has permitted us to multiply our ships upon our lakes and rivers, and upon the high seas, and, at the same time, to extend our iron roads so far into the secluded places of the continent as to guaranty speedy overland intercourse between the two oceans.

He has inclined our hearts to turn away from domestic contentions and commotions consequent upon a distracting and desolating cruel war, and to walk more and more in the ancient way of loyalty, concession and brotherly love.

He has blessed the peaceful efforts with which we have established new and important commercial treaties with foreign nations, while we have at the same time strengthened our national defences, and greatly enlarged our national borders.

While thus rendering the unanimous and heartfelt tribute of national praise and thanksgiving which is so justly due to Him who alone can save, let us fail to implore Him that the same divine protection and care, which we have hitherto so unreservedly and yet so constantly enjoyed, may be continued to our country and our people through all the generations forever.

—On the 17th inst., as Mr. Charles E. Dunnells of Newfield, Me., was attempting to stop his runaway team of half-tamed bulls, he was knocked down, trampled on, and run over. When found he was insensible and lived only two hours.

—Official returns from nearly all the counties of Iowa foot up a Republican majority of 27,000, which will be increased to over 28,000. Their victory is more decided than the Republicans had counted on, 25,000 having been set down as the limit of their majority.

—The Illinois State Board for the equalization of taxes, now in session at Springfield, is in trouble. The first draft gave four million dollars less than the amount needed, and they have assessed Cook county, which includes Chicago, thirty odd per cent. extra.

— Last Friday evening Joseph Merrick of Lowell was intoxicated, and in endeavoring to swallow a large mouthful of tripe he was strangled. A physician was called, but too late to save Merrick. The tripe was afterward taken from the throat and found to weigh about two ounces.

— We learn from a Maine paper that the reported loss of schooner Winona, of Boothbay is believed to be incorrect, as she has been seen since the date when she was reported to have been lost. The vessel capsized is supposed to have been the schooner Alice C. Fox, of Boothbay.

— The Montgomery (Ala) Advertiser advocates the making of a ship canal through the Florida peninsula. Such a canal would be less than a hundred miles long, and would shorten the voyage from New Orleans to New York several days, and be the means of avoiding the dangers of the Florida coast.

☞ The Philadelphia National Refreshment Saloons, where the soldiers from every part of the Union were fed during the late war, were an honor to Philadelphia; and there is a peculiar propriety in the circumstance that Philadelphia should inaugurate a plan for the endowment of a National Institute where the orphans of these same heroes may have a home and receive an education. This is what the Trustees of the Riverside Institute are aiming most successfully to accomplish. Acting under the Charter of the Washington Library Company, incorporated by the State of Pennsylvania, they are offering stock at the low rate of one dollar per share, and will give to each subscriber a beautiful and valuable steel engraving, worth at retail more than the price of the stock, and as an additional inducement will distribute among the stockholders presents valued at $300,000. In the distribution every one has an equal chance to obtain large presents; one is worth $40,000, another $20,000, &c. Who can refuse to do a patriotic and benevolent action on these terms?

MARKS OF CIVILIZATION.—Sunday schools newspapers and a liberal use of soap, especially Fyle's O K Soap, which is the greatest improvement in soap of modern times. To good for the laundry, bath or toilet, and each pound will make three gallons of good soft soap, by simply dissolving in hot water. Sold by grocers everywhere. 25

Two Congressional districts give Democratic, and nine give Republican majorities.—The two districts of Hamilton county show less Republican loss than any other in the State.

TRUTH.—Truth is mighty and will prevail. So will Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus over all others, notwithstanding so many in the trade are trying to imitate it and deceive the public with a spurious article. Our advice is to use no other, try no other, call for no other, and be put off with no other, for we know there is no other as good. It takes less in quantity; it is far superior to alum to use with cream tartar; it is free from all deleterious substances; you can obtain much better biscuits with it than with any other saleratus or with soda; we have tried it and speak from experience. 32

NOT GOLD ONLY,
BUT
RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser from the markets of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the various kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Moscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Moscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

QUARTER OF A MILLION SAVED A DAY. One hundred thousand men now labor with good results, who, until they used had not done a day's work for years. So these Plasters are the means of increasing the wealth of the nation not less than a quarter of a million a day.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER.

SHUB CAH, YORKTOWN, N. Y., May 19, 1860.
T ALLCOCK & Co.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with a lame back over ten years, so as to be entirely helpless and unable to work any of hard work. In June last I procured one o Allcock's Porous Plasters and worelt 3 weeks when I found my back entirely cured, and was able to mow and cradle as well as ever I could in my best days. STEPHEN FUGSLEY.

ALLENSTOWN, Penn., April 4, 1865.
Messrs. T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Dear sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side and it cured her in one week. Yours truly,

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

☞ DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but first thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint

His patients have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver be kept in a perfect order. To get lungs in a healthy condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, and then it will begin to heal; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

Local.

GENERAL SHERIDAN arrived in this city about eleven o'clock Monday, and only stopped here fifteen minutes or so. He did not leave the cars, but stood on the lower step and endured a shaking of hands which was as earnest, and would in time be as firesome as his famous ride on horseback. He came in a splendid special train in charge of Supt. Prescott himself, and drawn by the powerful steam-horse "Conqueror." The General had been expected all along since 8 o'clock; yet enthusiastic multitudes, to the number of 2000 or more, thronged to greet him as one of the Nation's preservers—and the booming of cannon, the stirring music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, and the cheers of loyal people, combined to make up a cordial if not formal reception, in short metre, or meet him.

Prominent gentlemen, City and Railroad officials from this city and along the line of the Road, proceeded to Portland with Gen. Sheridan,—who was received with a salute and escorted to the City Hall. He remained in Portland over night, the courtesies extended him including a dinner, a serenade and a ball. Many buildings in the city were handsomely decorated, and at night "Sheridan" blazed forth in letters of fire over the porch of the Preble House. His party will make a flying visit to Augusta Tuesday morning, and proceed thence to Concord, and leave for Vermont Wednesday. His journey is a complete spontaneous ovation from the loyal people who love and respect him, and many of whom have fought under and with him. He is a fine looking man, and appeared in excellent health and spirits.

The car assigned the General and his staff was one of the finest ever upon an eastern road. Luxurious and elegant sofas, easy chairs and divans took the place of more formal seats; elegant marble tables, bearing vases of flowers and a choice supply of refreshments, were arranged along the sides, and the impression conveyed was more like that received on entering a pleasant parlor than from any traveling equipage.

☞ The fine large dwelling of Mr. Woodbury Seavey, in Rye, (Sagamore) was burned to the ground on Monday about noon. We learn the flames begun in the roof of the addition. Furniture mostly saved. House insured, we hear, in Rockingham Mutual Co.

☞ A dispatch to the Boston Journal says, "In the race at Manchester, Saturday, Woodbury Locke's gray mare Nellie Locke, of Portsmouth, trotted the first heat easily and without a skip in 2:35, distancing Harry Rogers' roan gelding Gipsey Boy, of Bridgewater, and winning the purse of $1000. There was a good attendance."—Nellie is a good one for a 6 year old, and with good luck and judicious handling, she will go down inside 2:30 another year.—The Gipsey Boy is also a good one, and we hope to see them both at the Horse Fair here next week.

MANCHESTER & LAWRENCE RAILROAD.—A dividend of 5 per cent. has been declared by this Road. Stockholders in Portsmouth will be paid their dividends this (Tuesday) morning, at the office of Wm. H. Hackett, from 10 1-2 A. M. to 3 P. M. only. After Tuesday, at Manchester.

☞ We are informed that an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into the North Berwick Bank on Saturday night.—Bricks were knocked away around the door, and the door so sprung that the cashier was unable to gain admission on Monday morning.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. In the month of the present ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,579 01	$86,548 47	$101,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will loan them the sum of $16,000 per mile—$85,000 miles $32,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 12,800 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first liens upon a completed, equipped and running road, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and a sum of money greater than twice the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the privileges, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticeable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds, viz:

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding therefrom the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving in its destructive march more and more serious results. Hearer, if you would avoid the dangers of a seated Consumption, do not neglect a Cold or Catarrh in the head." That vile disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences that one will be suppressed to learn, if he will but reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system, by those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment or which has been so little understood as Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the practice ordinarily adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess to cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had years of experience in treating Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, he thinks he can safely flatter himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My ears have been diseased 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised to cure me, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine, and that he was a skillful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and under his treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed but little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with diseases of the head to consult Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Star road.

WM. CARTLEDGE, JR.
Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 3, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks at the DeWitt House, treating diseases of the Ear, Eye and Throat, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of special endorsement to the Doctor's skill and ability. There are many good reasons why people should look with distrust upon professionals generally, who practice from place to place — but there do not apply to Dr Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success everywhere he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has visited our city—a feeling in which large numbers who have received the benefit of his treatment unite. We trust the Doctor's engagements will permit him to visit Lewiston frequently.

From the Portland Press.

Dr. Carpenter, the Oculist and Aurist, who has been spending several months in practice in this city, has had marked success in the treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, as also of Catarrh in its worst form. He is well versed in the treatment of the diseases he has made his specialities, gentlemanly in the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ DR. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

Morning Chronicle.

A BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.—William IV. expired about midnight, if we remember right, at Windsor Palace. The Archbishop of Canterbury, with other peers and high functionaries of the kingdom, were in attendance. As soon as the "sceptre had departed" with the last breath of the king, the Archbishop quitted Windsor Castle and made his way, with all possible speed, to Kensington Palace, the residence, at the time, of the Princess—already by the law of succession Queen—Victoria. He arrived long before daylight, announced himself and requested an immediate interview with the Princess. She hastily attired herself, and met the venerable prelate in her anteroom. He informed her of the death of William and formally announced to her that she was, in law and right, successor to the deceased monarch. "The sovereignty of the most powerful nation lay at the feet of a girl of eighteen." She was, de jure, the queen of the only realm, in fact or history, "on which the sun never sets." She was deeply agitated at the formidable words, so fraught with blessing or calamity. The first words she was able to utter were these, "I ask your prayers in my behalf."

They kneeled together, and Victoria inaugurated her reign, like the young king of Israel, in olden time, by asking from the Highest, who ruleth in the kingdoms of men, "an understanding heart to judge so great a people, who could neither be numbered nor counted for the multitude."

The sequel of her reign has been worthy of such a beginning. Every throne in Europe has tottered since that day. Most of them have been for a time overturned.—That of England was never so firmly seated in the loyalty and love of the people as at this hour. Queen Victoria enjoys personal influence, too, the heartfelt homage paid to her as a Christian woman, incomparably wider and greater than that of any monarch now reigning.

☞ The Louisville Courier (Rebel) thus comforts itself with the hope that its National Debt will be repudiated:

"In a Government where universal suffrage is tolerated, no debt which imposes such burdens upon masses as ours does, can be secure. It is so much more easy to vote down the debt than to sustain such grinding taxation, that the minds of those who tax and suffer will naturally be frequently directed to the subject."

It seems to us much shorter and simpler than this to say—"The mass of mankind are scoundrels, and will never pay a large debt if they can evade it—and they can repudiate the National Debt — therefore, they will."

The Courier proceeds:

"And especially is this true, when, as in our case, the debt which created the necessity for this taxation was incurred in a war which never did receive their hearty sanction."

The Last War with Great Britain and the Mexican War were profoundly condemned by a very large portion of our people. Did that portion therefore attempt or threaten Repudation? The Courier was bitterly Rebel, and of course condemns the War for the Union. When the People shall elect a Congress and an Executive of kindred sympathies, the Debt will be repudiated.—Tribune.

TEN FOLLIES.—To think that the more a man eats the fatter and stronger he will become.

To believe that the more hours children study the more they learn.

To conclude that if exercise is good for the health, the more violent and exhausting it is, the more good is done.

To imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained.

To act on the presumption that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in.

To argue that whatever remedy causes you to feel better, is "good for" the system, without regard to more ulterior effects.

To commit an act which is felt in itself to be prejudicial, hoping that somehow or other it may be done in your case with impunity.

To advise another to take a remedy which you have not tried yourself, without making special inquiry whether all the conditions are alike.

To eat without an appetite, or continue to eat after it has been satisfied, merely to gratify the taste.

To eat a hearty supper for the pleasure experienced during the brief time it is passing down the throat, and at the expense of a whole night of disturbed sleep, and a weary waking in the morning.

The Chronicle.

THE LATEST FROM THE SONG WRITERS.—[By the "Fat Contributor."]—The man who "Dreamt I dwelt in Marble Halls" has opened a marble quarry, and is doing a thriving business in getting out gravestones.

The author of "Carry me Back to Old Virginia" has opened a livery stable and is carried in his own conveyance wherever he wants to be.

The man who sang "I am lonely since my mother died" isn't quite so lonely now.—The old man married again, and his stepmother makes it lively enough for him.

The author of "Life on the ocean wave" is gratifying his taste for the sea by tending a saw mill. He will be on the water.

The one who gave the "Old Folks at Home" to the world, has taken them to the poor house, as they were getting troublesome.

The author of "Shells of Ocean" is in the clam business.

The man who wanted to "Kiss him for his Mother" attempted to kiss his mother for him, and he gave him a walloping "for his mother."

The one who wailed so plaintively "Do they miss me at Home?" was missed the other day together with a neighbor's wife. He is missed by a wife and seven children.

The author of "Three Blind Mice" has started a menagerie with them.

The man who wrote "Five o'clock in the Morning" found that no saloons were open at that early hour, where he could get his bitters, so he lies in his bed rather later now.

"Give me a Cot in the valley I love" has now got a cot in the infirmary. Mein Cott!

The man who sighed "Take me Home to Die" took Dr. Kerr's System Renovator, and is now a "Fine Ould Irish Gintleman."

"Meet me by Moonlight alone" has left off meat and taken to drink.

The author of "Roll on Silver Moon" has opened a ball alley. Silver moon can't roll on his alley without paying for it.

The disconsolate one who sings "Have you seen my Maggie" has heard of her.—Another fellow informs him through the music store that "Maggie's by my Side."

"I'd Offer thee my Hand" has been sued for breach of promise.

"Oh! Susanna" has settled with her at length and don't owe Susanna any more.

The author of "The Old Armchair" is still in the furniture business.

The one who pleaded "Rock me to Sleep, Mother, Rock me to Sleep," has at length been gratified. His mother, yielding to his repeated solicitations, picked up a rock and rocked him to sleep. He hasn't woke up yet.

The one who asked "Who will care for Mother now?" has finally concluded to take care of the old woman himself, as no one else seems inclined to.

WELL INVESTED.—Many years ago, several ladies of Concord, N. H., the Statesman says, agreeably to a custom, sanctioned by the American Board of Foreign Missions, caused a child in Batticotta—one of the missionary stations of the Board—to be named for the then pastor of the First Congregational Church in that city, paying a small sum for the boy's support. Mrs. Saunders, who has been in the United States on a visit, and sailed from Boston on the 15th inst., on her return to India, says the heathen child is somewhat advanced in years, and is a Government interpreter.—He is in high social position, and has an interesting son and daughter, the former being a well educated physician, and at the head of a hospital in Batticotta. Thus the small sum of money, appropriated more than fifty years ago, has realized the promise, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, and it shall return after many days."

—"Mixologist," is the name applied by the Humboldt (Nevada) Register to bar-tenders.

—A voting machine is one of the inventions of the nineteenth century, and a patent has been applied for at Washington. The machine invented is intended to facilitate the taking of the yeas and nays in public bodies, If it succeeds it will be a death blow to the legislative dodge of killing time by calling for the yeas and nays.

—The Old Guard, organ of the Democratic party in New York city, declares that "Southern society, or so called slavery, is right, and mongrelism, or so-called freedom, is wrong." Very well; we are glad the copperheads have put themselves so squarely on the record. If the American people ever march under a banner inscribed "Freedom is wrong," it will be a sight to make angels weep.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1867.

VIRGINIA.—A Richmond dispatch of Saturday says:

The official returns of the late elections indicate the election of twenty Conservative and sixty Radicals; eighteen of the latter are colored men. Sixty five counties give 70,777 for, and 44,950 against a Convention. A number of counties are yet to be heard from. The polls closed in Richmond at one o'clock Thursday morning, with a majority of 406 for Hunticutt.

J. H. Gilmer, a prominent lawyer of Richmond, has lodged with Gen. Schofield a formal protest against counting votes received after sunset Wednesday. He holds that the clause of the Supplement bill, which provides that twenty days of public notice shall be given of the time of holding the election, limits the General to the time designated in his order. He also alleges shameless frauds and cowering of Conservative voters by the colored police in the employ of Col. Rose, the Superintendent of the election.

Considerable excitement is caused by the fact that two citizens of Richmond,—one a prominent tobacco manufacturer, have been ordered by a vigilance committee of colored men, to leave the city in forty-eight hours. Their offense was opposition to the Radical ticket.

[There is something slightly sensational about the latter statement, as to the offense. In other words, it sounds a little like a falsehood.]

There is an outcry about the home of Washington, Jefferson and Madison subject to negro control. The truth is, by the registration in Virginia, the white voters have fourteen thousand majority. How does it happen, then, that the ticket supported by the colored men has succeeded in obtaining a majority of the Convention? It must be that many whites voted with the negroes, which would show, not a contest of races; or that a larger proportion of whites stayed away from the polls, in which case they have themselves to blame for the result.—As a fact, there was the operation of both these contingencies. Whites and blacks united in support of the Union ticket, and the Conservatives stood on their dignity or their laziness, and largely absented themselves from the polls. A local conservative organ admits that "at least twenty-five per cent. of the registered white voters have declined to vote."

Under these circumstances, the whinings of these absentees over the result will receive little sympathy, much less their threats.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Maryland Committee closed their investigation on Monday, and on November 13 will make their full report to the Judiciary Committee of the House. A majority of the committee, it is understood, are of opinion that neither Delaware nor Maryland have State governments strictly republican in form.

As there are generally two sides to all Washington news of a political nature, it is but just to say that Gen. Dent, the brother-in-law of Gen. Grant, denies that the editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Era had a conversation with Gen. Grant on the Presidency and politics, the substance of which was telegraphed. The editor in question reasserts and proposes at once to publish the conversation. Gen. Grant is absent from the city. [It is quite probable that the "editor in question" does not tell the truth.]

The Special House Committee appointed to investigate the workings of the Pay Department, assembled in their rooms at the Capitol Monday morning. Several witnesses were examined relative to the dismissal of clerks in that department, a charge having been preferred by one of the clerks of the disloyalty and incompetency of his fellow employees, who were thereupon removed, subsequent to which he was himself removed. [A proceeding eminently Johnsonian.]

TEMPERANCE.—It is very clear now that Massachusetts will declare strongly against the present prohibitory law at its coming election. The reaction in that direction has been very marked within a few weeks. Many prominent Republicans who have heretofore sustained the prohibition system, are now ready to modify it. It is manifest that the party interest no longer lies in sustaining or enforcing it, or trying to enforce it, but rather in the opposite direction.—Springfield Republican.

It is never so sure, counting votes, until after election. For our part, we don't believe rum is gaining in Massachusetts. Parties and men may go down; but the Temperance question,—including the Temperance Laws—is of more consequence than all others in the land, local or national.

☞Hon. Charles A. Shaw of Biddeford has bought the Saco Democrat, and is to greatly enlarge and improve it, and proposes to issue a Daily also. He is erecting a new four-story building in Biddeford for the office—and he will be as hard to beat in this line, as he has proved himself in many others.

☞There were 10 deaths from yellow fever in New Orleans on Sunday, and 12 interments for the 24 hours ending at 5 o'clock Monday morning in Memphis. There were 12 interments from the same cause in Mobile for the two days ending Monday morning.

— The five children who were unaccountably missing in New York last week, at Fulton Ferry, went astray in the street, were picked up, carefully attended to and restored to their parents on Sunday.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Fremont next Sunday.

—— On Monday night there was another attempt to throw the Northern Cars off the track, near Thornton's Ferry.

—— John Hale, a noted old horse thief, was arrested at Hopkinton Tuesday morning, with a horse and buggy which he stole from Augusta, Me. He has probably ruined the horse.

—— The annual session of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. of Good Templars is to be holden in Nashua on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 13 and 14. In connection with which it is expected there will be a public meeting, when prominent speakers from various parts of the State will be present and address the citizens of Nashua on the temperance question.

☞The farmers at Durham and other places in that vicinity, find good employment just now with their teams in drawing out the roots of the common barberry. They are washed and dried, and used as coloring material. It produces a bright, durable yellow, and is in great demand. [So says an item in the papers, and some seem to think it a new discovery, that barberry roots are a good dye-stuff. But they have been so used about here, for a century; and one man, who lived in Portsmouth, made it his sole business, in 1812-15, to dig and dry these roots. Barberry bark was also extensively used by the women, who used to spin and weave to clothe their households, and to provide bedding,—for many years before and some years after the above dates.]

ROME AND GARIBALDI.—Contradictory dispatches come to us from Italy. It appears that there has been fighting within half a mile of Rome. One item says that the Garibaldians, 1000 strong attacked Viterbo Oct. 24, and set one of the gates on fire, but were repulsed with heavy loss. Another item claims a great victory won by Garibaldi near Monte Rotonda, last Friday. The Pope asks all his bishops throughout the world to order prayers in their churches against the Revolutionists. It is said Garibaldi has 10,000 men, or more.—French troops are moving against him.

— The Universalist Society of Cavendish, Vermont, has employed a Miss Damon to occupy its pulpit.

— Use the best language in your common conversation at home, and you will soon acquire the habit of using it on all occasions.

— Every county in Nebraska, so far as heard from, has been carried by the Republicans—Douglas, Otoe, Platte, Cumming and Dakota. The Copperheads last year had majorities in every one.

— The owner of a piano forte factory near New York city hired a cheap unknown engineer recently, and on Saturday afternoon this intelligent overseer of the machinery steamed up to 200 pounds, at which point a "mysterious explosion" occurred.

—In Providence, on Sunday, Horace M. Peck, Jr., was taking a pistol from his pocket, when by some means the weapon was discharged, and the ball passed through the region of the heart, inflicting a wound that proved fatal in a few moments.

— Thomas Hunton, of Fauquier, Va., was shot and almost instantly killed on Tuesday last, election day, at New Baltimore, by a man named Fletcher, whom he accused of having acted as a Yankee spy in the war.

— An elderly man named Bowen died in Apponaug, R. I., Sunday night, in consequence of injuries received by being run over by a horse and carriage Friday evening in the streets of that village. His scull was fractured.

—At Salisbury, the first who stepped up to shake hands with General Sheridan, was an honest looking laboring man, who said to the General, "I would like to, if you will shake hands with a teamster." "I used to drive oxen myself once," replied the General, laughing and extending his hand.

— As an evidence of the extraordinary growth of vegetation in Florida, it is mentioned that a single tomato plant, spreading like a banyan tree, has entirely covered a bed eighteen feet square. It had produced about six bushels of fruit up to the latter part of August, and was still producing, a bushel or more being on it sometimes at once.

— Gen. Pope's order, calling a reconstruction convention for the 5th proximo, in Alabama, gives the official total of registered voters in that State as 165,813, of which number 95,866 voted upon the question of Convention, 90,283 for, and 5583 against it. From other sources it appears that, of the ninety-seven delegates chosen to form this convention, seventy-eight are white and nineteen black.

—Jealousy on the part of the husband is said to be the cause of the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Senator Sumner. The lady last winter formed an intimate acquaintance with an attache of the Prussian embassy at Washington, which displeased Mr. S., and he requested the Prussian government to recall the secretary, which was done; and the lady resented the imputation upon her honor, separated from her spouse and went to Europe.

☞At New York, Oct. 28, Oswald Mann and Edward O'Rourke, compositors, were brought before Justice Hogan, charged with having interfered with employees of the World office, by attempting to force them to knock off work, unless the proprietors of that journal ceased to supply matter for publication in the Brooklyn Eagle. Justice Hogan said that the accused had no right to interfere with work at the World office, or congregate around the building for the purpose of intimidation. If they had any business they had a right to go there, but if they wanted redress they should seek it in another way as provided by law. There was a large attendance of printers in court, and when Mr. Charles S. Spencer was leaving he was cheered, for intimating his intention of bringing the case before the Civil Court.

HURRICANE ON THE RIO GRANDE.—A letter from El Cowes, Oct. 12, says: "The hurricane was the most terrible in the memory on this frontier. A perpetual bombardment for a year could hardly have done as much damage as has happened from this night's storm. Twenty-six persons were killed at Matamoras, and ten were killed or wounded at Brownsville. At Brazos, so far as is known, twelve persons perished.—The schooners Ella and Kedash were blown ashore. Only two houses were left standing at Clarksville, and none at Bagdad.—The loss of life at the latter place is not known; 90 of the inhabitants escaped by going on board a vessel, which rode out the storm. The rest have perished. In Matamoras 1500 houses and huts were blown down. The greatest distress and want prevail at all points, and appeals have been made for relief. Out of seven steamers, only two can be repaired."

ITALY.—A Florence dispatch of the 26th says the soldiers of King Victor Emanuel refuse to fight against Garibaldi.

The cause of national unity in the King's Government is gaining ground. It is now considered certain that a thoroughly radical Ministry will be formed, whose policy will be devoted to making Rome the capital of Italy.

FATAL COLLISION AT SEA.—About 2 o'clock Sunday morning the sloop David Sands was run into by the steamer Leo, from Savannah. The sloop was struck on her starboard side, and sunk in a few minutes. Her crew consisted of five men, three of whom, viz: James Hazzard, part owner, Samuel Goodman and Thomas Charity (colored), were drowned.

— Sales of real estate belonging to Hon. John Wentworth were made in Chicago last week to the amount of $400,000.

Bread, biscuit, cakes and puddings, going through the process of baking, change all the substances of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus into Carbonic Acid Gas, which then passes away, so that there is not a particle of it remaining in the food in which it is used, thereby making it perfectly wholesome and healthy, and peculiarly adapted to weak stomachs and dyspeptic persons. Grocers and druggists sell it. 33

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

Dr. I. I. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 3, 1860.
Dr. J. ALLCOCK, Sir:—I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the profession of medicine from the very best M. D's; but truth prompts me to say that your Plaster have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

☞ DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 38 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to consult him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is from Ulceration, Bronchial Irritation or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint.

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and can make it convenient it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver is kept in perfect order. To get lungs in a healthy condition the stomach must be cleansed, and when appetite known to be created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will begin to heal; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

Local.

☞ A paper in a neighboring city, referring to a candidate (or rather suggested nominee) for Mayor of Portsmouth—whom we shall never name for that office, says: "If any Republican is to have the office, he would be our choice; but what seems to be rather bad for his prospects in that direction, is that Portsmouth is going Democratic by a large majority at the next election."

Since everybody else is trying their hand at nominating Mayors,—we shall just say that we are satisfied with the present incumbent, (and usually have been, whoever he was) and should be willing for almost any who have occupied the chair, to resume it. As to the Democrats, we presume they will renominate Mr. Frank Jones if he will permit it—and we suppose the chief objection of any would be on temperance grounds. But we don't see but the rumsellers have things as they please now; and hardly know what they could ask or expect more or better—or rather worse, under any administration.

☞ The alarm of fire Tuesday afternoon—about the laziest we ever heard—was caused by—by—well, by folks hollering "fire," as usual, and then the bell ringing. The occasion or reason for their so doing is given elsewhere.

☞ The new ship Yo Semite, launched from Tobey & Littlefield's yard on Tuesday afternoon, while being taken down to Pier Wharf, tripped her anchor and was swung in by the tide so that her bowsprit struck the old house in the rear of Bow street known as "the pigeon-coop." The building, which was occupied by several families, was made a perfect wreck, and several women therein were more or less injured. The unceremonious upsetting of the house caused it to take fire from a stove and an alarm was given, but the fire was speedily extinguished.

The steamer Pioneer had been engaged to take the ship to the wharf, but at a late hour word was sent that she could not come, as no engineer could be obtained. It is supposed the bottom of the ship is somewhat damaged from contact with the rocks which make off from the point on which the building destroyed was situated.

"Some at the bridal,
Some at the tomb."

The record of the marriage of one sister and the death of another, in our paper this morning—both well known in this city, of which they were former residents,—brings forcibly to mind the former couplet from the beautiful old song. We learn that it was the desire of the sick sister that the wedding should not be postponed on her account; but she was very low at the time of its occurrence, and buried ere the end of the brief wedding trip.

☞ The editor of the Salem Gazette was with Sheridan in his last triumphal ride—the one on the Railroad we mean—and says:

All along the route the people opened their eyes in wonder and gazed upon the decorated train as it moved along. By the time it reached Portsmouth every occupant of the cars had become unalterably convinced that there was no more judiciously managed road in existence than the Eastern. The refreshments were duly honored before reaching Portsmouth, and, even if those on board had not been previously known as total abstinence men, there would have been some consolation to knowing that any indulgence would have occurred with in the limits of New Hampshire manner, and consequently not in contravention of the laws of either Maine or Massachusetts.

The people were alive in Portsmouth, and commenced exercises by firing a salute. A band of music played "Hail to the Chief," and the people then closed in without further ceremony. Unlike the people of other places, they so arranged things that the crowd passed on by the train, shaking hands as they went. It was a severe ordeal for the poor General; but the man who was never down hearted in the Shenandoah Valley, suffered no tribulation to discourage him at the hands of the Portsmouth people. The band played "Yankee Doodle" and the "Red, White and Blue," and once more the train, with a single stop at Kittery, went speeding on its way.

☞ The house of Mr. Woodbury Seavey was insured for $2500—not half its value.

☞ Edward P. Weston, the walking man, was to start from Portland Tuesday noon, to walk to Chicago in thirty consecutive days, exclusive of Sundays, for a stake of $10,000. During some one day he must walk one hundred miles or lose six tenths of the stake. He is, by the programme, to leave North Berwick this (Wednesday) morning, at 4 o'clock, and travel through Eliot, Portsmouth, Hampton, Seabrook, Newburyport, Ipswich and Beverly, and arrive at Salem at 11 o'clock, P. M.—65 miles. Between Friday morning at 5, and Saturday morning at 5, he is to walk 100 miles. And he must average 50 miles a day, or get nothing. Muddy roads and stones are rather against him.

☞ Hall's Journal of Health for November contains a great many curious items, miscellaneous rather than medical.

IN MEMORIAM.

The late HOWARD M. SOMERBY, only son of Capt. John F. Somerby.

It is a fitting theme for lamentation when death marks the object of virtue, at any period, for its victim; and especially may the mourner view the fatal shafts flung into the vitals of hopeful youth, as it heart uncontaminated by the rude and tainted elements of the world.

The subject of this obituary was endowed with traits of character worthy of high respect and emulation; and now that time has, in some degree, softened the keen anguish natural to doting parents and a devoted young wife at so great a loss, a friend would here attempt to pourone feeble offering of love to the memory of the kindred, and perhaps gratify numerous acquaintance by the reiterated sentiment that a character adorned with the glowing flowers of integrity, sobriety, amiability, and education, cannot at once be buried in the abyss of forgetfulness. As a son, none were more uniformly dutiful than Howard; a devoted and amiable husband and friend, whose intrinsic merit won for him a large catalogue of names on the page of appreciating friends. By the course of Providence, an superior medical skill, and hearts of deep anxiety with ever ready hands proffering all human assistance, were at last unavailing. By Divine command the loved jewel was required. The beautiful temple here made desolate is left to decay. The living spark, that tenderly illumined the inner chambers of the fair citadel, only went out to become a glowing star in the azure courts above. We feel it not for him—faith and reliance on the Divine promise of a glorious immortality, the bereaved kindred might become as broken reeds in the midst of busy life.

Then comes a soothing voice upon the air,
With angel whispers banishing despair;
It falls in mercy on the father's ear,
And bids the wife and mother dry the tear.

That voice is from the tomb of God's great love,
And calls the thoughts to nobler scenes above—
Where the flown spirit of a generous youth
Roams in eternal bowers of love and truth.

He's crossed the turbid river, dark and wide,
And safely landed on the other side,
Where saints in glory sing in chorus nigh,
And loved eternal lands from every eye.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the most important LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, and the commercial and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the far West, and will unite and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, where further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimates. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,579 64	$86,5847	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than one hundred miles of road. This is a mutual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 855 miles $28,512,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—not including as absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a Joint Investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GREAT GRANT IS IN EFFECT. INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Roads granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad. No Bonds have been issued to aid intermediate subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than all other deductions. The First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the guarantees, safeguards and guarantees of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several notable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the only bonds which unite altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—They secure the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in Gold.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend the Bonds to Investors, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

There are undoubtedly hundreds in this vicinity who are suffering from Chronic Catarrh and its unhappy consequences, who are not aware of the danger to which they are exposed. The symptoms of this disease are usually so mild at first, as to excite little or no attention on the part of the sufferer, and thus it is allowed to pass on from one stage to another, involving in its destructive march more and more serious results, whereas if you would avoid the dangers of a seated Consumption, do not neglect a "Cold or Catarrh in the head." That this disease is so fatal in its tendency and productive of such unhappy consequences, no one will be surprised to learn, if he will reflect that every breath of air that is inhaled into the system of those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, must pass over an unhealthy and diseased membrane, and the air in passing over these putrid and ulcerated surfaces, must of necessity imbibe the most noxious and deadly properties, and in this manner every breath of air you take into the lungs is converted into a poisonous agent of death. There is no disease in the entire catalogue of human ills, the treatment of which has been more unsuccessful, than Chronic Catarrh, and hence from the practice ordinarily adopted by the profession, there is little to hope.

DEAFNESS,

Weak eyes, noises, pains, and disagreeable sensations in the head, usually attributed to Neuralgia, frequently arise from Catarrh.

Dr. C.'s success in treating Catarrh has been almost wonderful. He does not profess to cure every case that may be presented to him, but having had 25 years of experience in treating diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, and Catarrh alone, he thinks himself better qualified to perform cures in many cases than physicians who have not enjoyed similar opportunities.

HOME TESTIMONIALS.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

Testimonial of Mr. Wm. Cartledge, Jr., of Portsmouth.

My cars have been diseased 34 years, and I had become so deaf as to be unable to hear unless addressed very loudly close to my ears. I have been doctored by physicians of Europe, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, who all promised to cure me, but did not benefit me in the least, and I despaired of help, as physicians in this city pronounced my case a hopeless one; but reading in my paper of Dr. Carpenter's wonderful cures in Maine, the State of his residence, after writing and visiting Maine, and ascertaining that his cures were genuine, and that he was a skillful and reliable physician, I was induced to place myself under his care and submit to the treatment. I have recovered my hearing so I can hear distinctly when addressed but little above the ordinary tone of voice, and am still improving. I would advise all persons afflicted with diseases of the head to consult Dr. Carpenter and obtain relief. Shall be pleased to converse with any person interested, at my residence on Morning Street.

WM. CARTLEDGE, Jr.
Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 3, 1867.

From the Lewiston Journal, May 24th, 1867.

Dr. Carpenter, who has been in this city for a few weeks at the De Witt House, treating diseases of the Ear, Eye and Throat, will leave for Bath in a few days, but we cannot forbear adding a word of special endorsement to the Doctor and his skill and ability. There are many good reasons why people should look with distrust upon professionals generally, who practice from place to place—but these do not apply to Dr. Carpenter, who confines his practice to the leading cities and towns in Maine, and has met with great success everywhere he has practiced. He is a reliable and skillful specialist, and a physician of reputation and honor. We are glad that the Doctor has visited our city—a feeling in which large numbers who have received the benefit of his treatment unite. We trust the Doctor's engagements will permit him to visit Lewiston frequently.

From the Portland Press.

Dr. Carpenter, the Oculist and Aurist, who has been spending several months in practice in this city, has had marked success in the treatment of diseases of the Ear, Ear and Throat, as also of Catarrh in its worst form. He is well versed in the treatment of the diseases he has made his specialties, gentlemanly in the treatment of patients, and prompt in the discharge of all pecuniary obligations.

☞ DR. CARPENTER, during the past few years, has confined his practice to the principal cities and towns in Maine, the State of his residence, but having received many solicitations from persons in Portsmouth and vicinity, he has been induced to visit Portsmouth a few weeks professionally.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The Richmond Whig, in its conclusions upon the general result of the Virginia elections, states that the main facts are these: That the Convention has been carried by not less than twenty thousand majority; that the negroes voted for it with an almost total unanimity; that probably five per cent. of the whites voted against it; that the Convention is radical by from ten to twenty majority; that a number of negroes, not less, perhaps, than twenty, are elected, and that the negroes, with only very rare exceptions, voted for the Radicals. By the apportionment, it was in the power of the negroes, unassisted, to have elected fifty-nine of the one hundred and five members of the Convention. This would give them a majority of thirteen.—They have, in no solitary case that is known, failed to exercise their power. On the contrary, they have gained two delegates in Bedford, which, taken from the one side and added to the other, give them a presumptive majority of seventeen.

ALLIED RECONSTRUCTION PLANS.—The Memphis Appeal, edited by Albert Pike, who, by the way, has recently been North, thus gives the political creed upon which the democratic party North and South will rally:

"A Government of white men for white men, and no political miscegenation.

Loyalty to the Union of the States; fidelity to the Constitution in its true intent and meaning; obedience to and maintenance of all laws, State and national, constitutionally enacted.

Restoration of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been dissolved; no prosecutions or disqualifications for political opinions; for the past, oblivion of offences; for the present and future, Union, peace, law and order.

Perpetual assurance to all freemen of the African race of all the civil rights of freemen."

Underneath the varnish of buncombe expressions it will be seen that this platform means the enfranchisement of all rebels, the disfranchisement of all freedmen, the making of rebellion honorable and the undoing of all past legislation in the interest of equal rights and loyal supremacy. If the people think that reconstruction on any basis like this is perferable to that now restoring order and prosperity at the South, they can say so by their endorsement at the polls of the party associates of this Albert Pike. But if they want the men who saved the Union to reconstruct it, they will say that by voting for such men.

TEMPERANCE IN 1654.—The Massachusetts House of Deputies in 1654, according to a law passed by the body which preceded them and by agreement with Lieut. Philips were privileged to sit in the new Court chamber, and be dieted with breakfast, dinner and supper, with wine and beer between meals, with fire and beds, at the rate of 3s. per day—so many as take all their diet as aforesaid at the said house—but such as only dine, and not sup, to pay 18d. for their dinners, with wine and beer betwixt meals, and wine is intended a cup to each man at dinner and supper, and no more."

☞ In a recent article in the N. Y. Tribune regarding the next Presidential candidate of the Republican party, a remark was made in which many publishers of papers can sympathise; namely, that it is much easier to be in a minority, and find fault, than in the majority, and bear the responsibility of public administration; easier to sit still, and be free from care, than tug and sweat in defence of the party of which your journal is a supporter.

THE MEANING OF SONG GOES DEEP. Who is there that, in logical words, can express the effect music has on us? A kind of inarticulate, unfathomable speech, which leads us to the edge of the infinite, and lets us for a moment gaze into that!—Carlyle.

— An English life-boat association has saved over sixteen thousand lives since it was started a few years ago.

— A post intended to say, "See the pale martyr in a sheet of fire," instead of which the painter made him say, "See the pale martyr with his shirt on fire.

— In Dundee, Scotland, an old tombstone dating 1628, bears this wholesome sentence from Seneca: "It is uncertain at what place death awaits thee. Wait thou for it at every place."

— "I saw a lady wrapped up in a shawl that she would not take $600 for," said Smith to Jones; "I so beat that all hollow," retorted Jones, "for I saw a lady so wrapped up in her baby that she wouldn't have taken $600,000 for it."

— What the Democrats would do, as a Retrenchment and Reform party, if restored to power, is seen in their administration of the affairs of New York City. It is the most costly, corrupt, and, at the same time, inefficient city government on the globe.

— Frederick R. Thomas of Brattleboro', Vermont, while walking out last Sabbath near Bald Hill, espied a lynx which his dog had driven up a tree. Thomas returned, got his gun, went back and shot down a rather formidable brute measuring, when stretched out, 4 feet 10 inches; weight 19 1-2 pounds.

BOY SINGING.—A Dr. E. Andrews, who writes from London to the Advance, has attended church at St. Albans and All Saints, and heard intoning and singing.—Intoning he calls "a horrid drawl, devoid of melody or expression—a most doleful kind of chant." He says:

"One of the most provoking things is the way they murder both their music and their reading. The music is confined to a choir of boys, who all sing one part. Now, as every musician knows, a boy's voice is not a true soprano. To be sure, it has the soprano key, but not the 'timbre.' It lacks volume and sweetness, and always carries a reedy sound, the faint trace of the coming clarionet tone of a man's voice. For that reason the boy choir, unless it is drowned by the organ, always pipes out, in a sharp, squeaking tone, like a colony of katydids on a tree. It makes one angry to hear that slender squeak coming out in passages where the ear craves the volume and glory of a woman's voice."

HORSITES.—A new sect, under this old Saxon title, appears to be making some progress in the world. The predominant question is, whether Man or the Horse was first created. Those who believe the horse pre-Adamite, of course consider him of a little more importance than after-creations. Ports. Journal.

—An Irishman applying for a license to sell spirits, being questioned as to his moral character and fitness for the trust, replied: "Och, an its there ye are; sure an its not much of a character a man nades to sell whiskey!"

— The Paris Rothchilds are said to have made a hundred thousand dollars, at the Bourse, by getting the news of Garibaldi's arrest an hour and a half in advance of the government.

—Mr. George S. Chambers of Philadelphia was lately invited to become pastor of the Second Reformed Presbyterian Church of New York. The presbytery, however, at the recent meeting in Brooklyn, refused to ordain him, mainly because he believed it was not sinful to sing hymns of human composition as a part of divine worship.

— At Lexington, Pa., the other day, a man was engaged in building a bridge. A clergyman happening along, he remarked to him that he was going to see the bridge up. "Yes," said the minister interrupting him, "if Providence permits." The reply was, "D—n Providence," and at that instant a rope broke and down came a stone that was being lifted to its place, and crushed the man to death instantly.

— It is stated that President Johnson wants Pendleton and Thurman of Ohio invited to take the stump in New York, but the ruling Democratic clique in the latter State object. They also want Johnson to make wholesale changes now; but he says: "Wait until after the election." Hence there is not the best of feeling between them.

— A clerical gentleman called Friday morning at the East Street School, Providence, and took exception to the white and black children sitting upon the same benches; asked the teachers how they would like to have colored husbands; undertook, unsolicited, to make an address to the scholars, and otherwise made himself very disagreeable. He is a Catholic Priest from Pennsylvania, and is insane. On this account he was not prosecuted.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!

URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 48 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and sell in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1867.

GEN. GRANT has returned to Washington. He denies the main features of the conversation attributed to him by Bard, editor of the Atlanta Era, and the latter now declares that he does not propose to publish an account of the interview, and so assured Gen. Grant. The whole thing reduces itself into an attempt on the part of said editor, or his friends, to get a little newspaper notoriety by giving an exaggerated statement of what was really a very brief and unimportant "interview with Gen. Grant. [So says a special dispatch, and it turns out, as we suggested, that the story was a falsehood. It appears also that Mr. Bard is not a man very likely to be a confidant of Gen. G.]

ITALY.—Particulars have been received of the engagement at Monte Rotonda. They represent that the fighting was obstinate on both sides. At one time during the day, when reinforcements for the Papal troops arrived on the field, it appeared doubtful, but at the end of the conflict Gen. Garibaldi, who led his brave volunteers in person, was completely successful. He immediately followed up his victory and defeated the soldiers of the Pope, who fell back on Rome and were vigorously pursued.

At the latest accounts from the south Garibaldi, with all his army, estimated at from ten to twelve thousand strong, had advanced to the outer fortifications of Rome.

On the 27th the King of Italy issued a proclamation, which commences by saying that the country is in great danger. He declares that war against France and her probable allies would be impossible. He denounces the Garibaldians for usurping the right to make war, which is the prerogative of the King. He says the nations of Europe must know that Italy is no disturber of the public order, and that the flag raised against the head of the Catholic Church is not his. He commands the insurgents to return to their allegiance, and exhorts the people to sustain their King and preserve the national honor, and concludes by promising that when tranquility is restored, Italy with France will settle the Roman question.

ALMOST A DISASTER.—The train which was conveying Gen. Sheridan and party from Portland toward Augusta, on Tuesday morning, narrowly escaped a serious accident. It was run through a dense fog, through which the engineer could not see more than two rods ahead. Just beyond Stockton the engine struck a hand car on the track, and at the tremendous rate of speed at which it was travelling, hurled the hand car in fragments from the track. Two iron bars in the hand car, used by the workmen, were thrown into the air—one of them passing through the smoke stack of the engine, and both tailing through the baggage car of the train,—narrowly missing the occupants. The engineer states that the train would undoubtedly have been thrown from the track had it been travelling on a curve, and the consequence to the country can well be imagined. The lamp in front of the engine was hurled off, and other parts of the front of the engine torn in pieces.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Rochester, Saturday evening last, Mr. Amos Bradley of Barrington, with his son about ten years of age, was crossing with his horse and wagon the track of the Dover & Winnipiseogee Railroad, when the train struck them and killed both instantly. Mr. B. was about 75 years of age.

—— The News says the Wolfeborough Railroad fever has not entirely abated.—The preliminary survey shows the route is not only practicable but for the most part a cheap one to build. The Eastern Road folks are waking up to the importance of the road to them, in order to secure a portion of the mountain travel. And there is little doubt that if the citizens of Wolfeborough and Brookfield will but take such interest as the importance of the enterprise demands, it will be put through in short order via Wolfeborough and the Lake.

☞ At the great fire at Aleppo, which took place five weeks ago, no fewer than 600 shops and houses were destroyed: 5000 families (persons) have been reduced to ruin; and the total loss sustained is £100,000.—During the progress of the fire, which presented a most fearful sublime spectacle, the muezzin, remained on their towers, chanting their prayers as though nothing had happened, and, while calling upon God to help them, moved not a muscle to help themselves. There seems to be little doubt that the fire was caused by incendiaries, inasmuch as it broke out at several points simultaneously.

☞ On Tuesday, in Connecticut, a train on the Naugatuck Railroad, from Bridgeport met with an accident at Ansonia, with the accident at Ansonia, with the accident at Ansonia, with the

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. J. F. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

PARKVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the profession of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more relief than all the medicine I ever have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and sooth and quiet the nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

Local.

☞ Weston, the walking man from Portland for Chicago, arrived at North Berwick Tuesday night at 12 o'clock, having missed his road twice, and gone three miles out of his way. He is accompanied by a two-horse team, in which we suppose are his trainer and the judge of the race. He arrived in Portsmouth about 11 o'clock Wednesday, and dined and stopped at the Franklin House for a couple of hours. A great crowd collected to see him start off again. He is a fine looking man, and weighs 123 pounds; and wore dark clothes and a glazed cap—one of the most passable headdresses.

☞ The publishers of the Exeter News Letter are now at their business, to be sure; but they ought to know better than to let that anonymous scribbler, who pretends to write from Hampton Falls, belie and insult men of integrity and responsibility, simply because they happen to be interested in a Fair where that paper and their dirty correspondent have no stock and no interest. The News Letter's publication of the first "Hampton Falls" libel, was an outrage on decency; and they have followed it up well, or ill, but seem to be getting tired of the abusive game—which there was no excuse for their ever beginning.

DISCHARGED ON HABEAS CORPUS.—Edward Gaffney, a minor 16 years of age, who was shipped by a Boston runner on board U. S. ship Vandalia in July last, was taken before the U. S. District Court at Portland on Wednesday, on a writ of habeas corpus issued on the petition of his father. It appeared that the boy eloped from his father's house in Lowell and went to Boston, where he was encountered by a man who plied him with liquor, brought him to this city and shipped him into the naval service. The father gave no consent to his enlistment, and his age was proved to be sixteen in August, after he shipped. Judge Fox ordered the boy discharged, Midshipman Allibone, of U. S. S. Piscataqua, appeared with the recruit by direction of Commodore Lanman. William H. Haskett, Esq., for the petitioner.

FATHER KEMP'S OLD FOLKS (who sing in this city Friday evening, for a charitable object,) the Portland Press says, were greeted there by a large and well pleased audience. The vocal and instrumental parts were admirably performed, and the concert gave great satisfaction.—These old tunes never fail to waken in some of the auditors pleasant and in others sorrowful memories.

These statements we doubt not are facts; but when the writer goes on as follows, we don't know whether he is "romancing" or not:

"We well remember Maxim, who composed much music more than half a century ago, whose melodies are yet familiar to many ears and linger in many hearts. The tune he composed, set to the words

"As on some lonely building's top
The sparrow tells her moan, &c.," is one which he made after having received the mitten from a pretty girl in Turner many years ago. It is a plaintive melody, just such an one as would naturally flow from a heart thus wounded. He was a lazy man—too lazy for that sprightly girl, and yet he possessed considerable musical genius, which, in a different age and under more propitious circumstances, might have shone with more brilliancy."

S. J. COURT.—Third Week.—Doe, Judge. Petit Jurors—William O. Smith of Exeter, Oren Dimond of Danville, Geo. S. Tappan of East Kingston, James L. Randlett and John S. Blaisdell of Epping, John C. State v. James Kelly, appellant. Assault and battery; appeal from Police Court. Jury did not agree. Solicitor for State; W. H. Y. Hackett for respondent.

John A. Chadbourne v. New Castle. Action to recover damages for the destruction by soldiers from Fort Constitution, of the contents of a restaurant, kept by the plff. in New Castle, a few days before the annual election in 1864. Hatch for Plff.; W. H. Y. Hackett for Defts. The case was given to the Jury at the adjournment at noon on Wednesday, and at 5 P. M. the Jury were discharged, being unable to agree.

Ira B. Delano v. Benj. S. Goodwin is now on trial. Goodall for Plff. Hatch for Deft.

☞ The editor of the Exeter News Letter has been attending Court here, and speaks highly of the National Hotel and the Philbrick House, as well he may. He also says:

"The libel suit brought against the publisher of the Chronicle, by one Ambrose, with damages laid at $2000, is expected to come on at the present term of the S. J. Court. From what I can learn of it, I think it will never harm the Chronicle publisher much; not any, probably, beyond the annoyance of having a 'case' to look after."

☞ Mr. Edwin R. Locke of this city, whose death we chronicled yesterday, died from an overdose of morphine, prepared by himself, and taken to allay pain, as he had been in the habit of doing.

☞ Rev. C. P. Smith will commence his services as Pastor of the Christian Church on Court street in this city, next Sabbath. We understand that the church has been newly painted and carpeted.

☞ Sheriff Morse begins to-day a very large sale of hats, caps, furs, furniture, &c., at store 52 Market street, the sale to continue from day to day until all the goods are disposed of.

DR. CARPENTER, the Oculist and Aurist, closes his practice in Portsmouth on Saturday Nov. 2d. He can be consulted at the United States Hotel, Portland, during the winter.

THE GREAT STORM, which reached us on Tuesday night, had raged through Monday and Monday night, at Washington, making a great overflow, and doing much damage to wharves, houses, &c.

In New Jersey the actual amount of the loss by the storm cannot be fully ascertained till the storm abates. It has been one of the most severe that has visited New York and vicinity for several years. The fall of rain has far exceeded anything of the kind for a long time, and the river has not been so high for years. All along the coast the storm was very severe.

A BOGBEAR TELEGRAM from Washington, Wednesday, says, "The government entertains serious apprehensions of a negro outbreak in the South."—And a special says, "prominent gentlemen from the South" have so represented the matter to the President!

We don't believe Gen. Grant, or Sheridan, or Thomas, are afraid in the least of any such thing;—nor that Congress will have such fear! The drunken man's government may very likely be afraid.

VALLANDIGHAM made an elaborate speech on Thursday last, at Mount Vernon, Ohio, at which place he made, in 1862, the speech for which he was arrested by order of Gen. Burnside. This last speech is an elaborate statement of his martyrdom, and an urgent plea for the position of U. S. Senator.

☞ The Mills at Lawrence, Mass., were stopped on Wednesday, in consequence of the bursting of a flume. The damage was soon repaired.

☞ Ex-Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, is dangerously ill of apoplexy.

GOLD, Wednesday, 141 1-4. — No good reason can be given for most of the ups and downs of one or two per cent. a day.

— Philadelphia claims to be the greatest manufacturing city in the world, excepting London. In 1866 the factories there produced over two hundred millions of dollars worth of staple goods.

—All the Government property at the bottom of the Tennessee river from Eastport to Paducah is to be raised. Some twenty or thirty gunboats and transports were sunk between these points during the war, and some heavy guns went with them.

— The Charlestown Co operative Association, which began business three years ago, in Massachusetts, with a capital of eight hundred dollars has since that time distributed among its members eight thousand dollars, and has just opened a new branch store, devoted to the sale of groceries and provisions, with stock worth four thousand dollars. The store which the association first open is now doing a business of five hundred dollars a day.

HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.
Critical Notices of the Press.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 150,000 copies, in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of the work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited.—Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the two monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of plesa g and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES of communication in the WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building west of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$487,579 61	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the local, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and in exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 985 miles $35,550,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10 000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a stockholder in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which price they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and repres nted by all completed sections upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government grants, stock subscriptions, local grants, net earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the securances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which of itself would make them a good investment,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently safe, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

PRAIRIE FIRE AND RUM FIRE.

BY REV. JOHN PIERPONT.

The prairie fire! at midnight hour
The traveler hears it roaring by—
A form of terror and of power,
That wakes the earth and licks the sky.

The wild deer on his grassy bed
Wakes from his dream of breaking day,
Listens and tips his antlered head,
Snuffs the hot blast and bounds away.

Where that destroying angel goes,
Borne on the wings of autumn's wind,
He leaves no grass, no prairie-rose,
But all is scorched and black behind.

But when spring comes, a flowery belt
Across the prairie's bosom thrown,
Shows us that where his foot was felt
The angel dropped a jewelled zone.

But there's a fire along whose track
Spring never scatters flowers in bloom;
No spring e'er follows—all is black
As midnight in a hopeless gloom.

Alike upon the low and high
Falls this strange fire; it feeds and plays
On beauty's cheek, in wisdom's eye,
And smites down manhood in its blaze.

And youth and age—its power is such—
Blossoms and fruit alike are burned;
And every virtue by its touch
Is shrivelled, and to ashes turned.

Quench, Holy Father! by thy power,
By law and love, with spring and well,
With stream and cistern, flower and shower,
In mercy quench this fire of hell.

RING THE BELL SOFTLY.

Some one has gone from this strange world of ours,
No more to gather its thorns with its flowers;
No more to linger where sorrow must fade,
Where, on all beauty, death's fingers are laid;
Weary with mingling life's bit er with sweet,
Weary with parting and never to meet,
Some one has gone to the bright golden shore—
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Some one is resting from sorrow and sin,
Happy where earth's conflicts enter not in;
Joyous as birds, when the morning is bright,
When the sweet sunbeams have brought us their light;
Weary with rowing and never to resp,
Weary with labor, and welcoming sleep—
Some one's departed to Heaven's bright shore,
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

Angels were anxiously longing to meet [street;
One who walks with them in Heaven's bright
Loved ones have whispered that some one is blest;
Free from earth's trials, and taking a sweet rest.
Yes! there is one more in angelic bliss,
One less to cherish, and one less to kiss;
One more departed to Heaven's bright shore.
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!
Ring the bell softly, there's crape on the door!

—The people of the New Dominion entreat unemployed servant girls to come over the St. Lawrence and help them. Domestic labor is as scarce in the Canadian cities as in the smaller towns, and there is talk of importing girls from Europe.

—A French court was recently trying a criminal charged with committing a double assassination. The gendarme who arrested the prisoner gave in his testimony: "Going through a potato field, I saw two corpses lying on the ground; one of them was a survivor. I had my suspicions, so I collared the surviving corpse, who is the prisoner at the bar."

—A few days since a Paris detective was following an important criminal, who was "wanted." The latter knew he was dogged, and was a good deal puzzled to get rid of the detective. Seeing a stalwart soldier with his sweetheart on his arm, he spit on the girl's dress, and then said to the soldier: "That blackguard (pointing to the detective) has spit on your girl's dress."—In an instant the soldier had the detective by the collar and was giving him his boot, while the fellow dogged was turning the nearest corner as fast as he could.

—A letter from Boerne, Texas, speaks of a shower of grasshoppers which happened at that place on the 3d inst. "High up in the air," says the writer, "as high as we could see, their white wings glistening in the sun, the appearance was that of an immense fall of snow. In ten minutes from their first advent, the ground was literally alive with them, in some places nearly over shoes, and an onslaught upon every green thing was begun. In twenty-four hours everything was stripped—fields, trees and gardens.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symmetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from a large list of purchasers are given for reference:

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1867.

☞ On our 4th page this morning we give a report of a Temperance lecture by Rev. Dr. Miner—in which rather bitter, but we think not unfair, allusion is made to a distinguished ex-Governor of Massachusetts, who took the rum side in the public discussion there last year. That man—at once a scholar, statesman, gentleman and christian—now lies dead at home, having been suddenly stricken fatally with apoplexy; and we feel sure that had he been a teetotaller himself, he might have lived longer. When we met him at the N. E. Agricultural Fair at Springfield, we made up our mind, (solely from his personal appearance, and not from what we saw him eat or drink,) that he was of too full habits and too free a liver. The work cannot afford to lose such men at his early age.

☞ The Gloucester Fishermen must some of them be rather fast. We notice vessels there named Flora Temple and Two Forty; and the telegraph tells of a murder on board the latter vessel, while at anchor in Griffin's Cove, on the Canada shore, on the 12th of August last. Two of her crew, Thomas Campbell and Thomas Twombley, went on shore. Becoming intoxicated, they had an altercation, when Twombly struck Campbell over the head with a jug. The injured man was taken on board of the vessel, where he died next day. Twombly was committed to jail to await trial next March. He belongs in York, Me. Campbell resided in Newburyport.

☞ There is to be a truly grand Concert at Newburyport this (Friday) evening, Nov. 1st. Rossini's Stabat Mater, under direction of Mr. C. P. Morrison, will be performed by a chorus of two hundred voices—the solos to be sustained by the following well known artists: Miss Houston, Soprano; Miss and Mrs. Rametti, Contralto; Wm. J. Winch, Tenore; H. C. Barnabee, Basso and Humorist; Howard M. Dow, Pianist. The miscellaneous selections will include two choruses by Haydn, "Come Gentle Spring," and "The Heavens are Telling"; a chorus with solo obligato; songs and concerted pieces by the soloists, and humorous selections by Mr. Barnabee. Tickets 50 cents; reserved seats $1.

SUIT AGAINST THE EASTERN RAIL ROAD.—A gentleman of Boston has commenced an action, claiming heavy damages for injuries received under the following circumstances: It is well known to the public that during a portion of the months of April and May last the Eastern and Boston & Maine Railroads, owing to some quarrel between themselves, sold tickets to a number of points on their respective roads at a large discount from former rates. The plaintiff visited the Boston station of the defendants and purchased a quantity, which they now refuse to honor for a passage.—Attempting to ride with one a few days since, he was informed by the conductor—who took up the ticket and kept it—that it was only good for the amount it cost, and the balance of the present fare must be paid. Plaintiff declined—acting under legal advice—to pay any more, and was ordered to leave the train by the conductor, who stopped it for that purpose and called the baggage master to assist him. Refusing to start unless compelled to by superior force, after twice ordering him to leave the conductor suddenly seized his carpet bag and carried it away. A violent rain storm having set in, plaintiff took a severe cold, and now sues for the loss of his baggage, insult, injury, disgrace, inconvenience, &c., to which he was subjected.—Boston Journal.

— Mr. Highhoe complains that the duties on dry goods are excessively high. It is his "duty" to pay a bill every week contracted by the persevering and gorgeous Mrs. H.

— At Newburyport on Tuesday a lad 14 years old, son of Mr. Hezekiah Colby, fell into the hold of a ship, striking on his head, and receiving injuries which proved fatal.

—"Look at that hole, will you!" exclaimed a returned Irish soldier to a gaping crowd, as he exhibited with some pride his hat with a bullet hole in it, "You see if it had been a low-crowned hat I should have been killed outright.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS. The case of Rev. Mr. Adams of Newport, vs. J. M. Milton of Claremont, for an alleged assault on the Fair Ground during the Claremont Town Fair, was decided on the 24th by the acquittal of Mr. Milton. Judge Waite, who heard the case, ruled "that intruders upon grounds legally occupied for a specific purpose, have no remedy in law for personal injuries received in forcible ejectment after being duly warned off."

A telegraphic dispatch from Newmarket Junction to Manchester, was longer in reaching its destination than the train of cars which left the Junction at the same time.

JEFF. DAVIS NOT ANXIOUS TO BE TRIED. A special Washington dispatch says neither Chief Justice Chase, Judge Underwood or District Attorney Chandler have received any definite reply from the counsel for Jeff. Davis regarding the proposition of the Chief Justice to try Davis on the 13th of November.—Judge Underwood has received a letter from Wm. M. Evarts of New York, one of the counsel for the government, who says he has written to Mr. Richard H. Dana of Boston, one of the counsel for Davis, on this subject, but has received no reply. Judge Underwood and District Attorney Chandler had an interview with the Attorney General.

☞ Ex-Gov. John A. Andrew, of Massachusetts died in Boston Wednesday evening Oct. 30, aged 49. He was a man of great ability, large heart and generous purposes. His services to the cause of liberty and law before the war, and in putting down the rebellion, were very great; and his position as Governor, through the strife, was arduous and self-denying. His death is a public loss.

☞ The Jaffa Colonists, forty in number, left Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 5, en route for America. Mr. M. Y. Beach, of the New York Sun, generously furnished the U. S. Consul at that point with £300 to enable the destitute party to pursue their journey homeward.

☞ The Mexican Standard of Oct. 10th says Santa Anna has been tried at Vera Cruz and sentenced to death. He has petitioned the Supreme Court for mercy.

WHITE CHRISTIANS.—A Washington dispatch of Oct. 30 says:

Much dissatisfaction was created at the Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Maryland and the District of Columbia, held here to-day, by one of the delegates of the colored Young Men's Association of Washington being placed on the list of Vice Presidents, the white delegates from Maryland earnestly protesting against this act of the majority. They wished to secede, being opposed to whites and blacks mingling in the same body.

The colored Vice President regretted that the presence of colored delegates to an association for Christian purposes should produce discord. Several white delegates, looking at the matter in a Christian light, said there could be no real cause for serious objections. One of the objectors declared that he had been a Confederate officer and could with sincerity extend the right hand of fellowship to a colored man, and to prove the truth of his utterance he stepped forward and earnestly shook the colored Vice President's hand. Notwithstanding this, he could not conceive the propriety of making a special provision whereby a colored person should be made a Vice President.—Other objectors declared similar views, adding that they were friends of the colored man. The discussion was earnest on all sides, when a white delegate, for the sake of harmony, offered a resolution requesting the colored Vice President to withdraw from that office. The convention, by two majority, refused to lay the resolution on the table, and by a majority of six refused to suspend the rules in order to allow a vote on the resolution.

Poor fellows! a few grains of common sense and one grain of Christianity would have prevented all the fuss.

POLITENESS IN DUNNING.—An old gentleman had owed a firm for years: at last after every body's patience and temper were exhausted, a clerk named Frank undertook to get the money. Frank called upon the gentleman and met with a polite reception and the usual answer, with the addition, "You need not trouble yourself, young man, about the matter; I will make it right."

"O, no," replied Frank, "I could not think of compelling you to call at the store for a few dollars. It will not be the slightest inconvenience for me to step in, as I pass your place of business six times a day, to and from my meals, and I can call every time I go by."

"Here," said the old fellow to his bookkeeper, alarmed at the prospect of being dunned six times a day for the next six months, "pay this impertinent rascal. He can beat me in politeness, and if he wants a situation I will give him two thousand dollars a year."

—It is estimated that Bennett lost one hundred and eighty thousand dollars by the theatrical managers refusing to "advertise in the New York Herald."

—The Cunard Company bought four ships to start with, and they are now the owners of twenty-four splendid ocean steamers, built out of their large profits, after paying splendid dividends to the stockholders.

—The special train with General Sheridan on board, left Kennebec depot at Portland and arrived at South Berwick Junction, 38 miles, in fifty-one minutes. The last 4 miles were run in five minutes. The run would have been shorter if the train had not been obliged to stop at Saco to pass the regular passenger train.

—The wheat and flour exports of California this year will not fall far short of ten millions of dollars, and the manufactures alone are represented to amount to considerable more than the gold product. The wine crop will amount to three million dollars. While there is a falling off in the gold product, other branches of industry afford more than a counterbalance.

—"Of what religion are you, Mr. Rogers?" said a lady once. "What religion, madame? I am of the religion of all sensible men." "And what is that" she asked. "All sensible men, madam, keep that to themselves."

—A man who won a turkey at a raffle, and whose pious wife was very inquisitive about the method of obtaining the poultry, satisfied her at last by saying the "Shakers" gave it to him.

— A touching instance of connubial affection and devotion occurred not long since in New Hampshire. An aged couple who during half a century of married life had wrangled and quarreled with each other, were in all probability soon to be separated. The old husband was taken sick, and believed to be near his end. The old spouse came to his bedside, and after carefully examining and taking stock of his condition, exclaimed, "Why daddy, your feet are cold, and your hands are cold, and your nose is cold!" "Wa'al, let 'em be cold." "Why, daddy, you're going to die!" "Wa'al, I guess I know wot I'm about." "Why, daddy, wat's to becum of me if you die?" "I dunno, and don't care. Wat I want to know is, wot is to becum of me!"

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is far superior to super-carbonate of soda, and may be used in the same manner with cream tartar, and for all other purposes where soda is used. It is perfectly healthy and requires less in quantity. Try one paper, and you will never have any other. Grocers and druggists sell it. 35

AGED PEOPLE, invalids and all others who desire to use pure Gin as medicine, have only to buy Dunster's old London Dock Gin. To be sure of getting the best, look for the name of C. A. RICHARDS & Co. on the wrapper of each bottle.

"FIGURES WON'T LIE."—Neither will Pyle's Saleratus. It will give you good bread, biscuit, cakes and puddings every time required. No false pretense about Pyle's Saleratus! Try it, and see! Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 26

Where are you going?

I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell.

Has he got Providence River Oysters?

Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time.

Does he cook them?

Yes, any way you desire; Fried in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. 2d4

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.
DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hyrerthrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practic of medicine from the very best M. D.'s down, and promptc me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, that so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

☞ DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspepsia Consumption. Or whether it merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint

His assistants have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver is kept in perfect order. To get lungs in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will begin to heal; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each at $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

It has been used and approved of for 20 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Local.

☞ We learn that the new Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank is to go into operation immediately, in this city, in the chambers over the store of Mr. Cheever on Market street, formerly Navy Agent's office. We think there is ample room for this institution, in Portsmouth and vicinity, and that it well managed, it cannot fail of success, or to be a benefit to the community. The old Savings Bank, though always ably conducted, and no doubt of great utility to its depositors and the public—we have always under tood, uses most of its heavy funds abroad, and is altogether different in design from this new one—which, as we understand it, will endeavor to use the savings of depositors for their own direct benefit, chiefly through the development and encouragement of home trade and industry.

The officers are, Aaron H. Hill, President; S. H. Goodall, Geo. W. Tucker, B. Cheever, John W. Parsons, Jona. Dearborn, John S. Rand, Directors; and at a meeting Wednesday, Mr. John Christie was chosen Secretary and Treasurer, and will enter upon the duties when the Bank opens, in a few weeks. Mr. Christie is well qualified and adapted for the position, and his wide acquaintance as a reliable gentleman and thorough business man, must prove an element of strength to the new institution with which he is to be connected. [We learn incidentally, that he had offers of a fine situation at Norfolk Navy Yard, and another at Washington, but are glad he preferred remaining at home as stated.] We wish the new Bank and its officers all due success—and commend them to the confidence and patronage of the public.

☞ To-night we have Father Kemp's Old Folks, in a concert,—which for itself and its object, is well worthy of patronage. We are told the choir is better than ever, and the orchestra excellent—and all lovers of the old music, as well as friends of the deceased whose family are to be benefitted, should see to filling the hall.

☞ Judge Doe of the N. H. Supreme Court takes the ground that the new national bankrupt law does not interfere with cases now in progress before the State Courts, and says that only compulsory process will cause him to stay proceedings in any case now pending before him.

S. J. COURT, PORTSMOUTH, Thursday. Case Delano vs. Goodwin was given to the jury on Thursday afternoon.

Leonard Garland vs. Thos. G. Furber and J. W. Hoyt. Action of trespass on certain land in Newington. Plaintiff is tenant of Elias Frink; one of the defendants claims title, and that one is his tenant. The jury proceeded to Newington to view the premises. Frink for plaintiff, Hatch for defendants.

☞ The Temple has been painted and grained, and otherwise considerably improved in appearance; and visitors at the concert to-night will have an opportunity to see how it is to look at the Lyceum—to secure tickets for which, the house will be open on Saturday and Monday.

☞ Sheriff Morse sells some very nice Furniture—Chamber Set, Piano, &c., at store corner Market and Hanover streets, this morning. See his advertisement.

☞ The annual husking party at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, came off on Thursday evening. The attendance from this city was quite numerous, and they all join in the wish that harvest-time may come twice a year in our sister town.

☞ A Boy, supposed to be a pickpocket, was arrested by citizens, under suspicious circumstances, on Thursday morning, in this city.

☞ The advertisement of the Horse Fair here next week, shows there are to be big purses for some of the big trotters, and there will of course be some tall trotting.

☞ Late dispatches from Italy, via. London and Paris, represent Garibaldi victorious at Monte Rotodo; pressing on to Rome; Italian soldiers deserting to join his forces; and Prussia as not to allow France to make war on Italy. Nevertheless, Napoleon 3d is pushing his forces toward Rome, and probably intends to sustain the Pope's temporal power.

GOLD, Thursday, 140 1-2.

WESTON, the pedestrian, arrived at Newburyport Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock; left at 9, and arrived at Salem sometime in the night.

—Charlotte Cushman is worth a quarter of a million.

—The Nashua Iron Company have lately commenced, with good success, the manufacture of steel tires for locomotives, hitherto only done in England.

—The newspaper is a sermon for the thoughtful, a library for the poor, and a blessing to everybody. Lord Brougham has called it the best public instructor.

—An English volunteer rifle corps, exercising in a field, were put to flight by a cow, all except one man, who dropped on his knee and "prepared to receive cavalry."

—A St. Lou's paper, speaking of the parties engaged in a prize fight in that vicinity, says, "they look like beings of another race." Exactly—they belong to the "mill" race.

—A State fair is a queen; an agricultural fair is a farmer's daughter; a church fair is a parson's wife; a soldier's fair is the best looking girl he can get hold of; a charity fair is a female pauper, and the most unpopular fair in the universe is boarding-house fare.

DEATHS.

In Dover, Oct. 27, in the 79th year of her age MARIA PIKE. She had spread the day before from a visit to her friends in Portsmouth, which she seemed to have greatly enjoyed, although much fatigued. "Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."
HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.
Critical Notices of the Prices
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is unrivalled.—Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the respectability and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Prabner's Guide to American Literature, London.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.
Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 33 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.
The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,579 64	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. Upon the rest, the local, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and its exclusive of the material carried for the further extension of the road.
The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.
Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.
The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.
Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the rate of $33,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE COOPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.
The Company offer for sale, through us, their
First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.
Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 90 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly
Nine per Cent upon the Investment.
These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and no Bonds will come into the market, and are selling for 90 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly
Nine per Cent upon the Investment.
These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and no Bonds will come into the market, and are selling for 90 per cent and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly
First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.
Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.
Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.
Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.
Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.
Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others (as a permanent) secure, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

"LICENSE AND PROHIBITION."—The fourth lecture of the Sunday evening course before the Sons of Temperance was delivered in Tremont Temple Boston by Rev. A. A. Miner, D. D. There was a large audience, which loudly applauded the numerous sarcasms of the speaker. In the commencement of his address Dr. Miner said that the citizens of Massachusetts had studied upon a critical hour in which they were to decide whether they would indorse measures calculated to promote sobriety, virtue and intelligence, or measures which would break down the barriers to sin and the bulwarks of virtue. The main question to be considered by the people of Massachusetts was whether the prohibitory law commended itself to them by its deeds. Did it not work as they expected it would when they voted for it?

It was effective, for he felt authorized to say that there was at present no open sale of liquors in the State, with the exception of a very few places in Boston and its suburbs. There was doubtless some sale of liquors in every town in the Commonwealth, just as there was thieving, licentiousness and other crimes committed in those towns; but we did not condemn the law against stealing because there were violations of it. He believed that principle of prohibition was in accordance with the theory of God's law. When the merchants of Boston went before the License Law Committee last winter and said that they believed that a licence law would promote the cause of temperance, they said what they knew was not true.

The reason that there was so much howling against the prohibitory law was not that it was ineffective, but that the liquor customs of the Commonwealth were interfered with by its operations, and there was not so much liquor drank in the State as formerly. It was a farce to say that there was more liquor sold now than ever before. He would ask any dry goods dealer in his audience if it would be possible for him to do the same business under a lock and key that he could with his goods displayed in plate glass windows. In spite of this palpable inference, the dignitaries of the Commonwealth came last winter to the Legislature and swore on the altar of Bacchus that the prohibitory law did not work.

It had been said by the Mayors of Boston, with tears in their eyes, that it was impossible for them to enforce the prohibitory law in this city. To show how sincere that statement was in some instances, he would read a call for a meeting of the proprietors of the Revere House, to which was appended, as owners of the building, the names of ex-Mayor Lincoln and Mayor Norcross. How was it likely that those officials would diligently prosecute rumsellers, when they themselves were in part proprietors of an establishment which was violating that law, and for which the law made them liable to be sent to the House of Correction. He then read a list of statistics in regard to the result of the doings of the State Constabulary, from which he drew the conclusion that that force was a source of large revenue to the State in the way of fines, and was putting the liquor dealers to some straits by heavy and frequent seizures.

If the liquor dealers were not terrified they would not have paid an ex-Governor $10,000, more or less, to damage his own conscience in their defence, though without any avail. He did not think that the imps of the lower world, unless they were more demoralized than the old theologies represented them to be, would tolerate the liquor dealers of the present time in their society. If the prohibitory law was sustained at the next election, he believed that the owners of the buildings where club rooms existed would be sent to the House of Correction and the club rooms broken up.

When he was passing the Union Club rooms on Park street the other night at about ten o'clock, he heard the noise of a row inside and the breaking of crockery; soon after a number of men rushed into the street in their shirt sleeves and cried out "Watch," "Watch," He was afraid that there was a good deal of alcoholic food within some of the persons inside of the building. The fossil clergy of the Commonwealth, preserved for years in brandy, came up to the State House last winter to testify to the hypocrisy and fanaticism of temperance men. He was able to show, by statistics that they represented a small portion of the pastors of the Commonwealth for out of 1022 clergymen that had communicated views to the Temperance Alliance only 26 of them were in favor of a license law.

He did not know what the letters "P. L. L." did mean, but an acquaintance had suggested to him that they might mean Pandemonium Let Loose. He closed by appealing to his audience to be up and doing, and organize the Christian sentiment the love of morality and of common humanity in the Commonwealth against the rascalities of the State.—Boston Jour.

FIVE HUNDRED MILES OF CIVILIZATION.—From the base of the mountain range, which forms the backbone of the continent, comes the word that five hundred miles of the Union Pacific Railroad have been successfully constructed. Thirty-one miles more, now nearly finished, will carry the line to the summit, which is the highest elevation of the route, from which point the head light of the locomotive will shine over toward the Pacific, perhaps before the snow flies.

—Jeddo has many streets twenty-two miles long.

—A physician in Nashville has been cast in $7000 damages for malpractice in medical treatment of a little girl.

—A clergyman of the English church in Jamaica, attracts attention by driving to church in a "monkey coat," military cap, and Knickerbocker boots and spurs.

—The Ohio wine makers are now busily at work, and the newspapers of that State estimate that its wine crop this year will be the largest it has ever had.

— Missouri is now on the flood tide of prosperity. Immigration is flowing in at an unprecedented rate, new enterprises are starting up on every hand, and there is a balance of $1,500,000 lying idle in the treasury.

—The Russians are not prospective in religious matters. Letters from Eastern Siberia, where numerous Polish exiles have been sent, state that the authorities permit a free admission and circulation of the Bible, printed in New York, in the Russian language.

—It has been asserted that if all immigration into Paris should cease, so that no fresh blood could come in from the country, the population of the city would dwindle in numbers, deteriorate in force and become so nearly effete, in five generations, as to be incapable of reproduction.

—John Paul adds to the imputed properties of witch hazel by placing an s before it, and reviving some touching recollections of his early youth in that connection. He says, "I have never been conductor, engineer nor brakeman, though I've been on many a train, but when a boy I was switch tender."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how it ought to work.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1867.

WASHINGTON.—The fifteen cent notes are printed at the Treasury, but as they have portraits of Generals Grant and Sherman in violation of the law, they will not be put in circulation at present. As soon as Congres meets an effort will be made to authorize their issue.

Gen. Grant on Thursday issued an order that all the clerks in the war office who desire it, and can be spared, can have one week's leave of absence, beginning with Friday.—This will give them an opportunity to go home for the elections.

The Georgia State Railroad is prepared to pay its whole indebtedness to the government of $100,000, and will remit the amount to Washington in a few days.

A letter from a high official source in Georgia written last Monday, was received at the War Office Thursday. The writer says that the Convention will probably be carried by a small majority, but the spirit of hostility to Congress and reconstruction is very marked among the whites since the Ohio and Pennsylvania elections. Many leading men express the belief that the President will devise some way for accomplishing his plan of reconstruction, and the opinion that the general government will pay for the emancipated slaves through the accession of the democratic party to power, is so strong that numbers of persons are already making out schedules of their slave property and bargaining for the claims of others. A letter from a General on duty in Virginia also says the same spirit is quite marked in that State since the elections before mentioned, and he expresses the belief that had the election in Virginia been held two weeks later, their convention would have been defeated by the spread of Richmond influence.

CABLE ITEMS, Oct. 31.—Garibaldi, in front of Rome, has 22 battalions of volunteers.—The Paris Liberte says that the Emperor of Austria has given his assent to the proposed general conference for the settlement of the Roman question, but Pope Pius IX absolutely refuses to be a party to it, and England and Russia are reported to have declined the invitation of France to join the conference.

Semi-official evening journals say that the advance of the Italian troops into the Papal Provinces was ordered by the Italian Government without the consent of France, and this action they declare has brought about a crisis between the two countries, which is dangerous to peace.

It is authoritively stated that no treaty of alliance has been concluded between Louis Napoleon and Francis Joseph, but the entente cordiale, established between France and Austria, is complete.

ITALY.—Late dispatches from Italy report Garibaldi as still holding his position near Monte Rotonda. French troops had disembarked at Civita Vecchia and continued to be dispatched from Toulon, and it is reported that the French troops will attack the Garibaldians and drive them, if possible, into Victor Emanuel's territory, where they will be disarmed by the Italian troops. France justifies her intervention on the ground that Italy has failed to protect the Pope in his lawful and time honored rights, and M. Moustier states that the agency of France will go no further than is necessary to crush armed rebellion against the Pope and drive out hostile soldiers from his dominions. When that has been accomplished, the French troops are to be withdrawn and a European Congress called to definitely settle the Roman question.

The sales of the Church lands have commenced, and promise to add largely to the revenues of the Italian Government.

MEDICAL PROTEST AGAINST ROWING MATCHES.—An eminent English surgeon has published a medical protest against boat racing—his objection being purely a physical one. He asserts as follows:

"There is no more palpable example of cruelty than in pitting against each other two or more antagonists, with a view to determine whose physical powers are capable of most endurance. He declares that of this form of cruelty to animals no modern example is so great as the annual University boat race. It is a national folly which involves a draught on the muscular powers of the gentlemen engaged in it, more or less injurious to their future health, some temporarily, some permanently. What happens is heart disease. The late Dr. Hope, well known to our profession as the author of a work of great authority in diseases of the heart, has often declared that he knew no cause of disease of this organ so common as hard exercise in rowing."

These apprehensions have been shared by the Life Assurance offices to such an extent that extra premiums have been demanded of rowing men, and, in some cases, policies refused altogether; but the London correspondent of the Tribune says the testimony which is to shake the hold of this admirable sport upon Young England or America must come from experience of an expert. A rowing man, in the vigor of splendid health, will scarcely listen to the teachings of a medical man, or be frightened out of his boat by the fear of a possible heart disease when he is 50.

A BUGBEAR.—We made brief mention, on Thursday morning, of a bugbear telegram from Washington to the N. Y. Herald, about an expected negro insurrection. We give a specimen extract from it.

Several prominent gentlemen from the South have recently called upon the President and represented that the negroes were undoubtedly possessed of arms and ammunition in large quantities. They state that the blacks are organizing with hostile intentions, and contemplate the slaughter of the whites at the first favorable opportunity.

These gentlemen urged the President to increase the military force in the five military districts, and thus by a timely display of power overawe the disaffected blacks.—Nothing short of this, they think, will prevent an early uprising of this half-civilized class, and the repetition of all the atrocities of San Domingo. One of these gentlemen predicts that the war of caste will commence before the expiration of the present month, unless the Government adopts strong measures to prevent such a calamity. The negroes throughout the South have a thorough understanding, and have even fixed upon the impeachment of the President as the proper moment for a bloody uprising.

There is reason to think that the government entertains most serious apprehensions. The whites are entirely unarmed and defenceless, while the blacks have an abundance of offensive weapons picked up from the battle fields during the war, and since purchased by money hoarded away.—Scarcely a negro cabin in the South is without arms enough for four or five persons.

Everybody who knows anything about the South, knows these latter statements to be untrue. That some negroes, many indeed, are armed, no one doubts. But the whites certainly are NOT "entirely unarmed and defenceless!" Nor can it be believed by any sane man, that this dreadful St. Domingo plot has been brewing all over the South, and the District Commanders, all the U. S. officers remain ignorant of it. No, no! the "prominent gentlemen" must either have "the horrors" themselves, or else seek to frighten their tipsy friends at Washington and further north. The papers Thursday morning do not mention it. Perhaps it was intended to get into the copperhead weeklies and operate on elections.

WESTON, the walking man, remained at Ipswich Wednesday night; started at 8:15 Thursday morning; arrived in Salem at 11. Left Salem at 12:25; arrived in Lynn at 1:45, and in Boston at 4 in the afternoon. Tarried in Boston till 3 in the evening, and then started for N. Attleboro.

While at Newburyport Mr. Weston met with a slight accident, which does not, however, interfere with his walking. While in the act of stepping into his hotel in that city, his foot was caught beneath a loose plank, and before he could extricate himself some persons stepped upon the plank, thus slightly jamming one of his toes.

Weston stopped at Dedham, Mass., Thursday night, and was to enter on his 100 mile walk Friday afternoon.

EX-GOV. ANDREW is to have a public funeral this day, at noon, at Boston, services in Arlington Street Church. All the church bells in Massachusetts will be tolled through the noon hour.

CORRECTION.—The statement made by telegraph that Richard H. Dana, Jr., was counsel for Jefferson Davis is wholly incorrect. He is engaged in company with Hon. Mr. Evarts for the Government in the trial of Davis when it shall take place.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—L. A. Buswell, son of O. B. Buswell of Grantham, while standing in a saw-mill at Sunapee, a few days since, was hit on the head by a slab, thrown into the stream and killed.

Gov. Harriman has issued his proclamation for Thanksgiving to be held Nov. 28.

A REMARKABLE PROPENSITY FOR STEALING HORSES.—John Hale, a veteran horse thief of Maine, is thus described by a Waterford correspondent of the Lewiston Journal:

This notorious individual, now seventy-seven years old, has spent over fifty years of his life in prison for horse stealing. He has never been known to show a thievish propensity for any other kind of property except that pertaining to horse gear; such as harnesses, wagons and robes. His love for a good horse is unquestionably a monomania; in fact, his is a case of horse-jockeyism run mad. In appearance, he is the last man one would suppose to be the great horse thief—very gentlemanly and mild, with the expression of a kind, good, fatherly, old man, smart for his years, and intelligent. He closed his last term this spring, and has passed the summer at the residence of a wealthy sister in Waterford, his native place. A few weeks ago, he began to give evidence that his "horse distemper" was beginning to rage, by a nervous and exceeding restlessness. Finally, one day he disappeared, and the next known of him was by bills received in town, advertising a horse and wagon stolen in Freedom N. H., which had been seen in the possession of an old man, with a long white beard, &c., answering the description of the poor old man, who has had horse on the brain all his life. That horse has probably been disposed of, as another has been announced as "turning up missing" in Porter, Me.

— Governor Worth of North Carolina is described as "quiet little old gentleman, sharp as a briar, and with a well of wisdom at the root of every gray hair."

☞ The proud and insolent exultation shown throughout the South in consequence of Democratic successes at the North, is in striking contrast with the submissiveness witnessed in the same quarter after the surrender of Lee and till Andrew Johnson began his reactionary career. It gives the impression that the ex-slaveholder has not yet parted entirely with the idea that the negro is his—his to rule and direct, if not to own. And whenever apparent reverses overtake the Republican organization, this idea comes out in some shape or other, as in the prospective demonstrations of the Virginia press.

How would it answer, then, to commit the freedmen to the substantial control of their old masters, as the Democratic leaders of the North now propose, by breaking up the reconstruction policy of Congress? Every patriot who rejoiced in the victories of the war would feel, in such an event, that his work was undone. And yet every man who assists even for the moment in strengthening the Democratic party extends this delusion among the old oligarchy of the South, subjects the freedmen to new hardships, delays the restoration of the Union, and adds to all our financial burdens.

MARRIAGE OF A SON OF THE FRENCH EMPEROR.—A Paris correspondent says that the Emperor's illegitimate son, by the late Miss Howard, has just married a rich Hungarian lady, whose name the papers do not mention. It will be remembered that Miss Howard, when an actress at a minor theatre in London, became Louis Napoleon's mistress before 1848. When he became president of the republic, he caused her to come to Paris, and installed her in a mansion just opposite the entrance to the Elysee, in the Avenue Montaigne, where he saw her constantly. She was very useful to him, and by her influence with Jews in London got him a considerable sum of money, which he wanted for many purposes.

After he became emperor, he continued to keep up relations with her until he married Eugenie de Montijo. Then he rewarded Miss Howard by creating her Countess of Beauregard, and giving her beside a great lump of money, a chateau and handsome estate, called Beauregard, two miles from St. Cloud. Some time afterward, in order to get her more completely off his hands, he got a foolish English gentleman, of old family, to marry her. She signed a deed, granting him a large mortgage on the property. As might have been expected, such a marriage led to no happiness. They soon led a cat and dog life, and her husband was much away from her.

In London he naturally found himself cut by all his old friends. One day he was openly reproached with being a woman's man, and got into such a rage that he took the deed out of his pocket and tore it up to show his disinterestedness. He knew, however, that his wife's was a bad life, her reputation being impaired, and under a mistaken notion of French law, he supposed that he would have a life interest in the Beauregard property after her death.—When she died he went over to France to take possession, but found that the Countess's son was before him. So confident was he of his right that he got a blacksmith to break open the outer door.

For this he was handed over to the police, and a lecture from the Commissary informed him, to his sorrow, that the son was the sole heir to the estate. So he went back to England. Beyond the run of the kitchen at Beauregard, for a short time, this heavy swell never got anything for marrying a cast off mistress. Everybody must say, "Served him right."

The Emperor never took much personal notice of Miss Howard's son, after his infancy. It was, perhaps, humane not to bring up the young man to look upon him as a father, but he took good care to have him well educated. He is, I am told, a gentlemanly fellow, belongs to the most fashionable clubs, and takes a very good place in a rather fast section of good society. He is called a count something or other, but I cannot at this moment remember the title. Many of his associates of the Jennessee Dorse do not know that he is the Emperor's son.

☞ Her mirror may satisfy a lady that her dress is faultless, that all that can fascinate the eye is combined in her costume—but yet she will not consider herself irresistible until she has added the crowning charm to her attractions, by sprinkling Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus" on her handkerchief.—Portland Press.

—Louis Napoleon has determined to keep the Universal Exposition open for a time longer—the admission fee to be very small for a part of the time, and then, for the remainder, admission to be absolutely free to all—for the benefit of the workmen and the poorer classes of Paris.

WHAT WOULDST THOU ASK?

GEORGE COOPER.

O heart what wouldst thou ask of Time?
Thy childhood's merry hours again?
Thy youth's delightful, golden clime?
Thy later days of sun and rain?
Ah! no; if only thou couldst live
One moments of thy shadowed past;
Had Time the precious boon to give,
How sweet thy calm at last!

One moment, to undo the deed
Of wrong our wilful hands have done;
One moment to uproot the weed
That prospers in the baleful sun;
One moment, only, to recall
Unkindly words and idle sneers;
Give this, oh Time, and keep thou all
Thy store of buried years!

—Suicides for love, says a statistician, rarely occur after thirty. At that age one has found there is more in the world than he once thought.

—A dry goods merchant in Montreal, who had a $60 pane of glass broken, offered a reward for the discovery of the offender. A few days after a gentlemanly fellow stepped in, said he and some friends broke the window while on a "lark," and offered to pay $80 for the damage. His offer was accepted, and handing over a $100 bill he got his change and departed, leaving the trader to discover that the bill was a counterfeit.

NOT GOLD ONLY,
BUT
RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the love and affection of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one honest to pay more for the advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock," and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER, ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

I. T. HENDERSON, M. D.

DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

☞ DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 32 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars.

Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part; also whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely as discovered in throat and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver is kept in perfect order. To get lungs in a healing condition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will heal; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration become free and easy

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents.

☞ Auctioneer Wendell sells a variety of furniture this morning.

Sheriff Morse continues his sale at 52 Market street.

Betton & Co. have their regular sales.

THE LYCEUM.—The course opens next Tuesday evening by a lecture from Rev. Dr. Willets of Philadelphia upon a very interesting subject, which will be treated with superior ability. "What this lecturer does, he does well." As great pains have been taken to secure a really popular course of lectures, the Lyceum this winter must prove a success. The Temple will be open on Saturday Nov. 2, and on Monday Nov. 4, from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M., for the sale of Lyceum tickets, when the Hall can be examined and seats selected. Tickets for the course will be for sale at the door on the evening of the first lecture.

☞ Father Kemp's Old Folks Troupe (though Kemp himself don't travel with them now) gave a good concert at the Temple last evening, which we hope will result in a material "benefit" to the family of their late associate Mr. Perry. The Company visited his grave in Auburn Cemetery in the afternoon, and sung for a requiem a favorite piece of his, "Only Waiting."

☞ Sheriff Morse will continue his sale at Tilton's store, this (Saturday) morning at 11 o'clock when the Piano, Chamber and Parlor Set will be sold.

☞ The Ladies' Humane Society will meet at Mrs. Lyman's on Monday, Nov. 9th.

☞ A Washington letter says, the convention of Young Men's Christian Association of Washington and Baltimore adjourned Tuesday evening. Seven of the Baltimore delegates seceded because a colored man was made one of the Vice Presidents. A proposition was introduced that the delegates should call upon the President, was rejected by a decided vote.

[The seven secessionists ought to have called on A. J. or else on Nasby.]

☞ A Boston paper says Gov. Andrew had insurance of $10,000 on his life for the benefit of his family. Among some friends on Saturday evening he alluded to the case of Senator Pond, and remarked, "If I ever have such an attack, I hope to die, rather than to recover with my physical and mental powers impaired." On Saturday evening Gov. A. completed the arrangements for the delivery of his eulogy on Edward Everett, on the occasion of the inauguration of the statue in the Public Garden. The 22d of February was fixed upon as the most fitting anniversary for the public exercises.

—The Tennessee Legislature enacted a law making it a crime for common carriers to make any distinction on account of race or color among their passengers.

☞ On Thursday Mr. Wilson, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, arrived at Washington and will remain until the assembling of Congress. He denies all of the stories attributing to him expressions of opinion either for or against impeachment, and maintains characteristic silence on the subject.

Hon. S. S. Marshall, of Illinois, of the Judiciary Committee, is confined to his hotel by illness.

— The Conservative press of Virginia are much cast down by the result of the late election in that State, and very gloomy forebodings are indulged in.

—A young married woman in Blairgowrie, Scotland, more than two years ago told her friends that she had been several times informed in a dream that her death would occur on the 25th of November, 1867, and, sure enough, it did.

— Butter has met with a heavy fall at St. Albans, Vt., selling at 33 to 35 cents. The New York and Boston markets are overstocked. It is the impression that butter has left the highest figures for the season.

—It is said to have been decided by the directors of the roads between Portland and Boston that there shall be a morning train between the two cities, leaving Portland at a quarter before seven and arriving in Boston at half past eleven; also a train to leave Boston at five P. M., arriving in Portland at ten.

—A countryman, giving evidence before a magistrate in London the other day, spoke of a man in a state of exhaustion as being "as faint as beans," a novel illustration, and one that sounds odd (being generally regarded as a fortifying aliment), until we remember the intensely sweet smell of their blossoms is said to have a bad effect on those who fall asleep under its influence.

— A gentleman residing a short distance north of Huntsville, Ohio, sold from his farm, a few days ago, a single-curled black walnut to a Boston dealer for $500. The tree was not an exceedingly large one. The purchaser, after the tree had been felled, and its true value ascertained, remarked that he would not take $2000 for it.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevada, 90 him a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,579 64	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of ferment transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of $85 miles $28,252,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a bond investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT at present and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS,

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from date of last added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, to which have been granted by the Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are a first and exclusive claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Only half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to widows, executors, institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

[SECOND EDITION.]

Down from the North one summer's day,
Bringing from Washington fresh dismay,
The lightning flash of the telegraph bore,
Like a herald in haste at the General's door,
The terrible rumble and grumble and roar
His acts had kicked up on the Cabinet floor,
And how Andy threatened to send him away;

And once again flashed o'er the nervous wire,
An order that blazed without a patriot's fire,
From a chieftain cast in the Spartan mould,
Who tired of being deceived and controlled
By Niggers and Irish, ordered Sheryy to hold
Himself ready, without any further delay,
To get up from Orleans and ride away.

From Orleans town there's a road of rails,
Where the iron horse horse carries our Uncle's mails,
And o'er it one evening, calm and still,
On schedule time dashed the hero, Phil,
Toward a pleasant place known as Smoky Hill,
Where the Indians are out on a terrible tear,
Collecting a revenue tax on hair—
But little thought he that summer's day
That people were glad he was miles away.

His might have felt vexed at his luckless fate,
Perhaps blessed is author both early and late;
And as he dashed northward, further and faster,
Foreboded him only the doom of disaster,
For daring to teach him he was yet his master.
But little he recked they he had left behind,
For the storms that ruffled his angry mind;
His reign was o'er—their hearts were gay,
With Sheridan fifty miles away.

But should he come back and see the crowd
Who audibly wink and smile aloud,
Because he is gone. What would he do?
I'm almost afraid to imagine—whew!
Dash at his pen, and an order indite,
Making it penal for men to be white;
Dismiss the President, change all the laws;
In fact, be hard to say where he would pause,
But then there's no danger of this now, because
He is flying far out toward the setting day,
Where the red skins are raising the devil to pay;
And the people breathe freer, as well they may,
With Sheridan hundreds of miles away.

Hurrah! hurrah for Sheridan!
Hurrah for the iron horse and man!
And when the first comes rattling back
Over the Jackson Railroad track,
Leaving the General safe and sound
On his way to the happy hunting ground,
Let them paint on its boiler beside its name,
In letters that shine like the god of day,
This is the Engine that claims the fame
Of carrying Sheridan miles away.
N. O. Times.

WICKLIFFE—A VERSE CONCERNING HIS ASHES.—We find the following interesting resume of a mooted literary question, in the Editor's Easy Chair of the November Harper:

Daniel Webster, in his address to the Sons of New Hampshire in Boston, says, "Gentlemen, the bones of poor John Wickliffe were dug out of his grave seventy years after his death and burned for his heresy, and his ashes were thrown upon a river in Warwickshire.—Some one says:

"The Avon to the Severn runs,
The Severn to the sea
And Wickliffe's dust shall spread abroad
Wide as the waters be."

Who wrote the lines?

Bartlett's Dictionary of Familiar Quotations says in a note, "In obedience to the order of the Council of Constance (1425) the remains of Wickliffe were exhumed and burned to ashes, and these cast into the Swift, a neighboring brook running hard by." The note then quotes from Fuller's Church History the famous passage, "Thus this brook hath conveyed his ashes into Avon; Avon into Severn: Severn into the narrow seas; they into the main ocean. And thus the ashes of Wickliffe are the emblem of his doctrine, which now is dispersed all the world over."

This note also refers to Foxe's Book of Martyrs, in which he says, "For though they digged up his body, burned his bones and drowned his ashes, yet the word of God and truth of his doctrine, with the fruit and success thereof they could not burn."

It is from Fuller that the thought comes.—But who put it into the striking form in which it has become familiar? There is a similar thought in a stanza of a hymn from the German of Martin Luther, in Rice's Quotations; but it is applied to the dust of all martyrs, and is a rhymed paraphrase of the "blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church."

Bartlett, we think, refers also to these lines in a work of the Rev. John Cummings, "The Voice of the Dead," and we learn that they are often quoted in sermons upon missionary occasions.

So Wordsworth in his sonnet to Wickliffe. Among the ecclesiastical sonnets:

"As those these ashes, little brook, will bear
Into the Avon, Avon into Severn,
Of Severn into narrow seas, Severn to the sea,
Into the main ocean they; this deed accursed
An emblem yields to preachers and enemies,
How the bold preacher's doctrine, sanctified
By truth, shall spread throughout the world dispersed."

Wordsworth, in a note, owns his debt to Fuller, and certainly his version is merely Fuller put into water.

A friend says, "Webster in quoting the verse in his New Hampshire speech, if I remember correctly, refers to it as the prophetic utterance of a contemporary mind, which satisfies me that he knew nothing of its origin, or, as I suggested to you, that he made it himself. The science of the earth was not then, nor was it written in the age of Wickliffe, for Wickliffe was cotemporary with Chaucer; and down to the times of Skelton, a century later, there was no such easy and flowing versification as this in the English tongue."

HARPER'S
New Monthly Magazine.
Critical Notices of the Prices.
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in which such pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited.—Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.
We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been to no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1867.

CHARLESTON, S. C., POLITICIANS of the old school, call for a Reaction Convention, to be held in Charleston Nov. 6. In their call they say:

The chief business to be done by the Convention will be to issue an address to the people of the State and county expressive of our opposition to the policy which gives the negro the control of the ballot box and jury box; to memorialize Congress to reconsider the reconstruction bills and remove the existing obstacles to a full, free and harmonious expression of the intelligent public opinion.

Is not this very modest for the old Nullifiers and Fire Eaters to call on Congress to reconsider the Reconstruction bills?—What they mean is, for Congress to repeal the Reconstruction Laws! But they don't like to call them laws.

☞ A Washington dispatch of Nov. 1 reads thus:

Letters are being received from respectable negroes saying that they are in fear of the whites at the South, and urging that they be granted permission to form military companies.

We take this to be an offset for the bugbear dispatch about fears of a negro insurrection.

☞ If an enormous issue of greenbacks should be made for the purpose of paying off bonds which we promised to pay in gold, who would be the principal sufferers? Not the bondholders, but the workingmen. The redundancy of paper would affect not only the bonds but the entire currency; and the loss would fall heaviest upon the poor man whose hardly-earned dollar would suddenly become worth only fifty cents. Yet this is the result which the repudation party is striving to bring about.

☞ A German named Brontze shot a young man named Otterson because he came to his house in Guttenberg, N. J., to pay attentions to his daughter. After young Otterson fell upon the walk he was taken into Brontze's house and it is doubtful if he will recover. The ball entered his side and has been extracted. Otterson declines to make any charge.

☞ In Georgia, returns from all parts of the State show but few white votes polled.—The convention is carried overwhelmingly.—The conservative papers denounce General Pope's extension of the time for voting as illegal.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL IN DELAWARE. In a case before the Court of General Sessions, at Dover, objection being made to the evidence of the complainant, a colored man, on the ground that the laws of Delaware do not permit colored testimony where there are competent white witnesses, Chief Justice Gilpin ruled that the testimony be admitted, because, as he said, it had been customary in his court to permit prosecuting witnesses to testify, even though they were colored, but he gave it as his opinion from the bench, which could as well be settled now as at any other time, that the Civil Rights Bill of Congress, so far as it assumed to regulate and control the admission or rejection of testimony in this State, which was regulated by the laws of the State, was inoperative and void. Judge Woolson concurred in the decision and Judge Wales dissented. Should this decision be appealed to the Court above, it would doubtless be sustained.

The decision is right; the dictum is wrong, and would be reversed in the U. S. Supreme Court, if it ever got there in the shape of a decision.

— At Hartford, Vt., there is a wealthy and miserly farmer who quarreled with his wife fifteen years ago, and though they live in the same house and eat at the same table, they have not spoken to each other since. Two daughters, well along "in the thirties," complete this "happy family."

— Returns of the election in West Virginia come in slowly. There does not seem to be any material change in the political complexion of the Legislature; some few counties show Republican gains upon the popular vote, but probably most of the gains are on the Democratic side.

— The Presidential Election in Mexico is over, and, as was expected, has resulted in favor of Juarez. His triumph seems to have been more complete than his most sanguine friends anticipated. So far as heard from he has carried every Mexican State.

— The Secretary of the Treasury has power, under a joint resolution of Congress, to anticipate at his discretion, the payment of any interest twelve months in advance of the time at which it may be specifically due. It is under this law that the Secretary has now given the public the advantage of a few days in the matter November interest.

— A Madrid paper says scientific researches have established the fact that the Pyrenees have, in the last twenty years, lost thirty metres in altitude. Supposing the depression to continue, after the lapse of one thousand years, the chain that separates Spain from France will disappear altogether, in which case the Ebro will fall into the Bay of Biscay instead of emptying itself into the Mediterranean.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The Manchester Union states that within a half mile square of land in Wilmot there have been raised this season 6000 bushels of potatoes, which have been contracted for at $1 per bushel.

The Manchester Post Office delivered 26,187 letters last month.

Thomas Line, a lad ten years of age, had his right hand badly crushed on Friday, by being caught in running gear in the mule room of the Manchester mills.

Dr. Lyman Lombard died at his residence in Colebrook, recently, at the age of 79 years and 8 months. He had been a practicing physician more than 50 years, and was always a prominent man in the business of the community.

The dwelling house and buildings of Moses P. Odiorne in Allenstown were burned Saturday, Oct. 26. Loss $1500. The furniture was mostly saved. The fire caught on the roof.

Adjutant Gen. Head, at Concord, has issued an official circular conveying his profound thanks to those military organizations which took part in the "Sheridan" parade last Thursday. He also expresses his admiration of the magnanimity with which they bore the disappointment of losing an interview with so gallant an officer.

Among the recent deaths of yellow fever at New Orleans is that of Capt. W. D. McPherson, formerly of Concord, and in the late war an officer of New Hampshire sharpshooters. His demise will be regretted by many.

In Salisbury, about four miles from the line of the Northern Railroad, cider is now selling in small and large quantities for five dollars a barrel.

Edgar Quimby, 10 years old, of Concord, while at play in the south school house yard, was hit on the side of the head by a chip thrown by a playmate, fell and died instantly.

GOLD, Saturday, 141 1-2.

—The schooners Winona of Boothbay and Alice C. Fox of Gloucester, both lately supposed to be sunk with all on board, are now known to be safe.

—Speaker Colfax well says, "Every stamp you put upon a deed, a check or a mortgage, is a Democratic sticking plaster, to remind you of a Democratic rebellion."

— Accounts from all the Southern States in which elections have not yet been held represent that they will all go strongly Republican except Texas.

— Four Baltimore members of the Maryland Young Men's Christian Association left the convention because a colored man was elected Vice President.

— The weather for the last few weeks has been very favorable to the sugar crop of Louisiana. It is expected to be about a half larger than last season.

—A 3000 pound grindstone in Sibley & Young's scythe factory at Athol, exploded, Thursday week, seriously injuring Mr. Young, and doing considerable damage to the building.

— Elections are held in the following States next Tuesday: Delaware, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York and Wisconsin.

— A complaint reaches the British Government that the policy of England in Central Asia is bad, and that unless it is changed she will have to fight for her Indian empire.

—Mrs. Mary A. Gausset, an aged French woman living in East Lee, Mass., while on her way across the mountains toward Washington to visit a son, recently, lost her way, and was found dead, after several days' search.

— Charles XV., the present King of Sweden, is a landscape painter of no mean acquirements. He exhibits regularly in the art galleries of Sweden, and is the only monarch whose works appear in those of Paris.

— By way of caution to smokers, a Parisian paper, the Salut Public, tries to make out that the last cigar smoked by M. Fould was the cause of his death, inasmuch as nicotine, the poisonous principle of tobacco, acts as a heart poison.

— The provisions ring in the Board of Trade, Chicago, was considerably excited on Saturday morning by the announcement on Change that D. D. Michaels, a provision operator in pretty large figures and the publisher of the Daily Commercial Circular, had suddenly absconded, leaving as a memorial to his credulous friends and financial bankers a large amount of forged paper in the shape of warehouse receipts, aggregating it is said full $70,000.

— A Washington dispatch says that two or three Virginia radicals, now in the city, freely express their opinion that the recent elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania will have a wholesome effect upon the constitutional convention soon to assemble. A large number of the delegates are totally unused to political life, and under ordinary circumstances they would be certain to commit grave blunders, but with a sullen enemy on their own soil and the Democrats of the North boasting of future victories, they will be driven to prudence.

☞ On Thursday evening, at New York city, the ferry boat John Darcy, with over 400 passengers on board, started from the foot of Desbrosses street, and when about two lengths out was struck with a terrible concussion by the powerful freight steamer John Taylor, cutting into the cabins of the former several feet. Great confusion ensued among the passengers, but by the presence of mind of the pilot the Darcy was run back into the slip and all the passengers safely landed. The Darcy was then started for the Jersey side, in tow of the Taylor, but before reaching her destination the water reached her engines and she sank upon the flats off Hoboken. It is remarkable that no lives were lost.

☞ Washington dispatches of Saturday state that no more extensions will be given to railroads whose indebtedness to the Government was allowed to run until Nov. 1.

It is not thought Jeff. Davis' trial will be commenced this month. Smuggling operations on the coast of North Carolina are reported as broken up, with the loss of three lives to the smugglers. In Richmond, negroes who voted for the convention are being discharged in great numbers by their employers.

CABLE ITEMS.—At St. Petersburg, Nov. 1, the marriage of King George of Greece to the Princess Olga took place with great pomp and ceremony.

The Paris Monitcur says that the Emperor Napoleon has demanded of King Victor Emmanuel an explanation of the invasion of the Roman territory by the Italian forces.

A Florence dispatch of Nov. 1 says that Garibaldi remained at Monte Rotonda with a force estimated at 5000 strong.

The Florence police have taken possession and closed the bureaux of the National party, and the headquarters of the relief organizations of this city and elsewhere, by order of the Italian Government.

A Berlin journal, possessing a semi-official character, says that Prussia will intervene in the Roman difficulty, should such action on her part be necessary to preserve the peace of Europe.

The Florence Nacione of Nov. 1, denies the truth of the report that French troops have arrived in Rome. The Italian army, which has entered the Papal territory, is under the command of General Cialdini.—Garibaldi has retired to Monte Rotonda.—He has made no reply to the summons of the Italian government to disarm his volunteers.

At Dublin, great excitement has been created by the wanton shooting of two policemen on Wednesday night. A proclamation has been issued by the Government, offering a reward of £1000 for the arrest of the assassins. The police in this city and throughout the island are searching for the murderers. Two suspected persons have already been apprehended, and are now in custody awaiting an examination.

☞ Prominent financial men are writing to Washington, urging the passage by Congress of a law for the consolidation of all of the maturing indebtedness of the United States into a long five per cent. gold bearing bond, to be known in the financial business of the country as the American consol.

☞ In New York city, 80 general and extensive have been the seizures of distilleries and rectifying establishments by the Internal Revenue officers, that only three are now in operation. Collector Shook of the 32d district reports the total collections at his office for October at $620,986, which is $40,000 over September.

☞ At New Orleans there were nine yellow fever interments during the twenty-four hours ending Friday morning. Gen. Harvey F. Hayes has been removed from the office of Sheriff of Orleans parish by Special Order No. 167, for obstructing reconstruction, and Cuthbut Bullett is appointed to fill the vacancy.

☞ Massachusetts paid Ex-Gov. Andrew the highest honors on Saturday, the expression of esteem being general throughout the State.

We are glad to see a disposition on the part of the manufacturers in this country to excel in quality, and of consumers to purchase the best in the market, especially in the articles which enter into the food of man. We are led to the above remarks since having the pleasure of eating some very nice, light biscuit made from Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Our better half announces it the best she ever saw. Most of the grocers and druggists sell it. 3t7

☞ Good Wine makes good blood. See advertisement of Speer's Wines in another column, —the best for Table, Family and Medicinal Use.

PURE OLD GIN.—Dunster's fine old London Dock Gin is now the standard article of the kind. It is sold generally by grocers and druggists, in large bottles, and at a very reasonable price. 3

"FIGURES WON'T LIE."—Neither will Fyle's Saleratus. It will give you good bread, biscuit, cakes and puddings every time required. No false pretences about Fyle's Saleratus! Try it, and see! Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 2d

Where are you going?
I am going into CARTER'S Saloon, to get a dozen Providence River Oysters, on half shell.
Has he got Providence River Oysters?
Yes; and has made arrangements to have a supply of them all the time.
Does he cook them?
Yes, any way you desire; Fried in Crumbs, Batter, Roasted or Stewed. So come along and see if you do not get suited at CARTER'S, Corner Congress and Chestnut streets. n04

WEST VIRGINIA.—The recently reported Democratic victories and gains in this new State, turn out to be something like the Whig victories of twenty years ago. The Wheeling Intelligencer of November 1, estimates that the Senate will stand as follows: 20 Republicans to 2 Democrats, and the House about the same as last year, say 44 Republicans to 11 Democrats.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC, by Robert B. Thomas, makes its seventy-sixth annual visit, the number for 1868 having been published by Brewer & Tileston, Boston. It is like the face of a venerable friend, pleasant to look upon; though unlike them, it lives a great while but never grows old.

—Dickens will commence his readings, in Boston, about the 20th inst.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the profession, and medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth compels me to say that your Plasters have given more permanent relief than all the remedies I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all the various diseases such a great curative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is filled with blood vessels, nerves and absorbants. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a human sick and miserable, and until for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner:—The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its course, then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to have consumption, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is opium, which soothes or stops a cough, which locks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seawood Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 56 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup, and Seawood Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

TO OWNERS OF HORSES.—THOUSANDS of Horses Die Yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobins' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy, it has been used and approved of for 20 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables in England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years, and said it was superior to any other he had tried. Recollect, Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment is put up in pint bottles.—Take no other. Sold by Druggists and Saddlers. Depot 56 Cortland street, N. Y. o84dwim

Local.

☞ Among the improvement we are always pleased to note about town, is one at the Concord Depot, whereby one track is removed from their station, and the hitherto pinched up platform for passengers considerably enlarged.

And speaking of railroads—the passing of the afternoon trains in this city, at the Eastern Depot, where there are no platforms, is about as uncomfortable and uncertain an arrangement for travelers, if not dangerous, as we can well imagine; and there ought to be some reconstruction in the matter, for this is not like Eastern Road management generally.

☞ The new ship Yo Semite was taken into dock on Saturday, to ascertain the damage, if any, sustained by the collision with the old house on Church Point while moving her from the ship yard to the wharf. A thorough survey shew that she had sustained no damage, the greatest injury being that to the old house which was built where no house should ever have been allowed, and aside from a feeling of commiseration with the families residing therein, no one will feel a particle of regret for the removal of the unsightly old "pigeon coop" from the banks of our beautiful river.

The Yo Semite, we understand, will be commanded by Capt. Mack, of Portland, and was built for the California trade, though she will probably make one or two short voyages ere she doubles the Horn.

☞ If only the weather is favorable, there will be some good sport and a great crowd of people (from far and near) at the Rockingham Trotting Park this week. An extra train will run each day on the C. & P. Railroad; and the trotting will commence at 1 o'clock each afternoon, so as to allow ample time to finish. The advertisements of the Fair and the Railroad, give all particulars.

It is the Union Cornet Band that furnishes music for the Fair, instead of the Portsmouth Band as we advertised by mistake; though we understand they have secured the services of several of the members of the old Band in order that they may render their music the more acceptably.

☞ It gives us pleasure to recommend the Lecture of Rev. Henry Morgan of Boston, on "Street Life in Boston," at the Temple Wednesday evening next, not less on account of the beneficiary of the occasion, than for the distinguished gentleman himself, who as as a writer and speaker, is a great favorite with the public. His popular book, "Ned Nevins, the News Boy," has met with an unprecedented success, having already reached the twentieth thousand.

NAVAL.—Acting 2d Asst. Engineer H. M. Little and Acting 3d Asst. Engineers Harry Litchfield and James Campbell have been detached from the Yucca and placed on waiting orders.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 2.—John Woramell and Thomas Dailey, charged with being druuk, both pleaded guilty, and were severally mulcted of $6.86 fine and costs.

☞ Hon. Horton D. Walker of this city, and Joseph Kidder, Esq., of Manchester, have been re-appointed Trustees of the State Reform School.

☞ We are requested to state that a meeting of the "Young Men's Christian Association" will be held on Thursday evening next, at their rooms in Market street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to come before the meeting. 3t

☞ The Ladies' Humane Society will meet at Mrs. Lyman's on Monday, Nov. 9th.

☞ A dispatch from Weston the pedestrian on Saturday evening, reported him at Sterling Hill, four miles east of Plainfield, Ct., where he would remain until Monday morning, and then resume his journey. It was reported that his foot was injured by his being thrown down in the crowd that pressed to see him at Pawtucket on Friday night, on account of which he would not attempt to walk the hundred miles to Hartford.

—A funny man says the rise in the price of frogs is in consequence of the preparations to toady Dickens.

— By a recent German invention, concussions of the air are made visible. The intensity and duration of thunder can thus be accurately measured by the eye.

— Seba Smith, the once popular humorist, author of "Jack Downings's Letters," is in feeble health at his residence at Patchogue, L. I.

—The new grass so rapidly spreading in the South, called Lepidasa, came from Japan. The Charleston papers unite in pronouncing it the greatest blessing in the form of grass that has ever been bestowed on the South.

— It is reported that the evidence taken in Kentucky by the Sub-committee of Elections is quite voluminous, and will probably result in the exclusion of two of the Kentucky members.

—A young clerk lately made a sketch on the wall of a room in the Paris Bourse, where brokers' clerks assembled. It depicted "L. N. B." a la Blondin, blindfolded, balancing Bismarck on one end of his pole, against Garibaldi on the other. The police found out the youth, prosecuted him, and invited his employers to discharge him.

— Eleven of the New York churches have boy choirs.

— It was about forty years ago, when Bishop Heber, having to preach a missionary sermon in the church of his father-in-law, found there was no hymn to sing after his discourse. It was late, and Saturday night; the sermon was to be given the next morning, so the poet took half a sheet of note paper, and wrote his hymn "From Greenland's icy Mountains" currente calamo, and with but one slight alteration of a line it remains to-day as he first wrote it.

They may be worn inside of Rubber Boots without slippers, and will prevent the bad results of the perspiration of the feet.

They may be worn with thin soled leaky boots in any walking with perfect safety.

They are of GREAT VALUE to the health of SCHOOL CHILDREN, who are liable to sit all day with damp, cold feet, and sow the seed of disease.

Sold by Boot and Shoe Dealers. Retail price 31 per pair. Circulars and Certificates sent free. At wholesale only by E. A. HILL, Proprietor, No. 7 Union street, Boston, Mass.

Certificate from R. Williams, Esq., Treasurer of the Worcester Railroad, BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1867.

MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.

Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with tighter boots through the summer, and find them to exceed my anticipations, keeping them moist and cool in hot weather, and giving an agreeable elasticity in walking.

Very truly yours,

n6sodaw HORACE WILLIAMS.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, where further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimates. The figures for the quarter ending October 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$187,379 01	$86,54847	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of Government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $145,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of $65 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—and including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving in first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 93 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed railroad, and its entire railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and only when the value is more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have the additional special and peculiar advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 300 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest on the Bonds, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, valuable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

KIND INQUIRIES.—Cousin Kate was a sweet, wide-awake beauty of about seventeen, and she took it into her head to go down on Long Island to see some relations of hers who had the misfortune to live there. Among these relations there chanced to be a young swain who had seen Kate on a previous occasion, and seeing, fell deeply in love with her. He called at the house on the evening of her arrival, and she met him on the piazza, where she was enjoying the evening air in company with two or three of her friends.

The poor fellow was so bashful that he could not find his tongue for some time. At length he stammered out: "How's your mother?" "Quite well, thank you."

Another silence on the part of Josh, during which Kate and her friends did the best they could to relieve the monotony. After waiting about fifteen minutes for him to commence to make himself agreeable, he again broke the silence by "How's your father?" which was answered much after the same fashion as the first one, and then followed another silence like the other.

"How's your father and mother?" again put in the bashful lover. "Quite well, both of them." This was followed by an exchange of glances and a suppressed smile. This lasted some ten minutes more, during which Josh was fidgeting in his seat and stroking his Sunday hat. But at length another question came, "How's your parents?" This produced an explosion that made the woods ring.

NEW EDITION OF THE SCRIBERS.—Petroleum V. Nasby, who runs the "Military and Biblical Institoot" of Kentucky, thus records one result of the defeat of negro suffrage in Ohio:

"The Fekulty uv the Institoot met next mornin for the purpus of revisin the Scripters. It waz desided that the word white shood be inserted wherever necessary, and that the odishen only be yoosed by the Dimocracy and Conservativ Republikins. We made progress, the fullerin bein a few uv the changes:

'So God creatid a white man in his own image.'

'Whoever, therefore, shall confess me before white men,' &c.

'Suffer little white children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.'

Wich last iz comfortin', ez it shows that the distinchen iz kept up through all eternity. I give these merely as samples. We shel hev it finisht in a few days, and ef funds can be raised, shel publish it. Sich a vershun uv the Skripters iz needid."

— The Artizan says the value of improvements in machinery may be estimated from the fact that in 1819 it required two furnaces, each with a high chimney shaft, to produce 1000 feet of glass per week, while now two furnaces with but one shaft, produce 12,000 feet, with the same, if not a smaller, consumption of fuel.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1867.

CABLE DISPATCHES state that Garibaldi is still at Monte Rotonde, where he has strongly intrenched himself. He declines to disperse his volunteers so long as the Italian Ministry remains without change.

The Emperor Napoleon has made a proposition to the King of Italy to submit to the citizens of Rome and the inhabitants of the Papal provinces a settlement of the Roman question by popular vote, but the Italian Government declines to accept this plan for a solution of the question in which the interests of the whole nation are so deeply concerned.

It is again reported that the United States have purchased the Danish West India Islands, but the amount to be paid is now stated to be $14,000,000 in gold. Mr. Cristen, formerly Governor of St. Thomas, it is said, will be sent to Washington by the Danish Government to complete the transfer of the Islands.

A farewell dinner was given to Charles Dickens on Saturday evening in London.

Clara Louise Kellogg, the American prima donna, made her first appearance in Europe at Her Majesty's Theatre, London, on Saturday evening, as Margaret in the opera of Faust. The house was completely filled. The Prince of Wales was present and occupied the Royal box. The audience was brilliant, critical and enthusiastic.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Several Southern men have within a few days solicited the President to interfere with certain orders promulgated by Generals Pope and Schofield, relative to details in the late elections in their military districts. They received no satisfaction, and have left with the belief that the President lacks courage to do anything. Gen. Grant has also listened patiently to their appeals, but informed them that he has no authority under the law.

The President and Secretary McCulloch have been in frequent consultation during the past week. It is his intention to write on the subject of National finances in the annual message, and to that end he has of late given attention—not only looking into the financial views of the Secretary, but listening to those from unofficial quarters.

A foreign vessel lately attempted to land smuggled goods on the coast of North Carolina, and had a collision with the custom boat. The boat containing three smugglers and goods was capsized and all went to the bottom, whereupon the vessel set sail and escaped.

A great portion of the revenue frauds are now broken up, and the revenue Friday exceeded $1,500,000.

The National Democratic Committee has issued an address urging all freemen to vote.

Two hundred and thirty-seven negroes were discharged in Richmond for voting for the convention.

SCRAPS FROM WASHINGTON, Monday.—Gen. Schofield has ordered that the Convention in Virginia be held Dec. 3d. He also shows that the extension of the time of voting was authorized by the State laws.

It is said that President Johnson expressed deep regret at the death of so good a man as ex-Gov. Andrew.

Alarming accounts reach Gen. Grant's headquarters from all parts of the South, relative to anticipated negro troubles.—Gen. Grant has ordered military commanders to preserve the peace at all hazards.

The Tribune's special says Gen. Canby has ordered registration reopened in the Carolinas for revision and additional names.

An Augusta, Ga., special to the Tribune says every county in the State yet heard from, wherein the white vote preponderates, gives a large majority for a convention. Atlanta gives 2000 Republican majority. The Republicans have carried the State.

ENLARGED.—The N. H. Patriot comes to us in an enlarged and improved form, being now its original size before the war, and printed mainly upon new type. It was always a well printed and well edited newspaper.

— Young, the alleged rober of the Norway Bank, Maine, it is stated, has been clearly identified with the burglary at Cornish, in the same State, through which D. W. O'Brion and others lost a large amount of money and bonds.

—Within the last few Days there have been slight falls of snow in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota, as well as at Winchester and Wheeling, West Virginia, and on the mountains in Alleghany county, Md. In Richmond, last Wednesday, the roofs of houses were covered with snow.

— A Richmond special says a strong reaction has set in within the last few days, in favor of Gen Schofield and the military. The official returns have been received at headquarters. Total vote cast, 169,228; majority for the Convention, 45,455. The total number of white votes cast was 76,084; the total number of colored votes was 93,145.

For the Chronicle.

TEN SHIPS IN THREE.—An explanation of this seeming incongruity will be apparent on a visit to the Pier or adjacent wharves, where two ships and a bark are moored; equal at least in tonnage to ten ships of former days within our remembrance.

My limits at this time will not admit of a detailed description of these noble vessels—a passing glance at each must suffice.

The elegant bark "Quickstep," over eight hundred tons, was the first to leave the dry ground and slide into the open and inviting arms of the renowned Piscataqua. The Quickstep is one of the finest compositions of the day, from the brain of Tobey & Littlefield, is spiked and bolted into tangibility by the strong arms of home and neighboring mechanics. No doubt in a good breeze she will perform the double-quick to admiration. Go soon before she steps out.

Next in turn to leave her dry berth place, was the powerful ship Merrimac, running with eager delight to kiss her smooth browed, smiling sister Piscataqua. This ship, over twelve hundred tons, was first a sculptured beauty in the brain of Neal, developed into a solid reality by skillful assistants at the distinguished ship yard "Foreside." She is one of the noblest ships afloat, elegantly equipped from lower deck to skyscail pole—bearing the name of a worthy sister to the Piscataqua—both rivers being also very dignified mothers, sending forth some of the most athletic, daring, swift and beautiful children that ever laughed at ocean spray or unfurled Columbia's banner to the breeze.

The third grand specimen of mechanic art in this vicinity, was let loose one week ago from terra firma—embraced her long yearned-for aquatic lover, old Strawberry Bank's deep winding river—rose beautifully gay from her cooling bath, shook her wet locks and stood to her iron links like a blushing maiden waiting for the regalia of her bridal day. The wind and tide being strong—this water-witch became restless, waiting for steam—took her own course, and in her ladyship's coquetting pranks, knocked down a large house called the "Pigeon Coop," more properly a human coop, filled with families, to the injury of some and great scare of many at Church Point, with a slight ruffling of her own long trail on the rough pavement down below, but soon pushed on to her stopping place.

And hanging at her chain
With steady strain,

This staunch and sea-daring looking ship, I think over twelve hundred tons, is also from the famous ship yard of Tobey & Littlefield, and takes the euphonous name Yo Semite, said to be properly rendered Yo Sem-i-te, from a mighty water fall in California, and probably of some distinguished Indian chief in that quarter. Nine cheers for the accomplished draughtsmen, industrious mechanics and enterprising owners of these ten-in-three beautiful ocean queens. NEPTUNE.

QUICK TIME.—General Sheridan was carried from Newmarket Junction to Manchester, on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, in forty-eight minutes, distance thirty-two miles. The engine used was the B. A. Kimball, Barrett engineer, with a baggage and passenger car.

On Saturday night the Northern train was three-quarters of an hour late at Manchester, and "Littlefield," with his engine, baggage and two passenger cars, run from Manchester to the Junction in forty minutes (running time), saving his connection by four minutes. Under Superintendent Kendrick this Road is rising, Phenix-like, from the ashes of heretofore bad management.

☞ To night, we are disagreeably reminded by the blowing of horns, is the anniversary of Guy Fawkes' night. When this babarous annual charivari will finally cease in this locality, has long been a matter of doubt to us.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—A fire in Newport on Friday morning, broke out at two o'clock, in the rear of Sugar River Hotel, occupied by a Mr. Case. The hotel, shed and stable, with part of their contents were destroyed. Loss $5000, insured $3100. On one side of the hotel were a double dwelling house and barn burned, owned by Ethan Chase. Loss $3000; insured $2000. On the other side of the hotel there was burned the Whitney and Sibley block, the first story of which was occupied by the owners as a country store. A family lived overhead. Goods mostly removed from the store. There was insurance of $500 on the building. The fire was thought to have the work of an incendiary, and the whole loss will exceed $10,000.

In the Municipal Court, Boston, Friday afternoon, James H. Sweetser, bailing from New Hampshire, was charged with larceny of a pair of suspenders from Merrill's furnishing store on Washington street, and it being shown by his own confession that this was not his first offence, he was sentenced to the House of Correction for six months.

Mr. A. F. Marsh was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church in Rochester, Nov. 1. Sermon by Rev. Mr. Walker of Dover; Ordaining Prayer by Rev. Dr. Tobey of Durham.

On Sunday night about 11 o'clock, some fellows set fire to a small wooden building used as a lockup and attached to the City Almshouse at West Concord, which was burnt. While the keeper was out endeavoring to quench the flames, his office was entered and a trunk broken open and robbed of six hundred dollars. A card of friction matches was found near it.

GEORGIA ELECTION.—From the election returns, received at headquarters, it is estimated that 105,000 votes were cast on the question of a convention, out of 186,000 registered. The official count only can show the majority in favor of the convention, but there seems to be no doubt that the majority is large. Opposition candidates were nominated only in the northern part of the State, where the whites are largely in a majority. In other portions of the State, the Conservatives took no part in the contest, and candidates favoring a convention were elected by large majorities.

SUFFRAGE IN OHIO.—The Governor, Att. Gen., and Sec. of State have completed the canvass of the vote on the constitutional amendment. The total number of votes cast is 484,603; for the amendment 216,387; against it 255,340, being a majority against it of 38,353. The remaining 12,276 were blanks.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The annual meeting of the Strafford County Temperance League will be held at American Hall, Dover, Tuesday, Nov. 12.

FROM RICHMOND.—Gen. Schofield has issued an order, convening the State convention at the 3d of December.

— Colter won the five mile rowing match against McKiel, at Pittsburg, Wednesday, and pocketed $2000. Time—41 minutes and 51 seconds.

— Hon. Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, has purchased the Reno, Oil Creek and Pithole railroad for $121,000. That sum is about one-teath the original cost of the road.

— The London papers are complaining of the high price of food in that city. Corn has risen twenty per cent. in a month, and the prospect for winter appears decidedly bad. What the poor will do with the rising prices of the necessaries of life, is a subject the papers hesitate to contemplate.

— "Amiral" Semmes, having failed as professor of moral philosophy and as editor of the Memphis Bulletin, is about trying to see what he can do as a peripatetic lecturer on the "Alabama." He might illustrate his naval experience by taking the watches, &c., of his auditors.

— James Buck, a baggage-master on the Rome and Watertown Railroad, was instantly killed at Rome, N. Y., Saturday.—The deceased was on a passenger train, and while passing a freight train attempted to look out, and as he did so his head came in contact with the other train, severing it from the body.

—The Farmington (Me.) Chronicle tells of a youngster, of 9 years of age, who started for Boston on foot last week, with his shoes slung over his back. He was pursued and found some fifteen miles off, husking corn in a barn, in order to raise money for his expenses. His widowed mother resides in Boston, and he was bound to see her. That boy will make his way.

MYSTERY.—"Mother," said a little four years old, "If a man is a mister, ain't a woman a mistery?" The greatest mystery in the world to us is, that any one will buy any other Saleratus but Herrick Allen's Gold Medal. It cures dyspepsia, strengthens weak stomachs, saves your teeth from decaying, saves one-half the quantity of shortening, besides it takes so little of the saleratus to do its work. Try it. Most merchants sell it. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York.

"FIGURES WON'T LIE."—Neither will Pyle's Saleratus. It will give you good bread, biscuit, cakes and puddings every time required. No false pretens o about Pyle's Saleratus! Try it, and see! Sold by grocers everywhere, in pound packages. 26

NOT GOLD ONLY,
BUT
RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS
WINES!
California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the lime-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of
THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.
As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.
C. A. RICHARDS & CO.
do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—
"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."
They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARMVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbants. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and quite to derange the performance of the functions of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner:—The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress, when the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible for pulmonary consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for this reason that regular physicians rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver, and stops the healing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, by a Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 32 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

TO OWNERS OF HORSES.—THOUSANDS of Horses Die Yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobins' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cpts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 20 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables in England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years, and said it was far superior to any other he had tried. Recollect, Dr. Tobins' Venetian Liniment is put up in pint bottles.—Take no other. Sold by Druggists and Saddlers. Depot 56 Cortland street, N. Y. o8dwlm

☞ To-night we have the opening of the Lyceum; and we regard it as indisputable, that a full attendance on all such occasions, must result in much more good to the public than to any managers of such institutions, be they ten times more remunerative than they ever were here. Mr. Willetts, who will show up "The Model Wife" this evening, will make almost as much music on that theme as the Portsmouth Cornet Band, who also will give one of their highly enjoyable concerts. This entertainment alone is worth half the price of a ticket for the course; and the whole list is a good and strong one—embracing several of the indispensable old standard favorites, and some new names perhaps equal to any others. For particulars read advertisement. The Temple looks and is better than ever before, and with the population of this city and vicinity, there ought not to be any empty seats to night when the eloquent, witty and humorous Willets brings out his Model Wife.

☞ The grand National Horse Fair at the Rockingham Trotting Park in this city, commences this (Tuesday) afternoon,—and unlike some Fairs, the first day will no doubt be as good as any, for three famous horses are to trot for a $1000 purse, besides another trot for a lesser purse between horses that are new here. The best way is to procure a season ticket, for there will be plenty of sport all the three afternoons. Carriages admitted without charge, we suppose, as usual; and an extra train on the Concord Road will run out and in to well accommodate the public. Trotting begins a little early for some folks to get through dinner; but we understand the design of the managers is, to get through before any trains leave—which we hope will be done.

Remember, the celebrated horses, Col. Maynard, Empress and McClellan, go this afternoon at 1 o'clock, for a purse of $1000.

☞ A gentleman in this city came near losing a nice hog a few days since, in a singular manner. A lot of poppy leaves, which had been steeped for use in sickness, were put among the swill; and Piggy having partook thereof was dangerously sick and stupid for several days, and was only saved by great efforts and the best of nursing. The moral of this would be, for pigs to let poppies alone, but if he learns this, it will be more than his masters do in respect to things which hurt and even kill them, for as we write, we see a sick man passing our window, who is sucking a vile pipe, and daily surely, dying of the same; and how frequent the instances of deathlike, aye, and deathly, devotion of men to worse herbs than poppies, and stronger and more fatal decoctions than upset piggy.

S. J. COURT, PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 4th. Doe, Judge.—Joshua L. Foster vs. Daniel H. Spinney. The trial of this case began on Monday. J. A. Lovering of Greenland is foreman of the jury. The action was brought to recover damages for the destruction of the plaintiff's printing materials, paper, signs and other property, at the States and Union office in Daniel street, by a crowd of persons of which he contends the defendant was one. Hatch and Frink for plaintiff, Hackett and Goodall for defendant.

☞ The following officers constitute a court martial convened at the Rockingham House, in this city, on Monday, to try Brevet Major Wm. D. Fuller, stationed at Fort Constitution, on charges preferred against him by officers at that post: Gen. Henry J. Hunt, President; Gens. J. M. Brannon, R. C. Duryea, L. L. Livingston, R. C. Drum and Joseph A. Haskins; Lieut. Col. George L. Barstow; Lieut. Wheeler, Judge Advocate.

☞ Curtis & Co.'s Theatrical Troupe will perform in this city at the Temple, Nov. 13. This is said to be one of the finest Companies that ever traveled in the New England States. They have an engagement with Mr. Joseph Proctor, the great American tragedian, who will appear in his great character in Nick of the Woods. Mr. C. H. Curtis, from the Boston Theatre, has the sole management of the company, and has engaged some of the finest talent in the profession. The Newburyport Herald says:

"It is superfluous to add anything to the merits of this Company, for the public are unanimous in saying that this is the best company that ever came to this place; and other parties who had the Hall engaged, gave it up to them to come again."

☞ One Portsmouth newspaper case is now on trial in Court here, and another which is pending may come on at this term. The present is brought by the printers of one sheet; and in the other, a different newspaper is defendant. Our private opinion is that a jury to agree on either case, couldn't be found in the County; but we shall see what we shall see—and our wish is, as sporting men say, with a fair field and no favor, may the best man, or the best cause win.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 4.—Rodolph Thorsen, who paid his devotions at the shrine of Bacchus last Sabbath, was awakened from his dream of mythology by the imposition of a fine of $3 and $3.86 costs as a penalty for his being drunk.

☞ A prominent citizen of Hampton Falls writes us that the anonymous scribbler in the Exeter News Letter, who wrote a part of the "slang" letters purporting to come from that town—is a native of Maine; and though he does stay about the Falls, he does no business and owns no land or other property there, or anywhere else.

☞ To-day is the last chance to secure tickets for the Lyceum. The Temple will be open from 10 to 4 o'clock, for the sale of reserved seats. Tickets for the Course will be for sale at the door this evening; and the door will open to-night at 6 o'clock.

☞ Mr. Jacob G. Crockett, formerly of Dover, has been recently appointed acting Master Machinist at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, in place of McIntire resigned.

☞ We are requested to state that a meeting of the "Young Men's Christian Association" will be held on Thursday evening next, at their rooms in Market street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to come before the meeting. 3t

HARPER'S BAZAR.

The Publishers commenced on November 1st, the issue of HARPER'S BAZAR, a Weekly, illustrated Family Journal, devoted to Fashion and Home Literature. The Publishers hope to supply the existing need of a weekly Fashion Newspaper, and to combine therewith a first-class literary Journal which will be indispensable to every household.

Arrangements have been made, at an immense cost, with the most celebrated of the Fashion Papers of Europe, especially with the famous Bazar of Berlin, which supplies the fashions to the leading Journals of Paris, to furnish the same to them in advance, so that henceforth the fashions will appear in Harper's Bazar simultaneously with their publication in Paris and Berlin—an advantage enjoyed by no other Journal in the country.

The patrons of Harper's Bazar will receive every fortnight large pattern-plates, containing from eight to fifteen patterns of full-size Ladies' Misses' and children's bonnets, cloaks, dresses, under-clothing and other articles, accompanied by the necessary descriptions, explanations, and occasionally an elegantly Colored Fashion Plate of the size of Harper's Weekly.

HARPER'S BAZAR will contain 16 folio pages of the size of HARPER'S WEEKLY, printed on superfine calendered paper, and will be published weekly.

SUBSCRIPTIONS, 1868.

The Publishers have perfected a system of mailing by which they can supply the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY and BAZAR promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals directly from the office of Publication.

The postage on Harper's Bazar is 20 cents a year, which must be paid at the subscriber's post-office.

TERMS: Harper's Bazar, one year, $4.

An Extra Copy of either the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of Five Subscribers at $4 each, is one remittance; or Six Copies for $20.

Back Numbers supplied at any time.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Ocean and the Great Interior States over which will meet and connect travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, where further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.
$487,579 61	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 885 miles $26,982,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at PAR, with accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Nine per Cent. on the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government Bonds, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several notable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the whole line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of the Sierra Nevadas, constructed upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

LOANING MONEY.—We happened to see yesterday a notice to the creditors of a bankrupt of this city, which was quite a curiosity in its way. He is the result of one of the wealthiest men on the continent, and his name is perfectly well known to everybody. His father's great wealth has probably enabled him to continue the practice he has followed for years, of borrowing money of anybody and everybody whom he could persuade to lend it. The list of his creditors numbers two hundred and five, and the sums they have loaned him range from $1, which is the smallest, up to $18,905, which is the largest, and which stands against the name of our philanthropic neighbor, Horace Greeley. Probably every man who has had anything to do with business matters for the last ten years, has been all that time familiar with this gentleman's habit of getting his checks cashed by his friends; yet there are scores of persons whom he has victimized in sums of $8000, $4000, $1000, $500, and so down to the smallest sums.—The aggregate must amount to nearly one hundred thousand dollars. We suggest to our neighbor Greeley that he read over some of his latest contributions to the Ledger, on the subject of keeping out of debt and taking care of money.—N. Y. Times.

"WE SHALL EAT THE FRUIT."—A blacksmith had in his possession, but under mortgage, a house and piece of land. Like many others, he was at one time fond of the social glass, but was induced to join the temperance society. About three months after he observed his wife, one morning, busily employed planting rose bushes and fruit trees. "Mary," said he, "I have owned this cot for five years, and yet I have never known you before to care to improve or ornament it in this manner."—"Indeed," replied the smiling wife, "I had no heart to do it until you gave up the drink; I have often thought of it before, but I was afraid strangers would pluck the roses and eat the fruit. Now, with God's blessing, this cot will be ours and we and our children may expect to enjoy the produce. We shall pluck the roses and eat the fruit.

VOLUNTEER DRILL FOR SINGLE MEN. Fall in love with some good and industrious woman. Attention pay to her faithfully and respectfully. Right face in popping the question like a man. Quick march to her parents and ask their consent. File right with her to church, and go through the service of matrimony. Halt and reflect seriously upon the new duties which you have assumed, and then perform them. Right about face from the haunts which you frequented when single, and prefer your own home. Advance arms to your wife when out walking with her, and never leave her to trail behind. Break off staying out at night, and other bad habits, if you wish to have a happy home.

—A Democratic paper says: "The memorials of our party's course during the war are to be found everywhere." Among these are a national debt twice as large as it need to have been, graves of Northern soldiers in every Southern State, widows and wounded men in every town.

— John Minor Botts of Virginia takes a very despondent view of the political condition of Virginia. He thinks that the whites of Virginia are disposed to proscribe negroes for voting in favor of a convention, and says that numbers of the latter have been discharged by their white employers, in the cities as well as in the country. The negroes, Mr. Botts says, are forming co-operative societies, and their determination is not to work for those who have proscribed them when there is a demand for labor.

LETTER FROM THE BISHOP OF ORLEANS TO THE ITALIAN PRIME MINISTER.—The London Times has a second letter from the Bishop of Orleans to Count Ratazzi, concluding as follows:

"M. Ratazzi must be made to know that he cannot go to Rome without passing over our bodies, or we are dishonored. The Papacy overthrown; Piedmont at Rome; the Pope a fugitive, or, in spite of the lies we shall still be told, a prisoner in the hands of Victor Emmanuel; our 18 years of occupation gone for nothing; the traditional policy of France trampled under foot; all our words, all our promises, all our declarations, all that we have so many times and so solemnly proclaimed to France, to Italy, to the Pope, to Europe, all flung to the winds; the greatest national, social and religious interests surrendered and betrayed, and finally the maledictions of the Catholic world and the execratiou of posterity heaped upon us. If we thought we had not here, in presence of such indignities, any other right, any other duty, any other honor than to look on quietly and merely to say like Pilate, 'I wash my hands of it,' if Italy be allowed to inflict such dishonor upon us, I confess that I should blush to be a Frenchman, and whoever thinks otherwise has not French blood in his veins.

Let no one be astonished at the emotion my words betray. The question is—the Emperor himself has proclaimed it—that which men have most at heart and which they hold most sacred. Let it be well known, that the conscience of the Catholic world on this subject is inexorable, and from the day the Pope is overthown the Italian revolution will commence throughout the Christian world. Not long ago the Emperor alluded in noble language to the dark spots on the horizon and to passing reverses. Here the darkness will be too deep, and the reverses will not be transient.—The calumnies of the Pope will cover our star with a funeral pall. No; the fall of the Pope cannot be the counterpart of the fall of Maximilian.

"LOCAL."—It's hard work to get up a local column in these times. We seize our ever-ready quill, scratch our classic head, but there we stop. We might inform our readers that the weather is beautiful, but everybody tells everybody else that a dozen times a day. We tell you what, locals are scarce. Horses don't fall in the canal any more. Children are getting so sharp now-a-days that they never get lost. Whiskey is so bad that a man is too drunk to fight after taking a "few," so there is nothing to write up about that. Oh! joy, there's an excited crowd of politicians standing on the railroad and the express is coming.—Now, if they'll only stand still and get run over, we'll be in our glory. But no, they scamper off, as though their carcasses were valuable, confound the luck. There's nothing to write, so we'll give it up.—Schenectady (N. Y.) Dorpian.

IMPEACHMENT.—In 1787 a proposition to insert a clause in the Constitution providing for the suspension from office of the President, while on trial on charges of impeachment, was voted down in the Convention by eight States against three. Among the States voting for the proposition was Connecticut, and among those opposed to it were New Hampshire and Massachusetts.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

—Anna Dickinson's lecture-posters rather puzzled the people of Buffalo. They read—"Tickets for Idiots and Women sold here."

—The wives of the Viceroy of Egypt refuse to wear the costly and fashionable new dresses which their liege lord bought them at the Paris Exposition. They say they are decidedly too "indecent."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encoriums of its numerous purchasers—for all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1867.

Special Dispatch to the Chronicle.

THE ELECTIONS. — Massachusetts on Tuesday voted for State officers and members of the Legislature, and the result shows a heavy vote. Last year Governor Bullock had 32,012 votes, against 26,671 for Sweetser, the Democratic candidate.—The questions of prohibition and license, as applied to the liquor traffic, entered mostly into the canvassing for members of the Legislature. The vote in Boston for Governor foots up: Bullock 7292, Adams 8775—majority for Adams 1483. Last year Bullock's plurality in Boston was 4998. Up to 8:30 P. M. returns received from 94 cities towns gave Bullock 41,269, and Adams 38,352.

10:10 P. M.—Returns from two hundred cities and towns foot up 73,924 for Bullock, 53,132 for Adams. The same towns last year gave Bullock 68,000, and Sweetser 21,000. Bullock's majority will probably reach 25,000. Lieut. Gov. Claflin and the balance of the Republican State ticket are chosen by about the same majority. The Legislature is very largely Republican in both branches, but the opponents of the prohibitory law probably have two-thirds of each branch. Boston gives 1500 majority for Adams, Charlestown 500, Roxbury 350, Newburyport 650. Chelsea gives 450 majority for Bullock, Fall River 900, New Bedford 1400, Lowell 800, Gloucester 300, Springfield 2, Lawrence 39. P. Harvey is elected councillor, on the Democratic ticket, in the Boston District.

Midnight. — Additional returns of the election in Massachusetts do not change the result previously telegraphed. The Republican majority on the State ticket will exceed 20,000; some claim 30,000. Both branches of the Legislature are strongly Republican, and the prohibitory liquor law has been repudiated in a very emphatic manner.

PERSONAL.—Perley, the old and reliable correspondent of the Boston Journal, has got back to Washington, and in a late letter he says,—

"The rebels here and their sympathizers are gloating over a bit of domestic scandal, which gives them an opportunity to assail a champion of freedom and of the Union; but time will show upon what a small foundation of truth they have erected great falsehood."

He doubtless refers here to Senator Sumner, against whom certain correspondents have done their worst, designing not merely to injure him, but also and chiefly to affect the elections.

Perley also notices the tribute which has been paid in Washington to the memory and worth of Gov. Andrew, by an assembly where Caleb Cushing presided and made a speech. And he adds:

It may not be out of place to state here what several present at the meeting knew to be a fact, that Governor Andrew earnestly desired, during the war, to present the name of Gen. Cushing to the President for appointment as Brigadier General, and that the appointment would have been recommended and made had it not been for the narrow-minded jealousy of two or three small-potato politicians who pertinaciously opposed it.

☞ Gen. Howard has written a letter relative to the reported decrease of the negro population in the South since the beginning of the war. He does not think there has been any such decrease, but thinks the aggregate of negroes now in the United States is considerably larger than it was in 1860. Certain localities of the South show a decrease of the colored population, for there has been a movement among them within the last two years. In the Carolinas and in Georgia there has been a marked removal toward the seaboard, while on the other hand there must be a very considerable increase of the negro population in Texas by reason of the emigration to that State. There are no reliable statistics on the question, but Gen. Howard is quite confident of the accuracy of his opinion, and he has a good chance to form a correct estimate.

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.—A young lady in company with a right reverend pre late, consented, after a long and coy resistance, to be led to the piano. When she sang, it was so badly that, as she finished, so one was found with sufficient heroism to express the collected thanks of the auditore. In this strait his lordship arose, and crossing the room said, with his sweetest smile, "Thank you, Miss. ——, very particularly Another time, when you say you cannot sing, we shall all know how to believe you."

—The Distillers' and Rectifiers' Protective Association of New York, started a few weeks since, is already in debt to lawyers and others to the amount of $10,000.

—Deer hunting on Long Island, New York, has been prohibited for five years and the term expired on the 4th instant. The animals are said to be numerous on the east end of the Island.

—Two coaches on the English plan are to be placed on the Hartford & New Haven railway next month. They will contain six, eight and ten passengers, and be furnished like a parlor.

—Mrs. Sallie Atwood of Merrickville, Mass. died last week at the extreme age of 104 years, 3 months and 12 days. The venerable old lady had been visited by many during the last years of her prolonged existence, to whom she afforded a spectacle of bodily and intellectual vigor as remarkable as her great age.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—The oldest citizen of Raymond, Mr. David Page, died Oct. 20, aged 93. His case was interesting as a specimen of an industrious, temperate and well regulated life, and exhibiting a vigorous old age.

At Raymond, Oct. 28, a Sabbath school Convention was held, (chiefly, but not wholly of schools connected with the Orthodox Congregational societies.) Rev. E. G. Parsons of Derry was Moderator, and Rev. L. Armsby of Candia, Secretary.—Ministers present, Armsby of Candia, Burbank of Danville, Hill of Deerfield, Parker and Parsons of Derry, Stearns of Epping, Chickering and Barrows of Exeter, Pratt of Hampstead, Haines of North Hampton, Chapman and Fullonton of Raymond, and perhaps one or two others whose names were not obtained. Among the subjects considered were, "The Mission of Sabbath Schools," "How to make them efficient," "Qualifications of Teachers," "Prizes, Concerts and Picnics."

A new meeting house, just erected by and for the Christian Society in South Danbury, was dedicated Oct. 31. Sermon by Rev. Wm. Martin. Rev. John Le Bosquet of Danbury took part in the services.

Rev. B. M. Frink has been dismissed by a council, at his request, from being pastor of the Congregational Church at Mount Vernon, and is to preach at Portland, Me.,

Rev. W. Buxton has resigned the pastoral charge of the Unitarian Church in Wilton.

In the case of Amos E. Bradley and Melvin Bradley, who were instantly killed on Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at a Railroad crossing three-fourths of a mile below Rochester village, an inquest was held by Coroner T. J. W. Pray of Dover. The investigation has been very thorough, occupying several days. The verdict of the jury exonerates the Railroad company.

CABLE ITEMS.—The Journal de St. Petersburg prints the official copy of the joint note from Russia, France, Prussia and Italy to the Sultan of Turkey on the Eastern question. After rehearsing the representations which have been made to the Sublime Porte by the European powers, in favor of granting the demands of the Cretans, and for the general amelioration of the condition of the Christians in the Ottoman Empire, all of which seem to have failed to make any impression, the note declares that the great powers will hold the Sultan answerable for rejecting their advice, and responsible for whatever consequences may follow.

The alarm about the Fenians in Liverpool does not subside. Troops have been sent to L., and others are coming. Sir Alfred Horsford, who was so active and efficient in suppressing the outbreak in the south of Ireland, is in command of the military forces.

It is regarded as probable that all the prisoners who have been tried and condemned to death before the Special Commission at Manchester, will have their sentences commuted, except three of the most prominent ones, viz: Allen, Gould and Larkin, who are shown by the evidence to be the actual murderers of policeman Brett.

A Royal proclamation has been issued permitting the return of political exiles to Spain, and remitting the penalties pronounced against them.

The island of St. Croix is not included in the reported sale of the Danish possessions in the West Indies to the United States. So says an item from Copenhagen.

☞ A Washington special to the N. Y. Times says it is false that alarming accounts have reached Gen. Grant's headquarters regarding the arming of negroes, and the General has not sent any special orders South about keeping the peace.

The impeachment reports will be ready for Congress on the 31st inst.

The registered white votes of North Carolina exceed the black by 22,000.

The Tribune's special says the President has asked the Secretary of War to report the number of troops on duty in the Department of Washington.

It is understood that the President is feeling alarmed at the existence of colored militia, and is about taking steps to have the War Department disband all colored organizations of the military in the District of Columbia or Southern States. The colored militia in the District does not number 400.

—A number of sporting men having learned of a contemplated prize fight near New York on Monday, went towards the ground, but as they made their appearance the pugilists and their friends became frightened, and, raising the cry of police, fled in all directions. This mistake broke up the fight.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT EAST KINGSTON. On the 28 ult., as Mr. Simeon P. Clark was walking on the B. & M. Railroad near East Kingston wood house, he stepped off the track to allow a freight train to pass.—As soon as the train had passed—as he supposed—he at once stepped on the track again. But a part of the train had been unshackled, to be left at the woodhouse, and several cars coming along, unnoticed by Mr. Clark, struck him in the back, throwing him into the air about ten feet, injuring him so that he died in a few hours. Mr. Clark was a very estimable citizen of Kingston, and his loss will be deeply felt.—News Letter.

BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.—At the present time there is a general stagnation in this branch of business, although the sales in this town for the month of September were about $550,000, which is a falling off of some $30,000 from the month of August. Since then there has been an unusual dull business, and the workmen are idle about our streets, as the manufacturers do not see their way clear to manufacture many goods except on orders. There has not been so great a falling off in the sale of shoes for the last year as some persons imagine—but there has been a marked difference in the profits of the business. In the unsettled state of the market and the general apprehension that goods would be lower, buyers have been very cautious and bought as closely as possible, and the manufacturers, being desirous to sell all their stock, have been led to sell with but a very slight profit, and in many cases none at all. It must be confessed that the prospect of shoe business for the next two or three months is not very flattering. The fall trade is closed, and the spring trade will probably be backward, unless there is a change in other branches of business, and the market for leather, etc., is more stable.—Haverhill Gazette, 1st.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—At Providence, R. I., Nov. 4, Dr. John McGregor, recently of Thompson, Conn., was thrown from his carriage, in consequence of colliding with a freight car drawn by horses, and fell with his left arm on the track, and it was run over and crushed to the shoulder. The limb was amputated at the shoulder, but the Doctor died within three hours after the accident. Dr. McGregor was Surgeon in a Connecticut regiment, and was made prisoner at the battle of Bull Run.

An intoxicated man was fatally hurt on the Air Line Railroad near Woonsocket.

☞ At New York, Nov. 4, the New York and Havre Steamship Company held a meeting and resolved to discontinue their line and sell their steamers. The Company find it impossible to compete with French steamers, owing to the recent Government subsidy. This will reduce the number of American steamers plying to European ports to the Atlantic and Baltic on the Bremen line.

☞ A severe gale on Lake Erie Sunday night did damage among the vessels; and it is feared several lives were lost.

— The Princess Charlotte, widow of Maximilian, is slowly improving in general health, but her mind wanders as badly as ever.

— Major Joseph Hawks' hotel at Goshen, Mass., with the adjoining barn, was entirely destroyed by an incendiary fire, Thursday night. The post office, which was kept in the house was destroyed with nearly all its papers, but little else of the contents of the building. In the barn, nearly twenty-five tons of hay, three horses and other valuable stock were burned.

— The experiment of raising tea in Georgia promises to be successful.

The ladies, individually and collectively, without a single exception, pronounce Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus to be the best and most wholesome article in the market.—They say it makes nicer, whiter and lighter biscuit and cake, and requiring less shortening than any other saleratus, and is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try it. Most of the grocers and druggists sell it, and at wholesale by wholesale grocers. 39

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

CARVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hyperetrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbants. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner;—the heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely ever cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphine or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 21 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ At the National Horse Fair at the Rockingham Trotting Park, Tuesday afternoon, there was much good trotting. The attendance, as usual on first days, no matter what the attraction—was not large; but the company present was well entertained. The Union Correct Band furnished the music, and very satisfactorily; and the horses were called up in good season for the first trot.

This was between Empress, driven by Wm. Woodruff, McClellan driven by Isaac Champlain, and Regulator, ("Col. Maynard" not being present) driven by Isaac Copp. The judges were Geo. P. Floyd, Chas. O. Conant and M. Eldredge. Purse $1000—$750 first, best three in five, mile heats, and $250 to second.

Little Empress took the first heat, in 2:36; McClellan second; Regulator, who broke rank and wild, a bad third.

The second heat was taken by Mac, in 1:35 1-4; Empress second—Regulator, who had not yet got regulated in his tremendous strides, again third.

The third heat was also taken by Mac, in 2:35 1-4; Regulator, who had now got regulated, second—and he didn't make a slip in the next three heats. Empress, who was not in good trim, was now drawn, and Regulator was given the next heat in 2:36 3-4, although Mac came in a length ahead, but was set back for running. On the fourth and last heat, Mac broke and run badly, and was distanced for so doing; while Regulator, who goes like clockwork when he does go, was given the heat and the race, time 2:36 1-2.

Between these heats, a purse $400 for four year old colts was trotted for by Carrie, Straightedge, and Sorrel Mare. These colts, as almost all the horses at the Fair, are from Boston and vicinity. Juoges: N. P. Whittemore, Frank Jones, M. Eldredge. Straightedge took first heat in 2:58; Carrie the second in 2:57 1-2, and the third in 2:55 3 4,—Sorrel Mare having now withdrawn. Carrie won fourth heat (and first money) in 5:56; Straightedge of course taking second.

This afternoon Nellie Locke goes, with McClellan, Len Rogers and Carrie, all Boston horses, for $500 and $250,—and it will be a lively trot, too.

Also there will be a double team race between Empress and running mate, and Shifty and running mate, for purse $500. All who enjoy good trotting should go and see the fun to-day. A train will run out on the Concord Road at quarter before one, and also at half past one.

The splendid stallion Young Morrill, (still called young, though he must now be about 20 years old), was shown in his paces on the track. Ethan Allen and Col. Maynard were put on board the cars in Boston, but withdrawn by their owner for fear of a storm. It is hoped Ethan will be present to-day.

☞ We cordially commend to the liberal patronage of the public, the lecture of Rev. Henry Morgan at the Temple this (Wednesday evening, as advertised, both because it will be interesting in itself, and because we know the young gentleman who is to receive any benefit which may accrue, is worthy of all encouragement.

CABLE ITEMS.—A Paris dispatch of Monday evening says, the following intelligence has just been received from Rome:

At 6 o'clock this morning the Papal troops, supported by the French forces, attacked Garibaldi at Monte Rotundo and defeated him.—Some say that Garibaldi is a prisoner, and some that he is killed. Half an hour after the attack commenced, Garibaldi finding that his retreat was cut off, fought his way to the town of Monte Rotondo, where he was reinforced by some Italian troops, but the French coming to the assistance of the Pontificial soldiers he was beaten.

The following account comes from another source,—

Garibaldi was attacked and defeated on Sunday. He retreated and surrendered to the Italians.

Gen. La Marmosa, who was sent to Paris by the King of Italy on a mission, the nature of which has not been divulged, has returned to Florence, having failed in accomplishing the object for which he was sent.

The ultimatum of the Emperor Napoleon pas presented by the French Charge d'Affairs at Florence to the Italian Government on Sunday, and an instant reply was demanded.

GEN. HOWARD, the head of the Freedmen's Bureau, published a letter on Monday in the Washington Chronicle, contradicting the statement that the colored vote at the late elections in the South is too large in proportion to the negro population.

Major General Schofield, commanding the First Military District, has issued an order convening the State Convention on the 3d proximo. Many of the General's friends in Virginia insist on his becoming a candidate for gubernatorial honors; but he declines to accede to their request, expressing himself better satisfied with a military than a political life.

☞ The Washington Intelligencer has an editorial supporting the President's claim that he has the right to treat the tenure of office law, so far as it affects cabinet ministers, as unconstitutional, until it has been otherwise decided by the Supreme Court,

The Intelligencer is only the echo of A. J., and it is no new thing for him to claim the right to do wrong.

☞ A Washington item says that President Johnson, in the event of the nomination of either Gen. Grant or Mr. Chase, has declared his preferences for the latter. But then, his preference is of no value whatever, as it would not give a single vote to either of them.

DEPRESSION OF MANUFACTURES.—The Providence Journal says the wages of the operatives are to be reduced this week in several of the largest cotton factories in Rhode Island, and that if the times do not improve, an entire or partial suspension of work must soon occur by the concerted action of the manufacturers. The large woolen mill of Edward Harris, known as the Harris Woolen Company, in Woonsocket, will commence to run on three-quarters time next Monday, and some portions of the machinery will be entirely stopped until there is a more encouraging prospect for its productions. The old mills continue their usual time at present. The Lippitt Woolen Company have run but two-thirds of their looms for several months, but at present are running fifteen of eighteen sets of machinery.

PREMATURE CROWING.—A coppery exchange of October 30, had at the head of a column a big Rooster, with the words in large letters, "More Thunder! West Virginia Democratic!" It turns out, however, that West Virginia has 20 Republican Senators to 2 Democrats, and 44 Republican Representatives to 11 Democrats. The Republicans gain two Senators; the Representatives are as the were last year.

☞ Benj. Garrish, Jr., Secretary of the Republican Committee, announces that a meeting of the Committee will be held at Phenix Hall, Concord, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 20.

Every member of the Republican party is requested to be there, especially the Committee.

☞ Gen. Sherman announces treaties of peace with five Indian tribes, and orders all officers to compel mischievous citizens to keep peace towards them.

—A man and his wife from Providence nearly lost their lives on Sunday night, at the Bay State House, Worcester, by blowing out the gas when they retired without shutting it off. They were both insensible when found.—Exc.

[They were not very sensible, or very intelligent, when they blew out the gas.]

☞ We are requested to state that a meeting of the "Young Men's Christian Association" will be held on Thursday evening next, at their rooms in Market street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to come before the meeting. 3t

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and to be

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevada. While a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,573 61	$83,545 47	$104,028 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 885 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York City. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested, by Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the safeguards, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with additional large rates upon the Bonds.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

AUTUMN.

Let those who love the spring-time
Rejoice in early flowers;
Let those who love the summer
Enjoy her curtained bowers,
Her roses and her woodbines,
Her sonsiers full of glee;
But the golden time of Autumn
Have a matchless charm for me.

When gay old Indian summer
Toys with the western sky,
And dresses up the sunset
With robes of gorgeous dye;
When the wailing winds are chanting
Their dirges to the flowers,
And serenade a welcome
To the lengthened evening hours;

When joyous nutting parties
Leave the dusty city's throng,
And join the happy chorus
Of the autumn wood-birds' song,
And the grand old forests echo
With their merry laugh and glee,
With voices of the swelling streams,
The sobbing of the sea;

When our granaries and cellars
Are drafting for recruits,
And the call is promptly answered
With stores of grain and fruits;
When the hectic flush is painted
On the cheek of tree and vine,
And all in that dame Nature
Is in a swift "decline."

The mission of the spring-time
And summer are complete,
And while the year is dying,
He wares his winding sheet;
And gently, very gently,
Is falded on his breast
A pall of pearly whiteness,
Which robes him for his rest.

JOSH BILLINGS.—Joshua Billings, Esq., has turned up with the following "monogrAffe:"

The Jealous man is alwuz a hunting. He is alwuz a hunting for something that he don't expect tow find, and after he has found it he is mad because he haz. These fellers don't believe in spooks, and yet they are about the only folks who ever see enny. A jealous man is alwuz happy, jest in proportion as he is miserable. Jealousy is a disease, and it is a good deal like sea-sickness—dreadful sick and kan't vomit.

The anonemous man boards at a red tavern, and pays his board by tending bar occasionally. He ain't got no more karacter than the jack of spades has when it ain't trumps. He is a loafer by profession, without enny vices. He rides on the box once in a while with the driver and nobody thinks of asking for his stage fare. He sprang from a respektable family; his grandfather was a justis of the peace, but he has not got vanity enough to brag about it.

The Stiff man looks down upon folks as he walks. He doesn't seem tew have but one limber jint in him, and that is located in his nose. He is a kind of masculine turkey on parade in a barn yard. He is generally loaded with wisdom clear up to the mazzell, and when he goes oph, makes a noise like a kannon, but don't dew enny damage. I have seen him fire into a crowd and miss every man. As a general thing stiff men git mad dredful easy, and hav to git over it dredful easy, bekase folks ain't apt tew git a big share of what they ain't afraid of.

Still man had a grandfather once, who went to Congress from our destrikt, and there ain't one in the whole family that has been able to git limber since.

☞ Brigham Young is preaching matrimony to the young men and women of Utah. He insists that marrying for love is played out—that where love is involved in the first marriage it affects the happiness and relations to their lord of all subsequent wives. He insists that the young men of Utah shall take to themselves as many wives as they can support; and that the girls shall marry such men as "go for them," and "become mothers in Israel."

Frenchmen are not partial to emigration. The numbers who leave their country, always small, seem to be steadily decreasing. According to returns, the number of emigrants, which was 17,000 in 1856, had decreased to 6800 in 1862, to 5700 in 1863, and to 6400 in 1864.

Baron Solomon Rothschild having recommended to many of his friends Major LANE'S LINIMENT, and they being desirous to procure it, he should advise him to establish a depot in Paris.

ANXIOUS INQUIRY FOR MR. ASHBEY.

There was an old man from Ohio,
Who said that he could, if he'd try, O,
Raise such a great row
By Impeachment. And now
What's become of that man from Ohio?
N. Y. Mail.

A MATRIMONIAL ITEM.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 25th ult. contains the following: A foreign gentleman of some literary pretentions, who has fought at least one duel on account of his partiality to the fair sex, is said to have been captured, and will be led to the altar by a dashing widow of seven husbands, not yet forty. Husband No. 1 died in a foreign land; No. 2 breathed his last in 1849, in the Crescent City; No. 3 lived till 1852; No. 4 died the year following; No. 5 lived till 1857; the year following, the death of his successor, No. 6, was mourned by the bereaved widow; No. 7 lived almost to the close of the war, dying in 1864, since which time the widow has been lonely, though enjoying a fair share of worldly goods. No. 8, that is to be, has our best wishes for health, happiness, and "may his shadow never grow less."

—A schism to be approved of—a witticism.

—It is better to have a credit for character than a character for credit.

— When the Pacific Railroad and the Suez Canal are completed, we can steam it around the world in ninety days.

—Don't wait for your fervor to cool before you act. The workmen at a foundry might as well wait for the molten iron to cool before pouring it into the mould.

—"What is the reason of a blow leaving a blue mark after it?" asked an inquiring young gentleman. "It is easily accounted for," answered a medical student; "for you know that blow is the perfect of blow."

— The Pall Mall Gazette has created quite a sensation in England by publishing an account by one of its correspondents of the bushwomen of Curragh. It is even more interesting than the Visit to a Casual Ward, published by the same paper some months since.

— The great Parisian Cab Company own 4500 vehicles and employ 6815 persons, 3925 being drivers. Notwithstanding their strict regulations, they estimate that their drivers rob them of many thousand dollars yearly, and they expend fifty thousand dollars a year for "spotters."

— Gen. Israel Putnam of Connecticut was a better fighter than he was an othographist, as witness the following letter: "Camp at prospect hill Sir Pleas to deliver the Barror bear of 2 Tons of Bread to some rod Islanders as they came from roxbary yesterday and nothing to eat. Israel Putnam."

— Conflicting testimony as to the ownership of a cow in Ohio, led the Judge to adopt a singular method of deciding the question. The court adjourned to a field where the cow was. The man claimant then tried all his persuasive powers, but the cow would not recognize him. Then the woman called "Polly" and the intelligent animal scattered the crowd that surrounded her and broke for the woman, where she rubbed her nose against her mistress, overjoyed to find her. The justice decided that the cow was hers.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1867.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—The annual report of General Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, has been completed. Gen. Howard states that the general effect of the Reconstruction acts has been good, and that the freedmen have made rapid progress in education, the mechanic arts and all departments of industry. The expenditures of the Bureau for the eleven months ending August 31, amounted to $3,997,397. Transportation was furnished to 778 refugees and 16,931 freedmen to enable them to reach places where they could support themselves.

The number of refugees treated by the medical department was 8853, of whom 896 died, and the number of freedmen so treated was 135,296, 4640 of whom died. The sum of $500,000 was set apart as a special relief fund, and $445,993 of this was expended in the relief of 233,272 persons. The total number of schools reported is 2207, with 2442 teachers and 130,735 scholars.

Several recommendations were made in the report, viz: The discontinuance of the relief afforded by the Freedmen's Bureau, if possible, when the term of the Bureau expires, in July next, except in the educational work and in the settlement of such claims of back pay and bounty to colored soldiers as may remain at that time unsettled, and the transfer of the educational division of the Bureau to the Department of Education, or some other United States agency. Also that a reformatory institution for children, without distinction of color, like those in existence at Boston and New York, should be established at Washington. There is now on hand a sufficient surplus of unexpended appropriations to carry the Bureau through to July, and as the Bureau will be discontinued then unless extended by special act of Congress, no appropriations are asked for the coming year.

THE ELECTIONS of Tuesday, in their result, are very delightful to President Johnson, as he considers them endorsements of his policy—and they will be so considered, as far as they go.

In New York city, Democratic majority nearly 60,000,—in New York State, 10,000 to 20,000. A New York city dispatch says:

The unpopularity of the Excise law has had great effect upon the election. There is much rejoicing about New York and Brooklyn, and the rooms of the Manhattan Club and other Democratic headquarters have been crowded with enthusiastic members of that party in a hilarious state all night. At sunset the liquor stores opened their doors and were soon filled with customers, eager to relieve their enforced abstinence during the day and celebrate supposed victory, or seek consolation for anticipated defeat. As soon as it became dark the streets of the city and Brooklyn were illuminated with numerous bonfires, which are surrounded by crowds of juveniles and eager partisans, who take this method of evincing their rejoicing at the large Democratic vote which has been polled in this vicinity.

The election in New Jersey for six State Senators and sixty Assemblymen has resulted in large Democratic gains, and both Houses will be Democratic by considerable majorities. The gains have been general throughout the State, and show large preponderance of Democrats in the popular vote.

In Wisconsin, seven hundred and fifty the largest towns and cities, including Milwaukee, show a net Democratic gain of 1700 over the vote of 1865, when there was a Republican majority of 10,060.—Fairchild, the Republican candidate for Governor, is probably re-elected. The Legislature will be decidedly Republican.

☞ In Massachusetts, in the 259 towns from which returns have been received, Bullock's vote has increased 4484 over last year's, and Adams' vote over Sweetser, 38,680.

There are about 85 towns to be heard from, which it is said will increase the License Law majority to the Legislature.

☞ At Augusta, Me., Monday, four State Constables made nine seizures. In only three places was liquor found. Two were acquitted and one convicted. The horse which brought these constables into town was found dead Tuesday morning in the Augusta House stable, possibly by some foul play.

GARIBALDI'S DEFEAT is confirmed; he has retreated toward the Italian territory; and his generals were also getting away from the fate scene of action.

—An "oil prince" now in Paris with a family of three persons, spreads himself in twenty-eight elegantly furnished rooms.

—The Maison Doree, in New York has been transformed into a fashionable dry goods store—rent $50,000.

—Few of us read our Bible so curiously as to have discovered that they contain no such word as is, from Genesis to Revelation.

— One Major Cooper, editor of the Clarksburg (West Virginia) Conservative, lately remarked that their would be war within fifty days, and that he should have a hand in it. Whereupon a "boy in blue" said their would be war within fifty seconds and knocked the bellicose Copper down. Bystanders intervened to prevent further hostilities.

SOUTHERN NEWS.—It has for some time been observable that the news from the South is under the manipulation of conservative prejudices. It was announced more than once that the vote for a Convention in Louisiana was a failure. But the result showed that the Convention was called by such a handsome majority, that it could not really have been doubtful at any period after the election. It was telegraphed that the election in West Virginia showed a great Democratic reaction; but it now appears, on the contrary, that the Unionists have actually gained two members of the Legislature. Only a few days ago, the dispatches from Georgia represented that the whites had generally taken no part in the elections for a convention, and several districts were specified in which there were no white votes, or at most but one or two.—Now we are informed that the white vote was 30,000.

Surely, the reading community will bear in mind such instances, and make a liberal allowance for any conservative coloring that may ever be imparted to Southern news.

WALTER BROWN'S RACE AGAINST TIME.—Quite a crowd of sporting men collected at Forest City Trotting Park Saturday afternoon to see the foot race, five miles in thirty-three minutes, for $100 a side. Walter appeared on the track a few minutes before four o'clock, in a heavy blue suit, looking fresh as a daisy and evidently in execellent condition. The track was clean and hard, a fresh southerly breeze was blowing, clouds shut off the sun, everything was in his favor, betting included, though the average time for each mile was only 6.36. Shortly after four he toed the mark, bare armed and bare headed, in a rowing suit of flannel, with a red belt and cloth gaiters. At the word go he started at a long gait, mouth open, contrary to the rules, and made his first mile in 6.45, nine seconds behind time. On the second mile he improved, settling down to win, and showing some signs of distress as he passed the line in 6.28, regaining eight of his lost nine seconds.

On the third mile he flagged again, making the distance in 6.44, just nine seconds behind the enemy. Five of these seconds he recovered on the fourth mile, getting his second wind at the same time, and coming in in 6.31. It was now evident that the race was Walter's if he chose to take it. The first half of the fifth mile was done in 3.13, one second ahead for the first time in the race, and the second half in 3.05, making 32.46 for the whole race, and winning with just fourteen seconds to spare. He had been behind time on the first four miles, and the applause as he came in winner at the end of the fifth was hearty and honest. The race was fairly won. It is reported that Brown offered to walk against time for $1000 a side, a hundred and twelve miles in 24 hours on the same track.—Portland Press, 4th.

GEORGIA JUSTICE.—It will be remembered that a few months ago Mr. Westmoreland, the English Consul at Brunswick, Ga., was shot dead a few hours after his marriage, by an unsuccessful rival named Martin. The case came up before the Superior Court of the district a few days ago, but it being found impossible to get a jury, the Court adjourned and Martin was released on $20,000 bail. Of course that will be the last of it, and the murderer will go unpunished.

—A Providence woman refused to marry her lover on the very day assigned for the wedding, because he had shaved off his moustache.

—A Connecticut youth of sixteen summers stole $100 from his grandmother and ran off to New York on a spree with a married woman of forty years.

— Mr. Ebenezer R. Harris, who was injured by falling from the Baptist meeting house in Marblehead recently, died from his injuries last Sunday morning.

—Friday afternoon Mr. David Holmes of Bath, Me., died very suddenly, while sitting in his chair engaged in whittling.—He was nearly ninety years of age. He had not been ill, his "sands of life" having gradually ebbed away.

— The breaking off of the proposed marriage of the young King of Bavaria with the Princess Sophia is attributed to the natural flightiness of the young monarch. The event has produced great consternation in the Ultramontane Party at Munich, which fears that the King will now revert to the ancient traditions of his house, and marry a Protestant Princess.

—An English gunboat expedition against the Chinese pirates of the Tonquin Gulf, returned highly successful. It captured and destroyed nine piratical junks and recaptured four trading junks which had been taken by the pirates, besides making fifty-eight prisoners, who have been sent to the authorities of Canton. It was reported that the pursuit would be continued by the American gunboat Unadilla.

—A woman named Mary Mahoney attempted to commit suicide on Wethersfield Avenue in Hartford, Saturday afternoon, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens. When first seen, she had a rope or cord fastened in a noose about her neck, and the other end attached to the fence.—She was endeavoring to strangle herself by throwing her weight on the cord, and was surging backward and forward for that purpose. She was taken to the station house.

BAPTISTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—A newspaper writer, "F. F.," at Concord, speaking of the Baptists in this State, says: "Forty-two years ago their seven or eight ministers then preaching in this State, gathered in a "little upper room" in Meredith, and after much deliberation and prayer to God they organized the New Hampshire Baptist Convention."

Another writer, B. S. (probably Baron Stow) replies as follows:

How many were preaching in that State in 1825 I cannot definitely say; but I am a native of New Hampshire, and know something of the history of the denomination.—I have the names of twenty-seven ordained Baptist ministers who, in 1819, were preaching in that State, and among them were more than "seven or eight" strong men doing valiantly for the truth. Several more were added before 1825.

Moral: Men who intend to write History had better read and learn before they sit down to enlighten the world by their pens.

DISBANDMENT OF COLORED VOLUNTEERS.—The military authorities, in accordance with the direction of the President, are engaged in the necessary preliminaries for suppressing and disbanding colored volunteer military companies in the District of Columbia. One of them continued on parade for more than eight hours Tuesday, fully armed. There seems to be no doubt that the commanders of the Southern Military Districts will be instructed by Gen. Grant to suppress all armed volunteer organizations of both blacks and whites in that section of the country.

WESTON, the Walker, left Hartford, Conn., at 5 in the afternoon of Tuesday, for the second trial of 100 miles in twenty-four hours.—A great crowd gathered to see him start, and many people on foot and in carriages accompanied him a short distance. The police cleared a passage through the crowd for him. He goes by the Albany turnpike through Avon, Winsted, Great Barrington, Mass., and Sand Lake, N. Y. to Troy. He was in fine condition and confident of success.

Weston reached New Hartford, 21 miles from Hartford, Tuesday night.

☞ Leavitt's Farmers' Almanac, for 1868 is just published by Edson C. Eastman, Concord, and for sale in this city at J. H. Foster's Bookstore. This annual is No. 72, and contains the old-fashioned predictions of the weather, and other curious matters.

— The ground in Richmond was covered with snow on Thursday morning last, and a heavy snow storm prevailed. The snow lasted several hours.

—Additional returns from Georgia indicate a majority for the Convention of 12,000 or 15,000. The regular Union nominees are elected in every district reported. The latest returns increase the majority for the Convention. The vote will probably reach 113,000. The white vote was about 30,000.

—The Metropolitan Bank in New York is fitting up a part of its bank premises for a lunch-room or refectory for the use of the clerks. This system of providing lunch for their employees, without charge, is becoming more generally adopted in the large banking and insurance offices in that city, and it is said to work very satisfactorily.

—There was a terrible gale in the vicinity of Rochester, N. Y., Sunday night, and considerable damage done to property. A man was instantly killed by the wall of a grapery being blown upon him. One of the walls of a new State Arsenal building was blown down. Several other buildings were damaged by the gale.

—The National Intelligencer attempts to raise a hue and cry against General Grant because, among the recent removals from the War Department, is that of a clerk who served in the rebel army in 1861, and is now a Democrat. It will take something weightier than that to injure the reputation of Gen. Grant.

THE RIVERSIDE INSTITUTE.—We append a list of the most valuable presents to be awarded those who purchase stock, at one dollar per share, in aid of the Rivers'de Institute, a home for the gratuitous education of soldiers' and sailors' orphans, from all parts of the country under the management of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia. THE REPORTED ARMING OF SOUTHERN NEGROES.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

"The sensational stories telegraphed from here concerning an arming of the negroes of this District, with a view to resisting the action of the President, are mere fabrications, without a shadow of truth. At the close of the war, colored soldiers, who paid a stipulated sum for their muskets, were allowed to retain them, and large numbers availed themselves of the offer. Many of them organized independent military companies and continued to drill with their muskets. This has been done here for the last two years without exciting any remark until very recently, and there is no more unlawful intention upon their part now than when they began.

The reports about the arming of the negroes South, it has been ascertained from trustworthy sources here, are false."

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser of the manufactures of the various branches of industry the once demands. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock" and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to a medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,
Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.
DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.
DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.
A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbants. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner:—The heart sends the vital current through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver instead of arousing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and open and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 33 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1 50 per bottle, or $9 00 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

ROCKINGHAM TROTTING PARK.—In the trot Wednesday for horses that never beat 2:30, for $500 and $250, the buckskin gelding McClellan, gray mare Nellie Locke and black gelding Len Rogers, came to the score. The weather was not favorable for quick time, being windy and cold—while the thermometer at 90 calls out the short miles. Nellie, driven by Copp, took the first heat in 2:42, Mac second, and Rogers third—and he was then drawn. Nellie also took second heat in 2:43. On the third both horses broke badly and run, and Nellie was claimed by Mac's friends to be distanced for running and not being held up by her driver; but the judges did not so decide, and merely gave Mac the heat in 2:42.

Pools to large amounts sold, almost always greatly in favor of Mac, in spite of the mare having two heats; and this gave color to the opinions of the knowing ones, that the horse was held back in the first two heats, in order to get money up on the mare.

As there was complaint of Copp, by some of the betters on Nellie, he requested a Boston man to drive, but the result proved Copp had done his best; for on the fourth heat Nellie, who did not seem herself at all, lost a shoe and was distanced, in 2:44, Mac taking the heat and race.

The double team trot was won in two heats by Empress and mate, in 2:45; 2:41; Shifty and mate being distanced.

The weather was bright and beautiful but decidedly cool; and there was room for a few more people on the stand and about the grounds, though there was a very respectable company present.

To-day is the last of the Fair—and two grand trots are advertised, in which several famous horses are entered, such as can rarely be expected this way. It is worth going to a little trouble to see His Royal Highness "Young Morrill," who is shown daily on the course.

MECHANIC'S ASSOCIATION.—The Annual Meeting was held on Tuesday evening, at their Reading Room. There was a large attendance of the members, and all were highly pleased to learn that the Association was in so prosperous a condition. The Secretary, in his annual report, stated that forty-four new members had joined the Association within the past year, and six had died, making the present number 168—the largest ever enrolled at one time.

The Treasurer, in his report, stated that the funds and property of the Association at the present time amount to $7318.50, and that there has been paid for funeral benefits $175, and for the relief of sick brothers, and widows of deceased brothers $161.33 during the year.

The following brothers were elected. officers of the Association for the ensuing year: John T. Dame, President; Oliver Hanscom, Vice President; Alfred T. Joy, Treasurer; Oliver H. Locke and Charles E. Lord (the new) Trustees; Benj. M. Parker, Secretary; Alonzo F. Craig, Dept. Secretary; Nath'l B. Dame, Marshal; Luther E. Martin, Dept. Marshal; Joseph H. Glines, Standard Bearer; Charles W. Brewster, Edmund M. Brown and Samuel W. Moses, Auditors.

LETTER FROM WENDELL PHILLIPS.—To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune:

Many Lyceums have made inquiries of me in regard to the new woman-speaker mentioned in the extract which I enclose. I can think of no better method of answering their question than to ask you to republish this tribute to her from the New York Standard. By so doing you will not only do justice to an eloquent speaker, but aid the Lyceums in making their courses next season more interesting. WENDELL PHILLIPS.

"Mrs. Ella Davis Rockwood gave her lecture, 'A Yankee Girl's Thoughts,' to a large and attentive audience at School House Hall, Natick, Mass., on Wednesday evening, March 6th. A correspondent says: 'The lecture evinced earnest thought on the subjects on which she spoke—Intemperance, our duties to the Freedmen, and Woman's Social and Political Rights. We were surprised that one so young, a woman too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly. Mrs. R. labored under peculiar difficulties, as she was addressing for the first time her own townspeople and early companions, who seemed astonished that the school girl of yesterday had grown into the plain, outspoken woman of to-day.'

Mrs. R. is very prepossessing in appearance, but of slight and delicate structure, and possesses an energy and will that will force her into the front rank of our reformatory lecturers. In announcing this lecture, the Natick Times spoke of Mrs. R. as follows:

"Mrs. Rockwood has lived in Natick since her childhood. Her sudden marked success as a lecturer in temperance meetings and on the Lyceum platform has been no surprise here, where her energy and ability are well known. Nowhere has her success been hailed with more cordial satisfaction than here in her home. After speaking to full houses, many times a week, for the last fifteen months, in different parts of New England and New York, she has been invited to address her neighbors, and will do so on the 6th of March next, in the School House Hall. We are sure she will have a cordial welcome. The lecture, 'A Yankee Girl's Thoughts,' has won high reputation as thoughtful, well reasoned and eloquent. We can easily believe it, for Mrs. Rockwood, though so young, has had a varied experience, and was always an original thinker. If Watertown is proud of its Harriet Hosmer; if Philadelphia always gives its Anna Dickenson the largest audiences she ever addresses; Natick, we are sure, will show its young and popular lecturer that she has the heartiest welcome and most enthusiastic recognition here, from her life-long neighbors."

— The first sleigh bell made in America was made in Chatham, Ct., in 1780, by Wm. Barton, and that town still has the monopoly of the business.

☞ Rev. Dr. Willets gave his first lecture on the Model Wife, Tuesday evening at the Temple. His personal appearance and powerful oratory, with the merits of his lecture, were properly appreciated and well received by the audience, who were entertained as well as instructed by the performance. U. T.

☞ The Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Journal states that Albert Blaisdell, Esq., of Greenland, the well known railroad and building contractor, has sold his half of the contract to build the road from Bangor to St. John, for the sum of $75,000 to the owners of the road. Col. George H. Pierce of Dover, the owner of the other half of the contract, still retains his interest. These gentlemen are favorably known in New England.—Mr. Blaisdell has a splendid homestead in Greenland, six miles from this city.

THE LYCEUM opened well on Tuesday evening. The audience was not large, but highly respectable; and the lecture of Mr. Willets, though not new or novel, nor so interesting as that on Sunshine last year, was well given and well received. The fact is, those who need his hints and advice on Model Wives, won't heed them; and those who would heed them, don't need them.

The Temple presents a very neat and inviting appearance; and with the reduced rate for tickets advertised, every one should be taken up.

The next lecture will be by a lady, who is spoken of as follows by those who know her well and are fully capable of judging:

— The kitchen—"The realm of this pernicious Blot."—(Richard II, act IV.)

— F. A. Way of Sutton, Vermont, recently selected from a load of his potatoes twenty-six which filled a bushel basket.

— Grace Church of New York has offered the Rev. Dr. Beckwith of New Orleans $15,000 a year and the free rent of the parsonage.

— The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle says cotton is no longer a remunerative crop, and insists that the cotton planters of Georgia should set about at once the preparation of at least one-fourth of their best land for wheat.

— A few days ago, in Tennessee, a child equestrian, performing in a circus, was thrown from a horse and killed. Speaking of the fact, a contemporary says that when children are turned into public prodigies of any sort, there is danger enough in store for them—if not danger of death, danger at least of an unnatural life.

— Two veteran printers—Charles McDavitt and Thurlow Weed—met Saturday evening at New York for the first time in fifty years. In 1816 they were journeymen together. Mr. McDevitt was a compositor and Mr Weed a pressman upon the first tracts published by the American Tract Society.

— S. S. Cox obtained his name of Sunset Cox from his writing a very extravagant sophomorical article in the Ohio States-man, (Columbus,) entitled "Grand Old Sunset," while acting as the editor of that journal. One of the Cincinnati journalists gave him the soubriquet, and it has stuck to S. S. C. ever since.

— At the residence of Col. James Page in Philadelphia, a few days ago, a number of the surviving members of the State Fencibles met, a military organization of that city which was stationed at Camp Du Pont in 1814. Out of a company of one hundred and thirty, but seventeen are now alive. Col. Page entertained thirteen of them on the occasion mentioned, and their united ages foot up nine hundred and sixty-five years. None were under seventy-two.

☞ We are requested to state that a meeting of the "Young Men's Christian Association" will be held on Thursday evening next, at their rooms in Market street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to come before the meeting. 3t

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.
THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are already at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,579 64	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the CENTRAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 93 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanctions and guaranties of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Beside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

DISTURBANCE AT SCHOOL STREET CHURCH, BOSTON.—Rev. Dr. Miner, in his morning discourse at the School Street Church, Sunday, alluded to the death of Ex-Gov. Andrew, and passed in somewhat rapid review the events of his life. When he had reached the period at which Mr. Andrew appeared before the Legislature in behalf of the petitioners for a license law, Dr. Miner remarked that he wished he could stop there, but his duty to the young men of the land required that he should speak further. At this point one of the audience, a Mr. Hill, formerly connected with the police force of Boston, rose and replied to Dr. Miner that the course of Mr. Andrew in this matter was just what the young men of the country should be proud of, and that Dr. Miner did not understand the sentiments of the community on this subject.

Mr. Hill was proceeding to denounce Dr. Miner in very severe language, when a committee of the church went to the pew in which he was, and were about to lay hold on him. Mr. Hill told them that he would leave the church if asked, to do so, but would resist any attempt to eject him forcibly. Dr. Miner here interposed, and requested that Mr. Hill might not be removed. Finally, by persuasion, Mr. Hill was induced to leave, and Dr. Miner continued his discourse, severely criticising Gov. Andrew's course on the license question as the one great blemish of his life.—Transcript.

HOW TO DISCOVER THE NEWLY MARRIED.—The fall season has fairly set in, and we find the matrimonial market buoyant in our city, hundreds of miss-guided young men rushing into the holy estate. A more than usual number of wedding tourists are noticed by travellers and conductors on the different railroads.

Of course, it is not on account of being ashamed of each other that they try to disguise their situation, but simply to avoid being criticised, and remarked upon by profane strangers. Thus they lay the fond unction to their souls that they are traveling incognito. But, good gracious, how badly fooled they are. It is one of the easiest things in the world to the careful eye to tell precisely how many days, or even hours, they have been "spliced." They can sometimes be detected by the great pains they take to appear either like old married persons or cousins, as they promenade the deck of a steamer or sit so demurely in the cars. In many cases their dress, in part, exposes them. It is so apropos to the occasion, being neat, symmetrical and bran new. In cases where the parties have good taste, there is no gaudiness about their attire. All glitter and display are thrown aside, and the city belle appears more like a Quakeress in her simple travelling dress of drab or mouse color.

Sometimes the youthful culprits engage in playing at lovers, or affect a flirtation, but it is always a stupendous failure. Their eyes betray too much happiness for wit and repartee; there is such a peculiar softness and tenderness in their confidential whispers, and such a pride in the possession of each other, that none around them are deceived. There is a guilty shyness in the way the arm of the bridegroom steals around, first on the top of the back seat, then gradually closer, while the bride evinces a silent pleasure as she acquiesces in an unperceiving way. But gradually the arm draws closer, the head of the bride droops and rests on the broad shoulders, while they try to look unconcerned, as though it was a matter of course.

So they go, fancying themselves lost in the crowd—unnoticed, unknown, with their secret locked up in their own palpitating bosoms.

—At the close of the fiscal year ending last June, the total number of invalid pensioners by reason of army service on the books of the Pension Office was 70,802; the number of widows, children and dependent relatives entitled to pensions was 2291; the amount paid to army pensioners during the year was $18 301,715, and the amount paid to Navy pensioners was $318,241.

SUMMER'S REQUIEM.

BY MRS. A. L. F. JOHNSON.

The Summer, the Summer,
Gone, with the crimsoned leaves,
Gone, with the glorious coronal
Of golden ripened sheaves.

The Summer, the Summer,
The regal robe she wore
Is falling silently away
From forest, lake and shore.

The Summer, the Summer,
Only a few pale flowers,
The harvest gleanings of our soft
And blessed balmy hours.

The Summer, the Summer,
Discrowned and fallen low,
The wreath of wild flowers at her feet,
Covered with wintry snow.

The Summer, the Summer,
Many a fair young brow,
Ere her warm golden light returns
Will have a bed as low.

NEW EXPRESS ENTERPRISE.—Considerable attention has been directed towards the important new express enterprise, now being established to operate on the New England railroads. The new organization is entitled the "New England Express Company," and we learn that the stock is promptly and liberally subscribed for by the merchants in the cities and manufacturing towns on the line of the railroads that terminate in Boston. The new organization is intended to operate in connection with the "Merchants' Union Express Company." Up to this time the existing express companies in New England have worked in the interests of the old monopolies—turning over to them their entire business to points beyond this city. To the Merchants' Union Express Company, therefore, this change is most important, and cannot fail to largely increase their receipts, as it brings the immense business of the New England towns and cities directly into their interests. The whole subject, in all its bearings, has created quite a flutter in express circles, and is conceded to be the severest blow that the old express companies have yet received.—Transcript.

☞ The abstract of the annual report of Gen. Howard, as published in the newspapers, is incorrect, inasmuch as the estimated number of colored children in school, in accordance with the most recent information (of a private character), not officially reported, is set down at 400,000. The official report of General Howard will show that these figures include the total number of pupils, officially and unofficially reported, distributed as follows: At regular schools in the South, 200,000; plantation and family schools, 100,000; in other States, 100,000.

☞ Bulwer Lytton says that a refined gentleman may always be known by the perfume he uses. In American society it is recognized as a mark of elevated taste to patronize Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. Its purity, freshness, and delicacy commend it to all persons of poetic taste and feeling.—Concord Patriot.

— An exchange asserts that there is a man in Georgia so big that he fishes with a railroad line and smokes a stove pipe.

—In the index to a book of commentaries on law, is the following: "Judge S.—his great mind." Turning to the page indicated is the following: "The Judge said he had a great mind to commit the prisoner."

—"I suppose the want of the Frenchman's language would be your greatest difficulty?" said a Scotchman the other day to a neighbor recently returned from the Paris exhibition. "O, I dinna ken," replied the tourist, "they were just as bad wi' us."

FUN represents a six year old in Knickerbocker's, seated in a barber's chair, and to him the hairdresser said: "Well, my little gentleman, and how would you like your hair cut?" Charlie replied: "Oh, like papa's, please—with a little round hole at the top."

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

JOHN TAGGART."
Boston, Jan. 1, 1867.—Stawly

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1867.

☞ Gov. Haight of California writes to a Democratic friend in New York city as follows:

"For one, I will never consent to let negroes make laws for me, nor to let men legislate for me who are elected by negro votes."

That is precisely the spirit and drift of Southern talk prior to Mr. Lincoln's election. "You may elect him, but he will never be President of our end of the Union." That spirit cost the country Half a Million lives and Five Billions in cash. Haven't we had quite enough of it?

☞ Washington writers say that the President has called on Gen. Grant for a report of the number of troops on duty in the Department of Washington, their location and who commands them. Also, that the colored volunteer troops have not disbanded, but were notified Wednesday morning not to parade or drill any more. So the poor old cots are cowards as well, and fear where no fear need exist.

A ROMAN VICTORY over Garibaldi, at Monte Ritonda, was decisive. The insurgents fought with great obstinacy and kept up the conflict at this point for two hours and a half, when, exhausted and overwhelmed, they gave way and were utterly routed. Four hundred and fifty insurgents were killed and nine hundred were taken prisoners. No idea of the number of the wounded can be ascertained. The total loss of the Papal troops engaged was 200 killed and wounded.

Garibaldi is now in prison at Vigevana in Piedmont. He claims that he is a citizen of the United States, and demands his privileges as such, under the law of nations.—The American Minister, Marsh, has left Florence for Vigevana to visit the General.

One division of the French troops which entered Rome has been withdrawn from that city and returned to Civita Vecchia, and the rest will soon follow them. The whole expedition for the relief of Rome will then remain at Civita Vecchia and there await the action of Italy.

The feeling on the Paris Bourse is better, but the cessation of warlike preparations and general disarming are necessary to restore confidence.

A call for a general conference of the European powers will soon be issued by the French Government.

A GREAT TORNADO at St. Thomas took place on the 29th ult. The steamer Rhone was lost on Peter Island, and the Wye on Buck Island. The Conway, Capt. Hammock, went ashore on Tortola Island, and the Derivent at St. Thomas. The Solent and Tyne were dismasted. The town of St. Thomas is in ruins. Fifty vessels were ashore. The loss of life is very great, and the destruction of property immense. All the officers, crew and passengers of the Rhone were lost. On the Wye, 40 persons were saved. Of the passengers on board the regular steamer for Southampton, which had sailed with 150, only 12 were saved.

CIDER APPLES.—Quite a large business has been done by the way of shipping cider apples from Wolfeborough and Centre Harbor, via steamer the present fall. The News is informed that eleven hundred and fifty bushels have been sent from each place. The price paid was 40 cents a bushel. They were carried to Alton, where a portion of them are manufactured. Another portion is carried to Dover, and still another to Newmarket, and there manufactured into cider. It is said the reason why the dealers prefer the apples rather than the cider, is they desire to be sure of the pure juice of the apple. Messrs. C. & A. J. Hodson have shipped from Alton to Newmarket 20,000 bushels.

By the use of the new family cider mills, any family that has grapes and apples can have pure (and if they choose UNFERMENTED) WINE and CIDER,—which they cannot be sure of getting in any other way.

☞ The Mexican Government refuses to have any intercourse with the Ministers and Consuls of foreign governments until the Republic is recognized by such Governments. Santa Anna and his wife have arrived at Havana.

☞ Democratic majority in New York about 40,000; Republican majority in Wisconsin about 4000; Republican majority in Minnesota about 4000; Democratic rebel majority in Maryland not counted, but very large.

☞ The plates of the fifteen cent notes have been prepared at the Treasury Department, but the notes will not be issued until authorized by Congress.

—A gentleman in England, who conceals his name, has given $12,500 for the erection of an edifice for a female boarding school at Sierra Leone, believing that Africa must be regenerated by the Africans themselves.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD—FIVE HUNDRED MILES COMPLETED.—The click of the telegraph tells us that five hundred miles of this magnificent work are now completed, and that the whistle of the locomotive can be heard on the Rocky Mountains. Their very base, at Cheyenne, is but seventeen miles farther, and in another week the track will be at this embryo city on the western boundary of the great plains. It is but thirty-one miles more to the highest summit of the line between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and to this point the road-bed is nearly ready for the rails. It may be quite possible for you, reader, to travel by a first-class car all the way, and eat your Christmas dinner among the peaks of the black Hills, eight thousand feet above tide-water. A thousand laborers are on their western slopes, and other thousands are joining them. All winter long, the gorges and defiles of these grand old mountains will resound with the miner's blast and the crash of the tumbling rocks, as they are thrown out of their beds, where they have laid since the world began. Ten thousand Chinamen, under American engineers, have already dug and pounded their way over and through the great Sierra Nevadas of California, and are rapidly pushing forward to meet the great army of builders from the east, and we are told that in 1870, the traveler may see the sun rise out of the Atlantic on Monday morning, and set in the golden glories of the Pacific on Saturday night.

The locomotive is coming! Clear the track, Messrs. "Hole-in-the-day," "Jump-off-a-log," "Spotted-tail," "White-man-killer," and all your ragged race. It is your manifest destiny to stop scraping white folks, and you must either be absorbed by the new tide of civilization or be drowned by it. Messrs. Antelope, Buffalo and Beaver, you have been very useful animals in your way, and have done the world service in your day; but really now—we quite regret it—but we must have a few more farms out there in your directions, and will probably go to work on, or off, as you find it most convenient. The logic of events is not to be resisted; the race of barbarism is drawing to an end; the world moves, and the people thereof—and generally westward.

But really, the public have known very little of the gigantic proportions of this Pacific Railroad. To build it eighteen hundred miles through a wilderness, and over the highest mountains on the North American Continent, was something, the like of which had never been attempted. The Appian Way of Rome was nothing to it, and modern engineering furnished no precedents for it. The certain profits of the immense business between the two grand divisions of the Union were a great prize to be sought for, but no Company could be formed that would dare venture more than a hundred millions of money to secure it. But necessary as the road was to individuals and to commerce generally, the people as a government—as a nation—needed it more. The United States Treasury was annually taxed to an immense amount to pay for transporting troops and supplies to its mountain forts, to keep the peace among Indian tribes, that nothing but advancing civilization could keep permanently quiet. The Pacific states and territories were so isolated that uneasy spirits already discussed a new plan of disunion in a future Pacific Empire. The Government lands of a vast region were worthless, because they could not be reached; and only the richest pockets of the great gold field were opened, because of the impossibility of profitable transit.

And here Congress acted wisely in lending the Pacific Railroad companies fifty millions in its six per cent. bonds, apportioned out as the work progressed, and upon the speedy construction of the line, for they more than pay the interest in the services they render. No other internal improvement by the general government has ever promised to add so much to the wealth of the country. It will be the means of opening a vast region to a population that we shall be only too happy to welcome to the national family. Besides, in the event of future wars, it would be very well to have our neighbors so convenient that they could do their share of the fighting.

Just now, when our California relatives are anxious to come home to Thanksgiving, it is pleasant to know that more than one-third of the work on this Pacific Railroad is done, that more than one-third of the whole line is in running order; but, accustomed as we are to large figures, it seems a little surprising to know that over forty million dollars in money have already been expended upon it. The Union Pacific Company's contracts for the first 914 miles running west from Omaha, amount to sixty-two million dollars; but this is only sixty-eight thousand dollars per mile, including equipments of all kinds. We can see no reason why this Union Pacific Railroad should not be finished within two or three years. The government aid, in bonds and lands, is munificent. The Company's own first mortgage bonds have a ready market, and the stockholders freely invest their millions, so that ample means are not lacking.—The business of the completed road will be enormous. Probably nothing like it will have been known in the history of railway traffic. All the passengers, mails, and treasure of the Pacific States and Territories, and most of the freights of the great mining regions west of the Rocky Mountains must go over it, and for many years to come it can have no rival.—The twenty-seven thousand "prairie schooners:" as the white-topped ox wagons were called that once traversed the great plains, are already laid up, or have gone to more remote points, and their burdens are transferred to the railroad cars. Indeed, the locomotive traffic of this Union Pacific Railroad is remarkable, and its business increases as the mining districts are approached. Its earnings for the quarter ending July 31st, were officially reported at over a million; and after all expenses were paid, a net sum remained which proves that the road would be profitable if not another mile should be built. "The way they do things out West" has always been a synonym of energy, but this last illustration of it is certainly the most impressive of all.

We would add that the Union Pacific Railroad is built under the supervision of five Directors appointed by the U. S. Government, whose duty it is to see that all the Company's affairs are prudently conducted, and three Government Commissioners, who inspect the road in sections of twenty miles, as it is built. Government bonds and the Company's own First Mortgage bonds are issued only as these sections are accepted, and pronounced to be thoroughly built and fully equipped. These First Mortgage bonds are issued at 90 cent. interest payable in gold, and are offered at 90 cents on the dollar. We can see no reason why they are not as thoroughly sound and safe security. We know of no other Company in which the Government takes such care of the interest of private investors, and there is certainly more but a Pacific Railroad Company in which it takes a second mortgage to secure its own money.

A DRIFT THEORY.—At a recent meeting of the New York Geographical Society Mr. J. W. Reid read a paper on the drift of the glacial epoch, in which he adopted the theory of Adhemar, that continents have not been depressed, but overflowed by the ocean. Owing to the procession of the equinoxes the mass of water is transferred from one hemisphere to the other once in ten thousand five hundred years, and the sun remains eight days longer in one hemisphere than in the other. At the present time the winters of the southern pole are eight days longer than with us; the ice continent has consequently formed there and the mass of the ocean is to be found in the southern hemisphere, and the ice covers a space upon and around the south pole more than twice the area of all Europe. The extreme of cold at the Antarctic pole was reached in 1248, since which time the climate has been becoming milder, while ours north of the Equator has been growing colder, and in the course of ten thousand years we shall be in the same frigid condition that obtains at the Antarctic, or as obtained with us ten thousand years ago.

WASHINGTON.—A letter says the Democrats, of course, are greatly rejoiced at the elections, the result, but take particular pains to declare that it is in no wise an indorsement of the administration, but a battle won—entirely won—without its assistance. They point to New York, where Johnson was not mentioned in the Democratic State Convention, as proof of this, but the New York city Democrats have been freely telegraphing the President the returns. Some of them are prefixed with a "God bless you."

A city paper contains a long editorial in advocacy of Gen. Grant for President: Gen. Grant is in hearty accord with the Republican party, and in proof of the truth of this assertion the editor quotes from the speech of Hon. Elihu B. Washburne at Elizabeth, Illinois on the 5th of Oct., which it is said, may be accepted as alike authoritative with the declarations of Gen. Rawlings, made at Galena on the 21st of June last. As to Gen. Rawlings' speech the editor says in italics: "It was carefully prepared in Washington after a full understanding with Gen. Grant, and was spoken so that the country might know exactly the position occupied by Gen. Grant himself."

JEFF DAVIS is described by a correspondent of the Manchester Mirror, from Lenoxville, Canada East, as follows:

"I presume the most of your readers, and perhaps you also, think that Jeff. Davis and his family are living in style at Montreal or Toronto; but this is a mistake. They are boarding at the hotel in this place, the house I am now stopping at. Mr. Davis has the appearance of an old, tired, worn-out, discouraged man. He is quite gray, and has lost the use of one of his eyes. He and his family take their meals at the regular public dining table with the patrons of the house. In looking at him, no one would suspect that he ever had any aspirations to be President of the United States, or even a part of them."

— Butter sold at St. Albans on Tuesday at 30 to 42 cents per pound. Many are holding for a higher price.

— The Republican majority in Iowa exceeds 28,000. The Republicans gain two Senators. The Legislature, therefore, will stand as follows: Senators, 20 Republicans; 2 Conservatives. House, 44 Republicans, 11 Conservatives.

— A Washington dispatch of Tuesday evening said that the city was greatly excited over the New York election. Nobody seemed to care anything about Massachusetts, New Jersey, or Wisconsin. All the interest centered on New York.

— The City Council of St. Louis had quite an exciting time last Friday over the Sunday law question. One Alderman (Gottschalk by name) declared that "Christianity was played out, and that it was nonsense to call this a Christian nation." The matter under debate was finally referred.

— It is reported that up to the first of November the Union Congressional Committee received over $37,000 from all quarters. The entire sum has been expended in canvassing the Southern States. The largest amount was received from New York.

500 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than have already been expended by this two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is a deficiency of funds for the most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion in part certain.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of the bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remainder half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claim against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and a second mortgage for the same amount. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. John A. Kasson, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 14,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of the Union Railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been let upon proposals from parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars (68,058) per mile. This rate includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock, to an amount that must not be less than $3,000 per mile, allowing for the rest of the remaining four hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $30,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,205,612
180 miles, at 90,000 16,200,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.' 4,500,000
Amount.....$82,845,612
As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the
AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:
U. S. Bonds.....$32,238,000
First Mortgage Bonds..... 29,823,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now done..... 5,949,750
Land Grant, 11,000,000 acres, at 1.50 per acre..... 21,120,000
Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done from the part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these bonds and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a very large source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $5 to $12 per acre, and so the land grant companies in the west are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must be done over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York are now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of the line that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other route will be able to compete with it so necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mails, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Decotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by the road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting this ready means of communication to receive a population that will make it the richest mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails, $723,765 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men..... 479,283 41
Total.....$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Offices, Conductors, Drivers, &c.....$305,530 92
Net Earnings to balance..... 897,508 03
Total.....$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $297,966 50 (Its account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:
Earnings for May, June and July.....$723,765 54
Expenses " " 297,966 50
Net Profit.....$425,799 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 325 miles at $30,000 per mile is $9,750,000. Interest in gold, three months at 6 per cent. on this sum is $73,000; add 40 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $102,200—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. COUPON, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER,
ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

PARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have done me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

I. T. HENDERSON, M. D.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbents. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner:—The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver more or less, relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, in Bond street, New York, and 38 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 12 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Local.

☞ The National Horse Fair closed Thursday afternoon at the Rockingham Trotting Park—with pretty good races. For the first, $1500 to horses that never beat 2:27, in three premiums—Empress, McClellan and Nellie Locke came on. [And it is due little Nellie and her owner to say, that she was the only horse on the grounds "outside the ring" or not identified with Boston owners or drivers—who naturally did not give her any extra "chances" to win glory or money. And she was not in good condition throughout the Fair.]

Empress won the first heat in 2:42 1-2; Mac second, Nellie, of course, third. Empress also took the second heat in 2:45; but Nellie came in a good second, and but for a bad break as she entered the homestretch, would have taken the heat from Empress, who was very tired. The third heat Woodruff and Champlain evidently determined Copp should not have, and by running when they couldn't trot fast enough, and combining to crowd Nellie out, Empress took the last heat and race in 2:40, Mac second.

Shifty and Len Rodgers also trotted mile and retreat for horses that never beat 2:40,—which Len won in 2:45, 2:43.

Thus ended the Fair—and the attendance was quite large on this occasion. But for the cold weather, there would have been a much better time, speaking both actually and metaphysically.

☞ On Wednesday evening, between 10 and 11 o'clock, as three marines were in a wherry, crossing the river from this city to the Navy Yard, their boat was capsized, and two of the men were drowned; one was saved by the watchmen at the Navy Yard.

The names of the men drowned were McGraves and Vie. The man rescued was Lewis Langdon; he was greatly exhausted. The watchmen who saved him were Messrs. Billings, Copp and Wilson.—The bodies of the men drowned have not yet been recovered.

S. J. COURT—Thursday.—In Foster vs. Spinney, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1000 damages.

The Court called the list of cases marked for the jury, to see what cases would be ready for trial next week.

Charles Batman, for stealing a watch from the person, was indicted at the April term and case continued on his affidavit; his former plea of not guilty retracted, and he now pleads guilty. The Court commented upon the affidavit he filed, which appears to have been false. He was sentenced to seven years in State Prison, and pay costs of prosecution.

JOHN. Robinson, for resisting a police officer at Exeter, sentenced (in view of the circumstances) to imprisonment in jail for three days and to pay costs of prosecution. The respondent has been in jail since his arrest, some months since.

All the jurors present have been excused for the term, and the Court took a recess till Monday at 11 1 2 o'clock, when new jurors will come in.

☞ Alanson J. Shorey, formerly of this city, and recently a Detective in the Revenue Department of the Government, was arrested on Wednesday evening at the Franklin House in this city, by a U. S. Detective, charged with offering to sell counterfeit U. S. currency. Shorey is, we believe, a Canadian, and has, we understand, recently come from Canada.

At an examination before U. S. Commissioner Hackett, Thursday, after some testimony for the prosecution,—he was bold to bail in $500 to reappear on the 23d of this month, Frank B. Johnson becoming security.

☞ During the storm last week, the schooner Otis of this port, which was lying at anchor at Smith's Isles, broke both flukes of her anchor and went adrift. She had no crew on board, and was picked up near Cape Ann. Also the schooner-boat Flying Fish, belonging to Christian Johnson, went adrift, and was totally wrecked on White Island.

MRS. ROCKWOOD delivered a Lecture on Thursday evening, to a large audience. Many were unable to gain even a standing place in the hall and went away disappointed. Mrs. R. is a young woman, not more than twenty-one years of age, and a widow. She spoke for one hour without notes and with wonderful eloquence and power, holding the entire assemblage spell-bound from the beginning to the end. Young, handsome, graceful and perfectly self-possessed, and thoroughly baptised with the spirit of her theme, she won all hearts.—Salem Register

We were surprised that one so young, a woman, too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly.—New York Standard.

Fine bursts of eloquence that would have done credit to a Patrick Henry or a Webster, and which strongly reminded one of the polished oratory of her venerated uncle, were still farther to fix the attention and awaken a livelier interest in her remarks, generally, whether believing with her or not. The interest naturally excited by the appearance on the stage of a fine looking woman, together with the novelty—a novelty at least in this town—of the subject, caused that degree of stillness, almost painful, that a single inadvertent whisper actually disturbed all in the immediate vicinity.—Bristol (R. I.) Phenix.

After speaking to full houses many times a week for the last fifteen months, in different parts of New England and New York, she has been invited to address her neighbors, and will do so on the sixth of March next. We are sure she will have a crowded welcome.—The lecture, "A Yankee Girl's Thoughts," has now a high reputation as thoughtful, well seasoned and eloquent.—Natick Times.

☞ By our Court record to-day, it will be seen the jury awarded $1000 damages for the mob destruction of the States and Union printing office in this city two years ago. This is a different result from the similar cases of the Concord Standard and Bangor Democrat; and is no doubt to be attributed, somewhat, to the different ruling of Judge Doe, who did not seem disposed to "pardon" so much lawlessness "to the spirit of Liberty" as was shown in the other instances.

The Democracy or Copperocracy made a party matter of the result, and were loud in their exultations Thursday night, with band, &c. Copper stock generally seems to be rising this week.

☞ This is said to be the poorest Fishing season for many a year, at the Shoals; and the few inhabitants left there are rather depressed in spirits, in view of all their troubles of late years.

☞ Ellenger & Foote's Grand Combination give one of their very popular Concerts at the Temple this (Friday) evening. They are widely and favorably known.

☞ The slight alarm of fire on Thursday evening is attributed to the burning of a pile of brush, beyond the Creek.

☞ One dispatch says that Weston gave up the second trial of the 100-mile feat at Lee, Mass.; another that he arrived at Troy, N.Y., accomplishing the undertaking in two hours less than the time specified.

GOLD, Thursday, 138 7-8.

— A complimentary dinner was given to the ex-rebel General Beauregard, in St. Louis on Friday evening last.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE
CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE
GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland Travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimate. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$437,479 64	$36,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $195,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain range.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 863 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including a minimum grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent and accrued interest from May 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and for the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the guarantees, restrictions and safeguards of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Also the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Fully half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding threefold the annual interest liabilities, with additional rates rapidly accruing.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds as a safe, profitable, and desirable investment, and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

CONTENTMENT.—Rothschild, with all his wealth, must be satisfied with the same sky that is over the head of the poor man. He cannot order a private sunset, that he may enjoy it with a select circle of friends, nor can he add one single ray to the bright beams of the queen of night, as she sails magnificently through the heavens. The richest banker cannot have more than his share of the air to breathe, and the poorest of all men can have the same. Wealth may buy a brilliant bracelet, dazzling with diamond and rubies, but wealth cannot buy a graceful and well turned arm on which to display its splendor. God only can give that, and to many of the poor He has given it. "I wish I had the health of that rosy cheeked peasant girl," sighs the aristocratic invalid, propped up with pillows in her costly carriage. "Ah, me!" says the girl, "if I could only ride in such style as that." Wealth cannot purchase health, nor can it give a contented mind. All that is most valuable can be had for nothing. They come as presents from the hand of a kind and indulgent Father, and neither the air nor the sky, nor beauty, health, strength, nor genius, can be bought and sold.—Whatever may be thy condition in life, remember these things, and therewith be content.

—A point that any woman can appreciate—Point lace.

—A Dresden dentist who advertises false teeth, is indiscreet enough to refer to the Princess Demidoff and other aristocratic ladies.

MR. HILL:—I have used PATENT ELASTIC VENTILATING INNER SOLES through a portion of the last winter with great satisfaction, as a means of keeping the feet warm and dry.

Being troubled with tender feet, I have continued their use with lighter boots through the summer, and find them to exceed my anticipations, keeping them DRIER and COOLER in hot weather, and giving a agreeable support to the feet.

Very truly yours,

KY FATHER'S HALF BUSHEL.

(The following is attributed to the pen of Rev. C. T. Brooks:)

My father's half bushel comes oft to my mind.
And wakens deep feelings of various sorts;
'Twas an honest half bushel, a noble half bushel;
It held a half bushel of thirty-two quarts.

When I think of that bushel—my father's half bushel,
That dear old half-bushel so honest and true—
Then look at the bushels—or city half-bushels,
Like shoddy half-bushels, it makes me feel blue.

Oh, my father's half-bushel, that country half-bushel,
Say when with blest vision its like shall I see?
'Twas a blessed half bushel, and he was a true man,
For he filled his half-bushel, and something threw free!

Yet all the half-bushels, it mean are not small;
I'm vexed with the big ones still more and more;
Oh, mark out that salesman's next time he shall call;
You see his half-bushel holds quarts sixty-four.

'Tis a fact I am stating—no slanders I utter—
But who can forbear, when cheated, to mutter!
In New York a barrel—I pray you don't laugh—
Will not hold so much ashes as potatoes by half!

Oh, what are the lawyers, and what are the laws,
What bugbears and phantoms—mere feathers or straws!
Unless our half-bushels are all made as one,
Like father's half bushel, I say we're undone!

☞ Bulwer Lytton says that a refined gentleman may always be known by the perfume he uses. In American society it is recognized as a mark of elevated taste to patronize Phalon's Night-Blooming Cereus. Its purity, freshness, and delicacy commend it to all persons of poetic taste and feeling.—Concord Patriot.

CATS AND POLITICIANS.—Not long since a writer in the Fall Mall Gazette advocated the imposition of a tax on cats.—This very unfeline, not to say unfeeling, proposition, might have had more than one motive at the bottom of it. Effervescent patriotism might have been one, and the proposer might have had views of making puss instrumental in the reduction of the national debt. Again, the abatement of a crying nuisance might have been the real motive, and, as the cat comes in that category, the advocate of cat-impost might have been instigated to his purpose by a desire to reduce the number of nocturnal prowlers, by whom the housetops of his vicinity are doubtlessly haunted. In this view we would gladly lend some aid ourselves to the establishment of a tax on the irrepressible grimalkin of New York city. * * *

There is in this city, however, as in all of our larger cities and many of our smaller ones, a creature, that, while far more noxious than what Shakespeare unthinkingly characterized as the "harmless, necessary cat," is equally difficult to locate, though we think that it might, nevertheless, be ultimately made amenable to taxation, for which it offers an appropriate mark. The beast to which we refer is the low, grog-shop politician, whose bellowings, when election times approach, are far more intolerable than the ululations of house-top cats. It may be urged that these perpetual disturbers of the peace are subject to taxation already; and, possibly, such of them as have any local habitation are. But a vast number of them have nomadic habits, sleeping in a cellar to-night, and in a garret to-morrow night, and giving clew to their whereabouts only to the "wire-pullers," by whom their valuable services are called into action at stated times. Do the police know how many thousands of reckless characters in this city live by the teeming trade of politics? The calling is one per se, and it includes, among its regular followers, gamblers, thieves, assassins, "shoulder hitters," and all other such scum of the city and suburbs as is invariably found floating on the surface when the political pot boils. For the present, then, let us waive the subject of taxing the noisy, nocturnal cat; but we hereby seriously lift up our voice in favor of laying a smashing, smothering, and totally annihilating tax upon the brawling politician, from whom decent, orderly people find it so difficult to keep clear.—N. Y. Evening Gazette.

THE STOVE FOR THE MILLION!
THE
KEARSARGE
HAS NOT BEEN BEATEN!
URIAH BLAISDELL,
NO. 43 MARKET STREET,
Takes pleasure, as the cold season approaches, in again inviting public attention to this superior
COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable Stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Pleasure is taken in showing the KEARSARGE and all in want of a stove of the first merit at a reasonable price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1867.

☞ "The wicked fleeth when no man pursueth," said a Jewish writer long ago, and it holds true to this day. The Washington special of the Boston Advertiser says, under date of Wednesday night:

There has been almost as much talk here to-day about the disbandment of the colored militia as about the elections. It appears that some ten days ago the President's attention was called to a paragraph sent from this city by a sensational correspondent, in which it was stated that the negroes were arming here to aid Congress and the radicals in an attempt to suspend the President before impeachment. This paper Mr. Johnson sent to Gen. Grant, with an order to report the number, character and object of the negro militia. The Secretary of War called upon Gen. Emery, who is in command, for an answer. He investigated and reported that there were about four hundred colored troops, of whom half were armed, and that while there was no express authority for their organization, they were permitted to meet and form in companies by the city government. This report was forwarded by General Grant to the President, who returned it with a peremptory order directing the disbandment of the negro militia.

This order passed through Gen. Grant's hands to Gen. Emery, who thereupon notified the officers of the colored troops not to parade any more in public. He did not at once order their breaking up, for the reason that he could not see why they should be disbanded when all other classes of citizens were allowed to organize in military companies. This morning he returned the President's order with an endorsement to the effect that as martial law no longer existed here, he was not able to find by what authority he could order the disbandment of the negro troops. This endorsement was also forwarded to the President by Gen. Grant. What further action Mr. Johnson will take is not known. The colored men have been collected about their headquarters to some extent this evening, and they laugh heartily at the fear with which they have inspired the President.

☞ The N. Y. Express says that the Republicans carry the New York State Senate apparently by a majority of not over two or three, instead of twenty-seven last year, and the Assembly is near a tie.

The Evening Post, on the Legislature, figures out the following result: New Senators—Republicans 20; Democrats 12.—Present Senate—Republicans 27; Democrats 5. Assembly—Republicans 63; Democrats 65. Last year—Republicans 82; Democrats 65.

The Newark Evening Courier extra estimates the Democratic majority in New Jersey at two thousand. The Democrats have gained in six counties, and the Republicans in the county of Salem only. The State Senate will stand 11 Republicans to 10 Democrats; the Assembly, 17 Republicans to 43 Democrats.

☞ We notice with pleasure that Messrs. Phelps, Dalton & Co., the well known and excellent type founders of Boston,—in their specimen book, spell the name of the town of Wolfeborough with an E, as it should be—and we commend so good and prominent an example, to the News paper of that pretty town, as well as to all others concerned in the good name of the place.

☞ A Washington dispatch says: from the naval investigation it appears that fuse stocks could be made here at 23 cents, but the contract was given to a brother of Assistant Secretary Fox at 35 cents.

— On Monday Mrs J. K. Goodwin of Biddeford while under temporary insanity, committed suicide by taking poison.

— Wild pigeons sell for 50 cents a dozen in Little Rock. They are brought in by the wagon load.

— Prof. Worthington Hooker, of Yale College, died at New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6, aged 62.

— The Democratic majority in New York will be about 40,000; in New Jersey from 10,000 to 12,000.

— In all but twenty towns in Massachusetts Gov. Bullock has 26,269 majority.—The remaining towns, it is expected, will swell his majority to fully 27,000.

—A committee of ladies have established in Charleston a home for the mothers, widows and daughters of deceased Confederate soldiers, who are in destitution and want.

— The Erie Gazette suggests that the church pews in that city be placed upon pivots, so that the occupants may not be obliged to strain their necks every time some one comes into the church.

—Strakosch, Patti's manager, has finally announced that his charge does not propose to marry. When the right man comes along he will probably propose, and the bird will seek her cage.

— Yellow fever is dying out for this season. The Board of Health in Memphis declares that the fever no longer exists in that city; and in Mobile it is pronounced no longer epidemic.

— The prairie fires in Kansas are raging with unusual violence this season, owing to the drouth and prevalent high winds. The flames sweep over the plains and surround the exposed settlements.

THE OLDEST PERSON KNOWN.—A colored woman, Mrs. Flora Stuart of Londonderry, the Manchester American says, is the oldest person known in the United States. She was born in Boston in 1750, and consequently is twenty-six years older than the Declaration of American Independence. And she tells the story, her father and mother, when she was three months old, came into the possession of the Simpson family of Windham, N. H., as slaves, and remained with them until after the abolition of slavery in that State. She called her maiden name after that of her master's family, Simpson. She has lived in Rockingham county, in the towns of Windham, Londonderry and Candia from her childhood, Long ago she was left a widow, and has now living two sons and a daughter. She was at Manchester on Wednesday and had photographs of herself taken, and was very much surprised at the process.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—A portrait of Hon. Josiah Bartlett of Kingston, first Governor of New Hampshire under the Constitution of 1784, has been suspended in the Executive Chamber. It was painted by a Miss Weeks of Greenland, from a small one in possession of descendants of the Governor. He held the office from 1790 to 1793.

Nahum Childs had his foot so badly crushed by the cars at Wilton, recently, that amputation was necessary.

Sylvester Proctor, of North Lyndeboro', was found dead at his desk, on the 23d ult., wither he had gone to write. He died of heart disease.

A destructive fire occurred in Newport on Friday, Nov. 1, breaking out in the rear of Sugar River Hotel, which was destroyed, together with the shed and stable, and most of their contents. A double dwelling house, and barn, upon one side, owned by Ethan Chase, and the Whitney and Sibley block upon the other, were also consumed. The total loss will exceed $10,000.

Great Democratic rejoicings were held in Concord and Manchester on Thursday evening, over the result of the recent elections. At noon on that day a salute of 100 guns was fired at Dover, in exultation over the same event; the report of the guns being distinctly heard in this city.

THE PREACHER'S OATH.—At St. Louis, on the 4th inst., in the case of the State v. Rev. David H. Murphy for preaching without taking the oath prescribed by the State Constitution, the Supreme Court reversed the decision of the lower court, and discharged the defendant, holding that the oath, as applicable to preachers, lawyers, teachers and officers of various institutions specified in the Constitution, is unconstitutional; but that in its application to voters it is constitutional.

PUGET SOUND.—Government officers are engaged in selecting sites for fortifications and a Navy Yard at this point in Washington Territory. With the timber of Washington Territory and the iron of Oregon, the great staples for shipbuilding are found in close proximity. New England shipbuilders and fishermen are already settling in this region. Three shipyards are now in operation and four vessels are now on their stocks, two of which are ships.

— The Treasury Department at Washington still employs a force of 2541 persons in various departments of labor.

— At the Montreal races on Tuesday, a platform gave way, precipitating a large number of persons to the ground. One man was killed and several others badly injured.

— The clerks of the Attorney General's office are busily engaged in preparing a list of those engaged in the rebellion, who have been pardoned by the President, to be transmitted to Congress in answer to a resolution passed some time since. They are now at work on the last State, and the full list will be completed by the time Congress meets.

—It is said that immediately on the opening of Congress, on the 21st inst., the Judiciary Committee will report on impeachment. A majority report against the experiment, and a minority report in favor of it. The committee consists of seven Republicans and two Democratic members, four of the Republicans being for impeachment.

— In a race between horses and Indians at Cleveland, Ohio, on Saturday, the Indians beat. There were three horses and three Indians, the distance six miles for the animals and three for the Indians, each horse and each Indian to run one-third of the distance, the Indians changing each quarter mile and the horses each mile. The last Indian got in nearly a quarter of a mile ahead of the last horse.

— Two boys who were in jail at Danbury, Conn., for picking pockets last week, forged a letter ordering their release, to which they signed the name of Mr. Carter, State Attorney, at Norwalk, and sent it to Norwalk, where it was mailed by some friend, directed to the jail-keeper at Danbury. He supposing it was all right released the sharp youths on the forged order, and they are still at large.

SCRAPS FROM WASHINGTON.—It is understood that Attorney Binkley favors paying the Intelligencer $19,000 for printing the report of the assassination conspiracy.

On Thursday the office of District Attorney Carrington was set on fire, but the fire was fortunately extinguished. All the papers of the Surratt trial are in it, and the design was undoubtedly to destroy them.

Fresh reports of Cabinet changes are circulating.

J. A. Seddon, late rebel Secretary of War, has been pardoned.

CABLE NEWS.—Broad riots still continue in some parts of England. The remaining Fenian prisoners will be tried for misdemeanor only. Accounts of the last engagement near Rome have been received. During the battle on Sunday Garibaldi brought into action 10,000 men. At one time during the day the Papal troops were beaten and Garibaldi was gaining ground, when the French came up and turned his victory into a defeat. It is now reported that the insurgents lost 800 killed and wounded and 2000 prisoners.

It is reported on good authority that the Sultan of Turkey is making unusual military preparations.

☞ Weston, the pedestrian, reached Troy, N. Y., at 2:45 on Thursday afternoon, having failed in his second attempt to make 100 miles in 24 consecutive hours, in consequence of the almost impassable condition of the roads.—He is in splendid health and spirits, and although his ankles are a little sore he is confident of success. He will not make the third hundred mile attempt until after leaving Buffalo.

☞ On Thursday morning a little before 7 o'clock, in Boston, Mr. Oliver D. Kimball, butter and cheese dealer in Quincy Market, died suddenly at his place of business in the market. He was attending to his duties in apparently as good health as usual, when he suddenly dropped and expired instantly. A physician was called, who pronounced it a case of heart disease. The deceased was between 47 and 48 years old, and has been in the market 28 years.

☞ Part 68 of that exhaustive work, "The Rebellion Record," is received from the publisher, D. Van Nostrand, New York. Embellished with portraits of Generals Ingalls and Weitzel.

— Gen. Santa Anna is in Havana negotiating the purchase of a farm.

— News from the city of Mexico to Oct. 24, reports Juarez triumphantly re-elected President.

— It is creditable to the memory of the late Governor Andrew that he realized no personal profits from the misfortunes of his country during the civil war.

—On Sunday last, Capt. Daniel Ward of Kennebunk, died suddenly while sitting in his chair. He was 65 years old. Last February his brother Stephen dropped dead in the P. S. & P. depot in Portland.

— A dispatch from Frederick, Ind., says that upon the receipt of the news of the elections on Tuesday the rebel flag was flung to the breeze at Liberty Town, in that County.

—On Thursday afternoon of last week, while a son of Mr. Ivory Bean of Alfred, 18 years of age, was out gunning in the woods, his foot slipped and the gun was accidentally discharged, causing a very ugly but not dangerous wound in the thigh.

—A letter received from Fort Jefferson, Dry Tortugas, states that the soldiers at that post have unanimously signed a petition to the government for the release of Dr. Mudd, in consequence of his great exertions in attending the yellow fever cases. The letter states that Dr. Mudd deserves the greatest credit for what he has done, and that every soldier on the Key has the greatest confidence in him as a physician.

—The Amherst Express says that all the men employed at the central shaft of the Hoosac Tunnel have been discharged, and that Mr. Mallory has made two descents into the shaft since Monday, but found no signs of the dead miners. In both cases he fainted and was "clean gone" when drawn up. He has been down the shaft four times, and been drawn up in an insensible state three times.

FACT.—As a culinary preparation, Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is INEALLIBLE. It has greater advantages over yeast fermentation, and will make twenty-five pounds more Bread or Biscuit from the same barrel of flour, and much better. It retains all the glutinous starch and sugar that is in the flour, and from two and a-half-pounds of flour, will make three-and-a-half-pounds of Bread or Biscuit, while the same quantity by yeast fermentation, will make only a trifle over three pounds, and require more than twice the quantity of shortening, besides being much more unhealthy. Try it, and be convinced. 41

OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramento by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-half the whole line is now running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than have already been expended by the two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States Government found it necessary to encourage the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad to develop and protect its own interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt. The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company are derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $1,600 per mile for 517 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States Government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its mails, troops, munitions, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the present year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as fast road progresses. The Trustees for the boundholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. senator from New York, and the Hon. S. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $6,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire road to meeting 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who are already engaged on the line), at the average rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars ($68,058) per mile. This price includes all necessary stations for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger cars and freight cars for one-third of the rolling stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $5,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $90,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $68,058.....$62,205,012
186 miles, at 90,000..... 16,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c.' 4,600,000

Amount.....$82,445,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCES FOR BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds.....$29,328,000
First Mortgage Bonds..... 29,328,000
Capital stock paid in on the work now finished..... 5,369,750
Land Grant, 14,080,000 acres, at 1.00 per acre..... 21,120,000

Total.....$85,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock. A active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will be available for some years to come, they will remain a very important source of revenue to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $5 to $12 per acre, and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most skeptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always charge remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between San Francisco and China and Japan, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific Ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low value, shortness of time decides the direction of freights, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track so necessary. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transport for passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the older States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting the ready means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in its infancy, but the local business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Telegraph, Mails,	$732,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men.....	479,233 41
Total.....	$1,208,088 95
EXPENSES.
Fuel, Repairs, Officers, Conductors, Trains, &c.....	$395,530 93
Net Earnings to balance.....	807,508 03
Total.....	$1,208,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $727,360 60. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July.....	$733 755 54
Expenses " "	287,986 20
Net Profit.....	$485,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 325 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,200,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,000; at 10 per cent premium, $52,000; respond with currency earnings, is $109,200—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than three times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is so amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

Six Per Cent. in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at Six Per Cent. in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, which are over FIFTEEN PER CENT. CHEAPER, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No. 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

NOT GOLD ONLY,

BUT

RICH, FRUITY, LUSCIOUS

WINES!

California is making grand strides in her agricultural products, and is fast withdrawing herself as a purchaser for the manufactures of the various branches of industry she once demanded. She sends a warning voice to the time-worn vineyards of Europe, and enters the lists as a fresh, young combatant for the production of wines from her own rich and increasing vineyards.—The time has come when it is simply ridiculous for any one house to lay claim to especial advantages or peculiar privileges for the sale of

THE WINES OF CALIFORNIA.

As well might they claim a monopoly of the cotton trade.

C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

do not receive or sell all the wines which California produces, but they do claim to have at all times a very large quantity on hand of all the best kinds, and their advantages for getting the best, and getting them at the lowest market value, are such as to enable them to offer them at prices which to-day are lower than any of other house which sells California Wines of equality. We bottle five kinds. They are,—

"Angelica,"
"Muscatel,"
"Still Champagne,"
"Hock," and
"Port,"
Also "California Brandy."

They are all perfectly pure, and may be relied upon in sickness or in health. The Angelica and Muscatel are rich, sweet wines. The Hock is fully equal to the medium grades of Rhine wines. The Port is actually better than many of the high cost Ports from Oporto. We sell these wines in any required quantity, from a single bottle to a THOUSAND CASES, and are ready at all times to exhibit samples, or to send them to any address.

THE REALLY GREAT PLASTER, ALLCOCK'S POROUS,

Have the compactness of kid, and the flexibility of a silk glove.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

FARNVILLE, Louisiana, March 8, 1866.

DR. T. ALLCOCK, Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your Plasters have given me more permanent relief than any other one I have used, and I believe will produce a permanent cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your Plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they to invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Certain Cure for Disease of Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which DR. SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.

The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbents. One of its obvious uses is to secrete and prepare for use bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function. If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must produce jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner—the heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver instead of relaxing and secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

FIRE.—On Thursday evening, about 7 o'clock, the barn owned by Mr. A. K. Warren, in front of the Trotting Park, was burnt. It contained the product of five acres of rye untheshed. The fire was probably occasioned by some cigar smoker, many of whom were round the premises during the afternoon racing.—Journal.

We are very sorry for Mr. Warren's loss: but we don't think it can be fairly charged to the racers, all of whom had left hours before, and few of whom would be likely to visit that old barn at all, which we believe was doorless. And as for cigars, we don't know the man who smokes more than friend Warren himself.

☞ A salute of one hundred guns was fired in this city on Friday noon, in token of Democratic rejoicing over the elections of Tuesday. We are told that the salute was to have been fired on Thursday evening, in connection with the demonstration made at that time, but the powder provided for the purpose proved so dump that the salute had to be deferred. There must have been some neglect of the old caution to "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."

☞ The Portsmouth Journal states that instead of troubling their readers with the details of the recent elections, they think it much better to give the grand result: The nomination and consequent election of Gen. U. S. Grant as President of the United States."

☞ The Ellenger & Foote Combination Troupe gave a fine entertainment last night to a good audience; and perform again to-night; Also this afternoon, when all the children and ladies ought to go. They are a strong team, if not a large one.

☞ Is it a new discovery that rum is stronger than water—that the license men make such a fuss over their victory in Massachusetts and elsewhere.

☞ Auction of good Carriages, Harnesses, Furniture, Sewing Machine, &c., by Mr. Wendell to day. Also varieties by Betton & Co. And a lot of condemned Oil at the Navy Yard.

MR. BARNABER'S CONCERT SERIES.—The advertisement of the opening concert, Monday evening, Dec. 2, appears in another column. The low rate of the tickets and the merit of the entertainments should secure a full house. The Journal learns that thus far the subscription will not cover one-quarter of the expenses, and Mr. B. depends upon a large sale of tickets for encouragement.

☞ A heavy seizure for violation of Internal Revenue laws is reported in this city.

☞ At Port au Prince, on the night of the 12th ult., the Assembly demanded of the Ministry that Leon Montez should be liberated, maintaining that he was unconstitutionally kept in shackles at Cape Haytian. A mob of 6000 armed men and women surrounded the Assembly, who, however, managed to make good their escape.—The mob kept firing on the palace, cheering all the time for Salnave, at whose instigation they threatened to sack the city. Salnave is taking every measure to secure himself in the permanent occupancy of the Presidential chair.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only line between its Pacific Coast and the great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 35 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are ready at hand for 300 miles of track, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion far surpasses all previous estimates. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$187,979 61	$86,548 47	$101,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three-fourths are net profit on less than 100 miles worked. This is upon the actual, legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $125,000.

Add to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 960 miles $28,392,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile—not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in this magnificent enterprise, and by waiving the first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bond holders, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the insurance, sanctions and guaranties of the "Pacific Railroad" Act of Congress, and have in addition several noticeable advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior bonds upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Inside the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, which is a second private lien, the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—Of this half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 150 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding a threefold the annual interest liabilities, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of the Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an unusually secure, saleable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

— California papers complain that their State is poor. The churches are struggling with debt; schools and asylums are not endowed. There is not a single great charity on a solid basis in the Commonwealth. The race course is well supported; the college is poor. Individuals have become enormously rich, but public institutions languish. —Exchange.

This is the usual history of most gold Countries and States. Spain and Portugal were both rich before they had gold colonies; afterwards both were poor.

— It is reported from Washington that the President is expected to do something soon after the election results in New York are known, but exactly what is not stated. The sensationists, however, are sure that he will in some way startle the country.

— Alarming rumors are in circulation in Antwerp as to the critical state of the dykes in Holland. They are menaced at several points, and they must all be strengthened, an immense labor which will cost millions, and perhaps cannot be finished in time to prevent a disaster.

— The catch of fish in the Western part of Lake Erie has frequently, of late, been so very great that dealers have been entirely unable to cure or dispose of them, thereby incuring much loss. In not a few instances the nets have been emptied by the fishermen, releasing the captives.

— A New Orleans widow, on the sunny side of forty, has just taken to herself an eighth husband.

—The aggregate amount of the city debt of Charleston, S. C. is $5,250,000, bearing six per cent. interest.

—It has been decided by the U. S. District Court in New York that a bankrupt is not bound to answer questions relating to gambling operations that would criminate himself.

—The citidel of Quebec is now deemed impregnable. It has over eighty guns mounted, and many others on hand. It is supplied with seven years' provisions for fifte thousand men.

— Great attention is attracted in England by the cordial adhesion of Archbishop Manning to the temperance movement.—The Archbishop has not quite made up his mind yet to accept the Maine law, but he expresses an unreserved sympathy with the object of the "United Kingdom Alliance," the Temperance Society of England, and at the annual meeting, held at Manchester, Oct. 22, moved the first resolution.

— The World quotes the London Times to prove the Radicals a bad lot and their sway terribly injurious to our country.—But the Times is not half so hard on us now as it was when we were fighting the Rebellion. Then we were persisting in a hopeless war, merely to prolong our power and replenish our pockets. Toryism hates us still, but abuses us less recklessly than it did. They have seen Farragut in London.

— The recent attempt to import coolies from Cuba to New Orleans is spoken of as an entire failure, aside from any reason connected with the interposition of the Government. The time chosen was not opportune; for negro labor, which has the preference, is offering in Louisiana, to an extent beyond the amount of capital at command for its employment. Aside from this, the Asiatics, after being escorted from the ship to the plantation, saw fit to avail themselves of their liberty. The New Orleans Republican says "no persuasion could make them work."

SEA MUSIC.

BY EDMUND THOROLD.

Adow the bright and belting shore,
Breaking in untold melody,
Makes music evermore.

Centuries of vanished time,
Since the glad earth's premeval morn,
Have heard the grand unpausing chime,
Momently aye new-born.

Like as in cloistered piles,
Rich bursts of massive sound upswell,
Ringing along dim-lighted aisles
With spirit trancing spell,

So on the surf-white strand,
Chants of deep peal the sea-waves raise,
Like voices from a viewless land,
Hymning a hymn of praise.

By times, in thunder notes,
The booming billows shoreward surge;
By tunes, a silver laugh infuses;
By times, a low, soft dirge.

Souls more ennobled grow,
Listing the wordless anthem rise:
Discords are drowned in that great flow
Of Nature's harmonies.

Men change, and "cease to be,"
And empires rise and grow and fall;
But the weird music of the sea
Lives and outlives them all.

That mystic song shall last
Till Time itself no more shall be:
Till seas and shores away have passed,
Lost in eternity.

SMART RETORT.—During a speech made in Salem, last Friday evening, Gen. Butler was frequently interrupted by persons present, while speaking of negro soldiers and what they had done during the war. During the evening the General, according to the Salem Mercury, asked of his interlocutors: "Which would you rather have, a black friend or a white enemy?" "A white enemy," responded somebody in the gallery, evidently stimulated as much by a desire to hear what retort the speaker would make, as by anything. The audience laughed and turned towards the General to hear what he would say. Several seconds elapsed, and many were fearful that the shot would not be forthcoming: but finally it came thus, the speaker, looking in the direction whence the voice proceeded: "If you don't look out, you'll have a black enemy with two horns and a tail!" This, of course, brought down the house and the laughter was loud and long.

—The Arizonians want their territory made a separate military department, so that the hostile Indians may be kept under better regulations.

— Josh Billings says a man running for office puts him in mind of a dog that's lost—he smells of everybody he meets and wags himself all over.

—The young Duke de Chevreuse hurried to Rome on the first news of Garibaldi's movement, and enlisted in the Papal army as a private. He resigned a commission in the Pontificial Zouaves only last July, in order to return to France and marry the daughter of the Duke de Bisaccia. COOK STOVE!
Something over a year's trial by numerous patrons has proved it what it was designed to be, in every respect a first class stove—a quick baker, doing its work equally as well with WOOD OR COAL, an economizer of fuel, and a heavy, well-made and durable stove, as it is a neat and symetrical one. It has been in no Fair or Exhibition, and hence has taken no prize; but what is better, it receives the unqualified encomiums of its numerous purchasers—of all who know what a good stove is and how to appreciate it.
Please are taken in saying the KEARSARGE and a fair want of a stove of the first merit at a moderate price, are invited to call and examine it whether they purchase or not.
The following names from its large list of purchasers are given for reference:

DIVORCES.—A contemporary, noticing a statement which has gone the rounds of the press, that there is one divorce for every nineteen marriages in Vermont, says that so long as the law regards a promise to marry, no matter how lightly made, as a solemn contract, and compels its fulfillment, in cases where it would not dream of enforcing a contract to purchase a horse or a dog, and so long as clergymen and magistrates are allowed to marry any couple who present themselves, without inquiry or authority of any kind, divorces will continue to be abundant.

No doubt this is true; but it is not all the truth. The different States have different and discordant laws about publishment, marriage and divorce; and we see no prospect of uniformity. While this diversity exists, it is almost impossible to correct the practice.

☞ We clip the following items from the local of the Concord Statesman:

Those evidences of mechanical business —tall chimneys—are on the increase in this city.

The fire in Kilburn store, two months since, made some people aware that stone is more destructible material than brick.

The Blazing Star Lodge was consecrated, in "ample form," Monday, May 6, 1799. It still lives.

The First Congregational Society contemplate erecting a Parsonage on the lot recently vacated by the Methodist Biblical Institute, where the old church edifice stands.

Rev. Smith Norton has been engaged to supply one year the desk of the Congregational Church and Society in East Concord.

When people who pass out of Center into Main Street went to their avocations last Monday morning, men were getting ready to put together the frame of a stable on the corner. When they returned to dinner the frame was up and partly boarded. The approach of cold weather causes expeditious movements in village and field.

IRRELIGION IN CONNECTICUT.—The Hartford Courant says that a canvass of their parishes by the Congregational ministers of Connecticut shows that in one hundred towns, at least, one third of the families are not in the habit of going to church. Irreligion was found to increase in proportion to the distance from the centre of the towns. It prevails more in sparsely-settled farming districts than in the manufacturing villages. The State Committee on Home Evangelization say in their report:

"The returns give the impression that the Roman Catholic population do not often sink to so low a grade of heathenism as the irreligious native born population. They do not entirely abandon some thought of God, and some respect for their own religious observances. Uniformly the districts occupied by a population purely native American."

FREEDMENS' WAGES IN ALABAMA.—The planters of Sumter, Ala., have adopted resolutions, insisting upon a future faithful compliance of freedmen with their crop contracts, on penalty of being discharged, and fixing one-fourth of crop as the share of the laborers when provisions are furnished them; one-third when they furnish their own; or one-half when they furnish their own provisions and pay half the expences. They also recommend $10 a month as wages of first class field hands; $8 for second class and $6 for third class; ten hours' work a day from April 1 to Oct. 1, and nine hours for the rest of the year.

WESTON'S PEDESTRIAN FEAT.—The idea is very commonly entertained that there is something loose about the great pedestrian feat from Portland to Chicago. It has been noticed here that Weston's friends have been very active in betting against his hundred miles a day performance, and the Providence Press says it is very generally believed there that "Weston is in league with one or more parties who have staked large sums of money against his accomplishing the one hundred mile feat, and that he will receive more money by failing in it than he would otherwise.—One rumor has it that John Morrissey has made a bet of $100,000 that Weston would not do it, and that he is to give Weston $20,000 in order that he may win $80,000. There are strong evidences that he might have made the one hundred miles either in the first or second trial if he had been so disposed." A good deal is hinted at and said concerning the movements of the pedestrian at night, and the possibility that an occasional ride may not be considered dangerous to Weston by any of the parties accompanying him. All these rumors and insinuations may be false, but they are nevertheless current.—Boston Journal.

☞ At Princeton, Illinois, on Thursday evening, a fire broke out in the railroad depot, which resulted in the destruction of $250,000 worth of property. The cause of the fire is unknown. A high wind prevailed at the time, and buildings nearly a mile distant caught fire from flying sparks. The aggregate insurance is about $100,000.

☞ The Tribune's special says a man named Galloway, from Havre de Grace, having been indicted for beating a colored girl, a school teacher, was fined one cent in the U. S. Circuit Court. The evidence was most positive of brutal treatment.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.—In Manchester, on Thursday afternoon, a boy of sixteen, named George Page, ran across Elm street, fell and broke his leg.

Apples are said to be more plentiful than heretofore in Manchester, and selling from market wagons at a reduction of fifty cents a barrel from former prices.

Nathan Adams, at Goff's Falls, while engaged with a horse that had fallen, received a blow from the horse's foot, which broke his leg.

The Winslow House on Kearsarge Mountain is to be rebuilt with larger dimensions than before, at an expense of $30,000. It is expected to be opened for guests by the first of June next.

Robert Shepard, the manager of the Shaker Society at Canterbury since the death of David Parker, is reported to have dissolved his connection with the followers of Ann Lee, and given in his adhesion to the world. His wife still remains with the society. Elder Kome is now the manager of the society's affairs.

The foundations of a new hotel have been laid in Amherst.

C. E. Partridge of Peterboro' has been confined to his house nearly two months from the effects of running a blackberry briar into one of his fingers.

We have received the Catalogue of Dartmouth College for 1867–8. It shows a total attendance of 332, divided as follows: Medical students 40, Academical department 229, Scientific department 63.

The display of poultry at the late annual exhibition of the Rockingham Poultry Show at Exeter is said to have been remarkably fine, warranting a much larger attendance than it received.

Mr. Isaac Farnum of West Concord, at the age of 88, is erect in person and active in mind and habits. He occupies the house in which he was born, in which his father was born, and in which his grandfather lived. He has a son, a grandson, and a great grandson, all born in the same house where he and his father were born; making six generations who have occupied the house, and five generations born in it, four of whom are now living.

The Amoskeag Veterans have re-elected Col. Potter as their commander, and Rev. Mr. Lovering, Chaplain. Isaac Clement of Concord has been elected Sergeant Major.

☞ In Pittsburg, Pa., on Friday afternoon, an explosion occurred in the mill building of Messrs. Reese, Graff & Dull.—A part of the building was blown to atoms, and about 20 persons killed and many wounded. The explosion occurred in the forge portion of the mill, and the building was soon in flames. The cause of the explosion will probably never be known, as the engineer and firemen were the only persons who could have given any information of it, and they are among the killed. The loss of property will probably reach $10,000.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says that a gentleman who has been in Richmond some time pronounces the stories of threatened excesses by colored men and the published reports of inflammatory speeches by Hunnicut, as sheer fabrications, coined for use in the elections, and says that no trouble of any kind is anticipated on account of the colored franchise, as their conduct compares favorably with the white rebels.

☞ At the Riverside Park on Friday, the horse John Stewart failed to make the 21 miles inside one hour, for $2000, but show the fastest 20 miles ever trotted,—his time being 58 minutes 5 3-4 seconds.

☞ We learn that some parties were arrested in Manchester on Friday of last week by one of the Detectives of the Treasury Department, charged with passing ten dollar counterfeit greenbacks.

— Powdered beads are now quite common at opera, but seldom become the ultra fashionable ladies who display them.—Home Journal.

— A correspondent of the Chicago Post, who has been travelling through Vermont, says that from what he saw, he should judge that the young men everywhere finished their farm work by 3 o'clock, P. M., and then came to town to play base ball.

—Detailed accounts of the decisive battle between Garibaldi and the Papal forces at Monte Rotondo, on Sunday, show that Garibaldi was much inferior in war material and number of men to the Papal troops. He fought bravely and desperately, as the number of killed in his force indicates.

—The colored men's organization in Washington consists of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who purchased from the government the arms they used in its defence. They number 795 men and 15 officers, and have about 1000 stand of arms.

— A well-to-do English lady, fifty-two years old, recently killed herself by leaping out of a window. She belonged to the Glassite sect, and said, a little before her death, it had been revealed to her that the judgment day was close at hand, that the last trump would soon sound, and she would be caught up to Heaven alive.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—We have received from Dr. James A. Nash, of Magnolia, Pike county, Miss., a letter written in four different kinds of ink, all of them manufactured by himself. One of these specimens is certainly worthy of more than passing notice. The portion of the letter written with this ink has the appearance of having been written with a golden fluid, and presents a most beautiful appearance. Let the reader imagine that a letter written with the ordinary black ink be suddenly dashed with gold dust, which adheres only to the letters, and he will have some idea of the singularly brilliant effect of this chemical writing fluid. Dr. Nash accidentally discovered these inks while making chemical washes for the cure of cancer, and says he can furnish them cheaper than any ever before in use, and of any desired color. His inks can also be used by printers and sign painters, and he expresses the determination to send us a sample to be used on the Picayune, that will give it the appearance of having been printed in gold.

The colors are permanent, and from the samples before us we have no hesitation in expressing the belief that Dr. Nash has made a most useful and important discovery.—N. O. Picayune.

SUICIDE OF A CIRCUS CLOWN IN THE RING.—A late Paris paper says that the famous American clown Agreat, called the Man-fly, committed suicide at Berlin in presence of 2000 spectators by firing a pistol in his mouth at the moment he was hanging by his feet to the ceiling of the theatre.

GOLD, Saturday, 138 3-8.

— A Montana editor, by name Whitelatch, is said to have lately sold a part interest in a silver lode for $250,000.

— The loss by the destruction of the Unitarian Church at Ware is $9000, on which there is $3750 insurance.

— It is said in Rome and Florence that Americans buy annually more works of art than all the other foreign visitors put together.

—Sixty pounds of cents were deposited in the contribution boxes of a church in a neighboring city a few Sundays ago.—There are over three thousand of them.

—The spire of the French Cathedral in Montreal, when struck by lightning the other day, was lifted perpendicularly in the air and then tumbled through the roof.

—A dispatch from Frederick, Maryland, says that upon the receipt of the news of the elections on Tuesday, the rebel flag was flung to the breeze at Liberty Town in that county.

— Chicago is threatened with a deluge. The lead pipes for water laid down by the plumbers are so thin that they are quite sure to burst when the head of water from the new works is let on.

— An Englishman, who is fond of hunting up legal statistics, says that England contains one lawyer to every 1240 inhabitants, France one to every 1970, and Prussia one to every 12,000. This he regards as one of the secrets of Prussia's prosperity.

— A man named Powell, in Miami County, Ohio, was recently robbed of $85 by highwaymen, who generously gave him back $15 when he told them he was a Democrat. They knew he was poor and honest and couldn't afford the loss.

—Wealthy Whipple, relict of Marmaduke Whipple, who was a Revolutionary soldier, is probably the oldest widow now living. This venerable lady is a resident of Union Village, Washington county, N. Y. Her age is 104. She enjoys excellent health, and is quite active. She draws from the Government the yearly pension of $96.

— A new cattle market has been opened near Paris, and the sales the first day comprised 3527 head of beef, 467 cows, 250 calves, 13 997 sheep, 240 pigs, making a total of 18,545 head of cattle. This beats the sale at the State yard in Chicago. There is room for receiving over forty thousand cattle, and it is proposed to enlarge it.

Perfection has been obtained through art, science and experience in the manufacture of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, as every lady who has tested it universally exclaims, "There is nothing like it!" Don't fail to test a paper, and you will never use any other.—Call on your grocer for it, and do not be put off with any other. All the groceers sell it.—Depot 112 Liberty street, New York. 42

OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly forward to meet the movements in the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.—More than one-third of the work has already been done, more than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more lab rers are now employed upon it than ever before. More iron!

Forty Million Dollars in Money

have already been expended by this two powerful companies that have undertaken the enterprise, and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorous prosecution. When the United States government found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific railroad to develop and protect our mineral interest, it gave the companies authorized to build it such aid as would render its speedy completion beyond a doubt.—The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows:

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS.

Having thirty years to run and being six per cent. currency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for 247 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; then at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one half the transportation bills in addition for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and is on a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the current year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to issue its first mortgage bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the Government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York and Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of U. S. House of Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bonds to the Company in accordance with the terms of the law.

3.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the line of the road, which will be worth less than $1.50 at the lowest valuation.

4.—THE CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 have been paid on the work already done.

The Means Sufficient to Build the Road.

Contracts for the entire work of building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and averaging every expense except delivering, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 500 miles), at the average price of $56,000 per mile, or $51,184 per mile less than the bonds issued by the Government. This price includes all necessary stops for construction and rolling stock, depots, stations and offices, machine buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars and other requisite rolling stock in the amount that shall not be less than $6,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the entire hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $60,000 per mile,

THE TOTAL COST OF ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

914 miles, at $56,000 ..... $51,184,000
186 miles, at 60,000 10,740,000
Add discounts on bonds, surveys, &c. 4,560,000

Amount $62,443,012

As the U. S. Bonds are equal to money, and the Company's own First Mortgage Bonds have a ready market, we have as the

AVAILABLE CASH RESOURCE for BUILDING ELEVEN HUNDRED MILES:

U. S. Bonds $27,233,000
First Mortgage Bonds 27,233,000
Capital stock paid on the work now done 5,310,750
Land Grant, 12,800,000 acres, at $1.50 per acre 21,120,000

Total $82,145,750

The Company have ample facilities for supplying any deficiency that may arise in means for construction. This may be done wholly or in part by additional subscriptions to capital stock.

Active inquiry has already been made for a portion of these lands, and arrangements are now proposed to offer a part of them for sale. While their whole value will not be available for some years to come, they will remain a source of permanent resource to the Company. The lands of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are selling at from $12 per acre and other land grant companies in the West are receiving equal prices for similar properties.

Future Business.

The most sceptical have never expressed a doubt that when the Union Pacific Railroad is finished the immense business that must flow over it, as the only railroad connecting the two grand divisions of the North American continent will be one of the wonders of railway transportation; and as it will have no competitor, it can always command remunerative rates. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York is now running a regular line of its splendid steamers between New York and Aspinwall, on the Isthmus, which is doubtless the pioneer of other lines, that will traverse the Pacific ocean laden with the teas, spices and other products of Eastern Asia. Excepting some very heavy or bulky articles of comparatively low values, shortness of time decides the direction of freight, and most of these cargoes will find their natural transit over the Union Pacific Railroad.

It is quite within bounds to say that its traffic will be limited only by the capacity of the line, and that no other road will find a double track a necessity. California and Oregon must not only be supplied with means of transporting passengers, mail, treasure and other freights, but the inhabitants of Dacotah, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana will communicate with the Eastern States almost entirely by this road. It will be the avenue to all the great mining district, which is only awaiting the means of communication to receive a population that will develop its vast mineral and other resources, and which of itself would furnish ample business for a railway line.

Earnings from Way Business.

While the through business of the Company will be amply remunerative, it is still in the future, for the present, that the business on the part of the road in operation has been most satisfactory.

During the quarter ending July 31, an average of 325 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad was in operation. The Superintendent's Report shows the following results:

EARNINGS.

Passengers, Freight, Mails, Express, Rents, Miscellaneous	$732,755 54
Transportation of Contractors' Material and men	479,283 41
Total	$1,203,038 95

EXPENSES.

Fuel, Repairs, Officers, Conductors, Trains, &c.	$395,530 92
Net Earnings to balance	807,508 03
Total	$1,203,038 95

The net operating expenses on the commercial business for the quarter were $227,966 50. The account for the COMMERCIAL BUSINESS stands as follows:

Earnings for May, June and July	$732,755 54
Expenses " " "	227,966 50
Net Profit	$486,789 04

The amount of bonds the company can issue on 725 miles at $16,000 per mile is $5,200,000. Interest in gold, three months, at 6 per cent. on this sum is $78,000; add 80 per cent premium, to correspond with currency earnings, is $140,400—showing that the net earnings for this quarter were more than four times the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds on this length of road.

First Mortgage Bonds,

whose principal is no amply provided for, and whose interest is so thoroughly secured, must be classed among the safest investments. They pay

SIX PER CENT in Gold,

and are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, and accrued interest at six Per Cent in currency from July 1.

Many parties are taking advantage of the present high price of Government stocks to exchange for these bonds, and offer over FIFTEEN PER CENT. IN GOLD, and at the current rate of premium on gold, pay

Over Nine Per Cent. Interest.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received in Portsmouth by FIRST NATIONAL BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NAT. BANK No 7 Nassau St.
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, 51 Wall St.
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, 33 Wall St.

And by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained on application. Remittances should be made in drafts on other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. n8—3m

Portsmouth, Nov. 5, 1867.

The Temple presents a very neat and inviting appearance; and with the reduced rate of tickets advertised, every one should be taken up.

The next lecture will be by a lady, who is spoken of as follows by those who know her well and are fully capable of judging:

LETTER FROM WENDELL PHILLIPS.—To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune:

Many Lyceums have made inquiries of me in regard to the new woman speaker mentioned in the extract which I enclose. I can think of no better method of answering their question than to ask you to publish your tribute to her from the New York Standard. By so doing you will not only do justice to an eloquent speaker, but aid the Lyceums in making their courses next season more interesting. WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Mrs. Ella Davis Rockwood gave her lecture, "A Yankee Girl's Thoughts," to a large and attentive audience at Seldon's Hall in Natick, Mass., on Wednesday evening, March 6th. A correspondent says: 'The lecture evinced earnest thought on the subjects on which she spoke. We were surprised that one so young, a woman too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly. Mrs. R. labored under peculiar difficulties, as she was addressing for the first time her own townspeople and early companions, who seemed astonished that the school girl of yesterday had grown into the plain, outspoken woman of today.'

Mrs. R. is very prepossessing in appearance, but of slight and delicate structure, and possesses an energy and will that will bear her into the front rank of our reformatory lecturers. In announcing this lecture, the Natick Times spoke of Mrs. R. as follows:

"Mrs. Rockwood has lived in Natick since her childhood. Her sudden marked success as a lecturer in temperance meetings and on the Lyceum platform has been no surprise here, where her energy and ability are well known. Nowhere has her success been hailed with more cordial satisfaction than here in her home. After speaking to full houses, many times a week for the last fifteen months, in different parts of New England and New York, she has been invited to address her neighbors, and will do so on the 6th of March next, in the School House Hall. We are sure she will have a cordial welcome. The lecture, 'A Yankee Girl's Thoughts,' has won a high reputation as thoughtful, well reasoned and eloquent. We can easily believe it, for Mrs. Rockwood, though so young, has had a varied experience, and was originally an original thinker. If Watertown is proud of its Harriet Hosmer; if Philadelphia always gives its Anna Dickenson the largest audiences she ever addresses: Natick, we are sure, will show its young and popular lecturer that she has the heartiest welcome and most enthusiastic recognition here, from her life long neighbors."

Still more from other sources.

Mrs. Rockwood delivered a lecture on Thursday evening, to a large audience. Many were unable to gain even a standing place in the hall and went away disappointed. Mrs. R. is a young woman, not more than twenty-one years of age, and a widow. She spoke for one hour without notes and with wonderful eloquence and power, holding the entire assembly spell-bound from the beginning to the end. Young, handsome, graceful and perfectly self-possessed, and thoroughly baptised with the spirit of her theme, she won all hearts.—Salem Register.

We were surprised that one so young, a woman too, should have dared to speak so bravely and boldly.—New York Standard.

Fine bursts of eloquence that would have done credit to a Patrick Henry or a Webster, and which strongly reminded one of the polished orator of her venerated uncle, served still farther to fix the attention and awaken a livelier interest in her remarks, generally, whether believing with her or not. The interest naturally excited by the appearance on the stage of a fine looking woman, together with the novelty—a novelty at least in this town—of the subject, caused that degree of stillness, almost painful, that a single inadvertent whisper actually disturbed all in the immediate vicinity.—Bristol (R. I.) Phenix.

Wendell Phillips, in writing to Mr. Norton, says of her, "She is 21 years old, handsome, eloquent, and a successful lecturer."

Music by Cornet Band.

Local.

☞ Saturday seems to have been high carnival in this city for those who set at defiance the laws of God and man.

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Patrick Reynolds, a marine, made a murderous assault on Peter Mullen, a brother marine, on Water street; cutting Mullen's arm in a frightful manner with a razor,—so badly, that the attending physician thought if the blow had reached the neck, at which it was evidently aimed, the head would have been nearly severed from the body. The razor shows the great force of the blow given, its edge for a number of inches being broken out by contact with the bone of Mullen's arm. The assailant is reported to have acquired a reputation as a dangerous character heretofore, and when arrested by Marshal Johnson, drew a knife upon that officer. We are informed that later in the evening a party of marines visited the premises where the difficulty occurred, to "clean out" the place, but from a slight miscalculation were cleaned out themselves.

Around "Bloody Corner," whice to the initiated means the intersection of Bridge and Hanover streets, the darkness of night brought lively times. After the saloon known as the Portsmouth House had been closed for the night, a party stove in the door leading to the private apartments attached thereto, and upon the appearance of John Grimshaw, a lodger in the house, he was assailed and very severely cut about the face. A number of the parties implicated in this daring outrage are known, and they will doubtless receive their merited punishment in due time.

A soldier from Fort Constitution, by the name of Pottle, was also made a mark for the stabbing proclivities of a man (said to be a marine,) on Bridge street, at very nearly the same time. The wounded man was conveyed to the Fort and we were unable to ascertain the extent of his injuries.

Whether the marines were "on the rampage" or no, on Saturday evening, we can not tell, but one of them entered the store of G. V. Rowe, on Market street, and abstracted a gold pen and holder from the desk. Mr. Albert Rowe, the efficient clerk in charge, assumed control of the depredator in a summary manner, and finding that the officers were otherwise engaged, made bold to assist the would-be thief from the store by the application of a "Number 9, pegged." We are also told of the sudden exit of a marine (said to wear stripes on his arm, which should be transferred to his back,) from a saloon on Congress street, his egress being accelerated by the proprietor of the establishment on his learning that the marine had been guilty of insulting conduct toward a lady attendant.

☞ To-morrow evening the second lecture of the Lyceum course will be given by a lady, who comes with the best endorsements as to the ability and interest of her address—which is on a subject curious to many people. The tickets, it would seem, are now put low enough to suit the most economical; and at the same time, those who prefer higher-priced accommodations, may have them.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE has long been the oldest in the country; and with the enlargement this week, is now the largest in the State—and the cheapest, at $2 per year, six copies for $10. The number for Nov. 16th, in quarto form, and containing 48 columns, will be ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office on Thursday, at six cents per copy. New subscribers for 1868 will receive the paper until Jan. 1st free of charge. The Gazette contains all Local items from the Daily Chronicle, and will be found especially interesting to natives of Portsmouth abroad. Copies in wrappers for mailing may always be had at the office.

☞ The statement that Capt. Fox, late Asst. Secretary of the Navy, gave his brother contracts for fuse stocks at higher prices than were offered by another party, and that they proved to be worthless, is incorrect. The contract was given by the chief of the Ordinance Bureau, Capt. Wise, to George H. Fox & Co., of Boston, without his knowing at the time that Mr. Fox was brother of the Secretary. The stocks were used throughout the war, and the price paid was about the same as for those made in government workshops.

☞ It will be seen that the only change in the time table of the Eastern Railroad for the fall and winter arrangement, which goes into effect to-day, is that the second morning train for Boston leaves here at five minutes before 9, instead of 9 o'clock as heretofore; and that the last evening train from Boston runs through to Portland instead of stopping here.

POLICE COURT, Nov. 8.—Abraham Dearborn and Warren Clough, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated, and were severally fined $3 and $3.86 costs.

☞ It is stated in Mrs. C. V. Waite's new book—"The Mormon Prophet and his Harem," that Brigham Young's 29th and last wife, to whom he was married Jan 29th, 1868, is Amelia Folsom, a native of this city. The book is advertised in our columns.

☞ A Post of the Grand Army of the Republic was organized in this city on Friday evening last.

☞ Large flocks of wild geese, southward bound, passed over this city on Sunday evening.

HUSKING.

The yellow suns of Autumn fall
Across the orchard and the wood;
The still air in bees every call,
The vine lies painted on the wall,
And all the maples drip with blood.

The neighbors come from far and near,
And gather on the broad barn floor,
To celebrate the ripened Year,
And strip the husk from off the ear,
That turns to gold the farmer's store.

ACROSS THE SIERRA NEVADAS.

THE

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

GREAT NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

being constructed with the AID and SUPERVISION OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT LINES OF COMMUNICATION IN THE WORLD, as it is the only line between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense Overland travel must pass, and the

Principal Portion of the Main Steam Line Between the Two Oceans.

Its line extends from Sacramento, on the tidal waters of the Pacific, eastward across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, connecting to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West, and will meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountains. About 100 miles are now built, equipped and in running operation to the summit of the Sierra Nevadas. Within a few days 30 miles, now graded, will be added, and the track carried entirely across the mountains to a point in the Great Salt Lake Valley, whence further progress will be easy and rapid. Iron, materials and equipment are provided for 300 miles of road, and 10,000 men are employed in the construction.

The local business upon the completed portion surpasses all previous estimates. The figures for the quarter ending August 31 are as follows in GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS,	OPERATING EXPENSES,	NET EARNINGS,
$487,079 61	$86,548 47	$401,031 17

or at the rate of two millions per annum, of which more than three fourths are net profit, on less than 100 miles worked. This upon the actual legitimate traffic of the road, with its terminus in the mountains, and with only the normal ratio of government transportation, and is exclusive of the materials carried for the further extension of the road.

The Company's interest liabilities during the same period were less than $ 35,000.

And to this an ever-expanding through traffic and the proportions of the future business become immense.

The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between the San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 855 miles $28,392,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile—not including as available grant of 10 000,000 acres of the Public Lands, by becoming a part interest in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bonds, the GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has earnestly guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per Cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached and are selling for the present at 90 per cent. and accrued interest (Gold being at 130) but added in currency, at which rate they yield nearly

Nine per Cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, private capital, labor, and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The Central Pacific First Mortgage Bonds have all the assurances, sanction and guarantee of the Pacific Railroad Act of Congress, and have in addition several peculiar advantages over all other classes of railroad bonds.

First—They are the superior claim upon altogether the most vital and valuable portion of the through line.

Second—Besides the fullest benefit of the Government subsidy, (which is a subordinate lien,) the road receives the benefit of large donations from California.

Third—a city half the whole cost of grading 800 miles eastward of San Francisco is concentrated upon the 100 miles now about completed.

Fourth—A local business already yielding three-fold the amount interest, in addition, with advantageous rates payable in coin.

Fifth—The principal as well as the interest of its Bonds being payable in coin, upon a legally binding agreement.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions and others as an eminently sound, safe and remunerative form of permanent investment.

Morning Chronicle.

STRONG DRINK AND BAD COMPANY.—The Wolfsborough News mentions the interesting trial at the Court for Carroll Co. of a case, Edward Weeden vs. Adam B. Goodwin and Charles Reed; for larceny of $350 in U. S. Currency. They were found guilty of stealing $320. From the evidence it appears:

Charles Rollins, Goodwin and Reed Sept. 5th, after procuring three pints of rum in a stone jug at Ossipee Corner, proceeded to the house of Weeden near by. Finding him and his wife at home, they make merry with the liquor, and finally go away, leaving Weeden dead drunk. Mrs. W., hearing the old man's abuse, passes the night at Moses Scoggell's, taking with her her little girl of perhaps ten years.

In the night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, respondents returned to Weeden's house, where they remained all night, one of them occupying bed with old Mr. Weeden, still intoxicated to some extent. In the morning Rollins and Goodwin go off to Ossipee Corner, leaving Reed still at the house.—Soon after, old Mr. Weeden is found lying senseless in a corner of an adjacent pasture, with marks of injury on back of head, fore head, &c. The loss of money was discovered afterwards. The respondents, mean while, left for home.

Charles Rollins, to all appearances the meanest cur of the pack, was allowed to turn State's evidence, and his testimony was received as corroborative of the actual testimony. The great son of the young men Goodwin and Reed, seems to have been the fact of their getting fearfully intoxicated, and becoming thereby the facile tool of Rollins, who escapes, as with the mark of Cain upon his brow. The main testimony on the part of the defence was rebuttal, to the end of proving the previous good character of the respondents.

— "Minor outrages" in New York look like major matters elsewhere. A brutal murder, one almost accomplished, and scalping a man with an iron rod, are recorded among these "minor" items.

— The recent hydrographic survey of Maine discloses the fact that the head waters of the Androscoggin, Kennebeck and Penobscot are higher than those of the Mississippi at Lake Itasca, although the distance from the source of the former river to the sea is less than 200 miles in a straight line; that Umbagog like is 1256 feet above tide water, Moosehead 107, and that the water power of the State is practically unlimited.

— Dan Rice, the showman, has retired permanently from the business. At his farewell performance in Pittsburgh, where he also began his career, an elegant edition of Shakspeare was presented to him, and he made a speech, in which he boasted of having made more money than any six circus managers in the country, and said that he had given away during twenty six years more than a million and a half of dollars to various charitable enterprises.

WHAT NORAH SAID.

The REPLY OF "NORAH O'NEAL," among with great applause at Public Concerts. The music by W. F. WALLMAN, Jr.

"Is it lonely ye are then without me,
Only wait, and I'll come bye and bye;
For me-if 'n just entirely lovely,
And darling, I give sigh for sigh.

* * * * *

And would ye then wait till to-morrow,
While the moon shines in heaven on the night,
And the lane and the kiss so convenient,
Won't I meet you, my darling, to-night."
